Boy Bitten By Dog
Tuesday Morning

Irene Tope, 806 Washington St., reported to the city police at 10:43 a.m. Tuesday that her son, Dick Dye, had been bitten by a dog.

The 10-year-old youngster was bitten by the unidentified animal a short time before it was reported to the city police, in the area of 12th street and Dayton Ave. He was bitten on the left leg.

Youth For Christ
Rally On Saturday

The monthly Decatur area Youth For Christ rally will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Decatur Church of God. The program will feature the showing of the film "The Tony Fontaine Story." This beautiful, feature length, color motion picture, is the first dramatic Christian musical ever produced.

Tony Fontaine is a former recording, television, radio and stage star, who gave up a lucrative career to dedicate his life and talents for full time Christian service.

Tony's wife, the former Kerry Vaughn, was a professional actress and night club entertainer. Both Tony and Kerry portray themselves in the film.

Produced in Hollywood, "The Tony Fontaine Story" combines music, the language of the soul, with one of the most thrilling testimonies of this century.

While the rally is especially planned for teams, adults are also invited to this rally.

Starvation Tactics
Charged In Guiana

UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Georgetown, capital and port of British Guiana, the Soviet freighter Kirovsk finished the loading of 30,000 bags of rice and pulled out for a destination unannounced but believed to be Cuba.

Behind, it left angry and hungry demonstrators who charged the government with deliberately trying to starve them out in order to end a general strike.

Almost unnoticed in the press of other world events, Georgetown has been in the grip of a general strike for nearly two months.

It was called by the Guiana Trades Union Council in protest against legislation which the council charges would give the government Communist-style control over labor unions.

It was not a new situation for Prime Minister Cheddi B. Jagan, the American-educated dentist of East Indian extraction who used to call himself a Marxist but now declares that he is a Socialist.

Duplicates Earlier Strike
It was almost a duplication of another general strike which erupted against the Jagan government in February, 1962. In that strike, 40,000 workers quit their jobs. Before it was over six persons were killed, scores injured and nearly $30 million damage suffered by property in mob looting and burning.

The immediate cause was a new government budget including new taxes which the unions charged would be borne mostly by the workers. But behind it also was resentment among the unions against government attacks on the unions and against union leaders and racial differences which color all Guiana affairs.

These differences are between the East Indians who work on the plantations in the countryside and Negroes who labor in the city.

Gets Plantation Support
Jagan draws his support from the plantation workers. In the city, the unions are anti-Jagan, anti-Communist and fearful of the results if Jagan ever heads up a Guiana totally independent of Britain.

The unions are demanding Jagan's resignation.

Jagan made several visits to Cuba and has expressed admiration for both Castro and Nikita Khrushchev.

It is perhaps accidental that in his present extremity he also has received aid from Cuba. The government's import-export corporation announced last week that a Cuban ship, the Maria Theresa, had arrived with essential food and fuel supplies. The Import-Export Corporation is the agent for all Cuban and Russian ships.

As for the United States attitude toward Jagan, it is in a position of being damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. It fears that Jagan might give the Reds their first solid foothold on the continent of South America. It has been wary of too much aid to Jagan but on the other hand would like to believe him when he says he believes in democracy. As the present strike follows its course of violence, one conclusion seems certain. It is not likely to convince Britain or the United States that Guiana is ready for the total independence Jagan seeks.

Tour Of Germany
Will Begin Sunday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's controversial European trip shaped up today as a sentimental pilgrimage to the Old Sod sandwiched between critical cold war talks with troubled Allies.

New political uncertainties in Italy appeared to strengthen rather than diminish the President's determination to go through with the 12-day odyssey, despite advice at home and abroad that the trip was ill-starred and should be postponed. Highlights of his tour of Germany, which begins Sunday, include visits to two points on the Communist-built wall dividing Berlin and an address to 15,000 American combat troops massed at a U.S. base 15 miles east of Frankfurt.

Kennedy's major address during four days in Germany will be made in Frankfurt at the Paulskirche (St. Paul's Church), where the first all-German parliament was convened in 1848.

He will talk with a number of German officials, including outgoing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of Berlin.

After Germany, the President has scheduled three days in Ireland for trips to the ancestral home at Dungannon and other points reputed to be connected with the Kennedys who came to America.

Kennedy is expected to address the Irish Parliament, an honor never before accorded a foreigner.

LACKLAND AFB, Tex.—Airman William R. Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey F. Lehman of R. R. 2, Geneva, Ind., is being reassigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for technical training as a United States Air Force missile electronics mechanic. Airman Lehman, who enlisted in the Air Force a short time ago, has completed his initial basic military training here. The airman is a 1958 graduate of Geneva high school.

BEATS THE WEEVIL PROBLEM—Ready for field testing this summer, experimental vacuum-beater, above, picks up larvae-infested cotton flower buds that have fallen to the ground, pulverizes them with a flailing mechanism, and blows the debris back on the ground. Its use would eliminate the hand-gathering used at present to clear infested fields. Machine's designer, Eddie C. Burt, Agricultural Research Service engineer, readies the machine for tests at Boll Weevil Research Laboratory, State College, Miss.
