The Church Invites You

"Can a nation exist void of all religious thought and action? Can we have internal peace without morality?" questions J. Edgar Hoover. The key to these problems — to life itself — is God. He is man's first need and final goal. Our generation, it seems has allowed old-fashioned religious practices to slip into oblivion. This country is in deadly peril. A creeping rot of moral disintegration is eating into our nation. My hope for the future of this nation is predicated upon faith in God. The church proclaims moral and religious principles and their application to our daily life.

CLERICUS SAYS

CLERICUS SAYS: There can be a voice in every cloud if we but have ears to hear. Disasters, defeats, disillusionments, can become dense clouds, and yet, if we but listen, we can hear a voice uttering sentiments of hope, confidence, warning and guidance. Mountaintop experiences have their place, but the valley is where we live most of the time, and while we need the inspiration of mountaintop experiences, they should only serve to make us more effective in carrying out our tasks of the plain. There must be both vision and service to be effective. Worship is intended to fit us for work.

Lesson Prayer

LESSON PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee that if we have close communion with Thee, our lives can be transformed and transfigured and we can feel Thy power pervading our lives. Grant that in the inspiration that comes from worshipping Thee we may not forget the importance of service to Thy children everywhere, remembering that to truly worship Thee and love Thee, we must serve Thee. May we ever be mindful that Thou wilt bless all who are faithful to Thy will and show goodwill to all men everywhere.

THE BETTER WAY

We live in a power age. One of the measurements of power is the term "horse power." Yet how far have we advanced beyond horse power, or even simple and primitive forms of power which meant a great deal to the world a hundred years ago or more. Steam motive power and electricity gave us a new industrial age. Then came the internal combustion engine. Now we have rockets and atomic-powered engines. What this will reach up into during the next few decades no one can tell. But we have in the past fifty years released and utilized more sources of power than the human race has known anything about during the whole of its history. All this, of course, is power in the physical realm. There is also mental power, manifesting itself in great human achievements. There is spiritual power also. We get spiritual power when we open our hearts to receive it. We keep spiritual power by the discipline of prayer, Bible reading, meditation and good works. Nothing enables us so to keep and develop spiritual power as the energetic attempt day after day to live a life of loving, helpful service. The universe is full of power, all at our disposal. The greatest power is spiritual power. It comes to those whose hearts and minds are ready to receive and use it.
