Ich Dien: The crest of the Prince of Wales bears the simple watchword, "I serve," and no more princely motto can be found.

We cannot determine whether our faces shall be beautiful or ugly, our bodies graceful or deformed. But the shaping of our life is in our own hands. We make of that great or small, noble or mean, as we will.

The motto, "I serve" always be-tokens real power and lasting authority. More, it is a truly Christian motto, and proclaims eternal kinship with the highest.

George Henry Hubbard.

OUR PREACHER
Says

Our lives resemble the electric clock in that we depend, or should, upon a source of power — the spiritual strength which we gain from God's purpose and will. When our lives are disconnected from this source of power, we miss many of life's richest and most important blessings. "The tie that binds" us to this power source is the teaching and example of Jesus.

The Church Invites You

It is difficult in our troubled times to see the true values of life. The Lord's Day provides us with an opportunity to evaluate the week's happenings, open our minds and hearts to that which is inspiring, and enter a new week spiritually enriched. In the clear and refreshing atmosphere of the church we can get true values back into their proper places. We deeply need this day of refreshment, meditation and fellowship to meet our problems and challenges more effectively and in accordance with God's will. Worship is man's public response to God's promise of forgiveness, inspiration and power. The church is the house of God.

WHY NOT ACCEPT THE INVITATION AND COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

A HAPPY HOME

SOMETIMES selfishness is allowed to develop in children and parents minimize the negative effects of certain actions thinking them cute and negligible in importance, as the following story will illustrate:

A little boy of five was seen in a little wagon pulled by his little three year old sister who was plodding along apparently finding it difficult to
