

Accident Victims Taken To Parkview

Two Jamesville, N. Y., residents, injured in a one-car accident in Adams county Wednesday have been transferred to the Parkview hospital in Fort Wayne.

Norman David Henderson, one and one-half years of age, is listed in fair condition at the Fort Wayne hospital, after undergoing surgery. The boy was reported to have suffered a fractured skull.

Patricia Ann Henderson, eleven and one-half years of age, is also in the Parkview hospital in good condition. The young girl is believed to have suffered fractured ribs in the accident.

The two youngsters were riding in an automobile with their mother, Mrs. Theresa E. Henderson, when the auto went out of control on U. S. 27, a mile and a half north of Decatur at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Henderson lost control of the auto and it crossed the road and went down an embankment, flipping over at least twice. The mother received multiple bruises and was released from the hospital after treatment.

If you have something to sell or trade — use the Democrat Want ads — they get BIG results.

Kennedy Relaxing At Hyannis Port

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy settled into the easy pace of a holiday weekend today and planned on a cruise aboard his yacht for the first time in several months if the good weather which greeted his arrival here held up.

The President landed at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., shortly after 5 p.m. EDT Thursday.

Kennedy was surrounded by relatives except for three. His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and wife, Ethel, were in Boston where their eighth child was born late Thursday. The baby and mother were reported in excellent condition and Robert Kennedy, who had been very nervous prior to the boy's birth, was in good humor when he later talked with newsmen.

The President's sister-in-law, Joan, who is the wife of Sen. Edward (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., was in a Hyannis hospital where she underwent surgical treatment of a throat abscess.

The blessed event was big and happy news for the President, for the many Kennedy uncles, aunts and cousins assembled at the family's usual summer locale for the weekend.

Kennedy's wife Jacqueline, is expecting their third child late next month. The First Lady arrived here Tuesday and was waiting with five-year-old Caroline and two-year-old John Jr. to embrace the Chief Executive when his helicopter from Otis AFB arrived at the Kennedy "compound" homes here.

The President's 92-foot White House yacht Honey Fitz was available here for Kennedy's use after having undergone a recent overhaul. He last had an opportunity to cruise aboard the vessel in the spring at Palm Beach, Fla.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said he expected no major developments from the weekend White House and indicated that the President planned on a relaxed weekend before flying back to Washington Monday morning. Kennedy arrived back at the Capital early Wednesday morning from a strenuous ten-day visit to Europe.

Draft-Goldwater Move Taking Off

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

The draft-Goldwater movement has taken off, and the stop-Goldwater movement is revving up to fly.

Thursday night at the National Guard Armory in Washington, D. C., took place the National Draft Goldwater Independence Day Rally (NDGIDR). This was a flamboyant notice to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that the nucleus of a political organization is developing to obtain his nomination for president.

The stop-Goldwater movement is less evident. It is in the works, however. It is a rule of politics, that when one individual becomes a front runner, all others gang up on him. Another well known fact of politics is that you cannot beat somebody with nobody.

That is to say, if you want to withhold the convention delegation of Pennsylvania, for example, from Aspirant (A), then you should offer some other individual to whom the delegation may be committed, if only for a short time.

Thus it was that Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton said last month that he may be his state's favorite son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. A favorite son gives convention delegates a temporary place to roost and a strong point from which to bargain before committing themselves to a major candidate for the presidential nomination.

Four Possibilities

Scranton cannot be brushed off, however, as a minor candidate. Republican National Chairman William E. Miller recently listed Scranton, Goldwater, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Michigan's Gov. George Romney as the four men among whom his party will find its 1964 presidential nominee.

It follows that Romney and Rockefeller will be pressured openly to join the stop-Goldwater movement. Rockefeller already is in and running on his own account, although not publicly committed. Romney is coy but is likely, at the least, to be Michigan's favorite son candidate next year. The stoppers will need others. They will look among states with Republican governors or U.S. senators, but not among all of those states.

Recently from Denver it was reported that Colorado Republicans were organizing a western bloc of convention delegates around the favorite son candidacy of Sen. Gordon L. Allott R-Colo. This was interpreted as a maneuver to consolidate Goldwater's Mountain States strength. The stoppers, in turn, undoubtedly will seek to enlist California.

The Chinese negotiating team flew in by special plane from Peking. The visitors were met by Soviet delegation leader Mikhail Suslov, senior Kremlin ideologist. Relations between the two Communist giants were strained to the breaking point just hours before the opening session of the show-down talks that will determine the course of international communism.

Red China announced a bitter new protest against the Soviet Union earlier in the day, and the Russians printed a front-page editorial in the Communist party newspaper declaring they would not back down in the discussions.

The negotiations were called originally to restore peace to the Communist world, but the flurry of last-minute vitriolic charges and counter-charges between Moscow and Peking cast strong doubt that any progress would be made.

Western observers felt there was a possibility of an historic split of the Communist camp.

The Chinese Red delegation got

chilly reception.

Soviet and Eastern European newsmen apparently boycotted coverage of the arrival. Not a single Russian or Eastern European newsmen could be seen at the airport.

Neither Moscow Radio nor the official Tass news agency reported their arrival immediately.

Gains In Polls

Polls indicate that Rockefeller's remarriage to a divorced woman flipped Goldwater ahead.

There have been various polls in recent weeks, all of them reflecting an upsurge of Goldwater strength. The stoppers, in turn, undoubtedly will seek to enlist California.

The governor there is a Democrat, but one senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, is a Republican. Kuchel probably would feel at home in a stop-Goldwater operation.

The negotiations were called originally to restore peace to the Communist world, but the flurry

of last-minute vitriolic charges

and counter-charges between

Moscow and Peking cast strong

doubt that any progress would be made.

Western observers felt there was a possibility of an historic split of the Communist camp.

The Chinese Red delegation got

chilly reception.

Soviet and Eastern European

newsmen apparently boycotted

coverage of the arrival. Not a single Russian or Eastern European newsmen could be seen at the airport.

Neither Moscow Radio nor the official Tass news agency reported

their arrival immediately.

Gains In Polls

Polls indicate that Rockefeller's remarriage to a divorced woman flipped Goldwater ahead.

There have been various polls in recent weeks, all of them reflecting an upsurge of Goldwater strength.

The stoppers, in turn, undoubtedly will seek to enlist California.

The governor there is a Democrat,

but one senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, is a Republican. Kuchel probably would feel at home in a stop-Goldwater operation.

The negotiations were called

originally to restore peace to the

Communist world, but the flurry

of last-minute vitriolic charges

and counter-charges between

Moscow and Peking cast strong

doubt that any progress would be made.

Western observers felt there was a possibility of an historic

split of the Communist camp.

The Chinese Red delegation got

chilly reception.

Soviet and Eastern European

newsmen apparently boycotted

coverage of the arrival. Not a single Russian or Eastern European newsmen could be seen at the airport.

Neither Moscow Radio nor the official Tass news agency reported

their arrival immediately.

12 Killed In State Traffic Over Holiday

By United Press International

A rash of accidents Thursday night and this morning killed at least five persons to push Indiana's Fourth of July holiday traffic toll to 12 and threaten to exceed the prediction of 18 for the 102-hour period.

Three persons were killed in separate accidents in Indianapolis and two more were killed near Fort Wayne and Columbia City, increasing the 1963 highway toll to 585 compared with 549 a year ago.

Chris Fields, 58, Roanoke, was killed in a two-car wreck at a county road intersection west of Fort Wayne today. His wife, Jessie, 60, was seriously injured.

Authorities arrested Donald Frisby, 22, Fort Wayne, the second driver, on charges of failure to yield the right-of-way.

Two big trucks collided at the intersection of Indiana 9 and U.S. 30 north of Columbia City this morning, killing Leonard Lamparek, 36, Swisher, Iowa. Police said his truck rammed the rear of another which had stopped for a traffic signal. Both drivers were pinned in their cabs. Lyle Boldon, 35, Hillsboro, Wis., was hospitalized in "good" condition.

William J. Temple, 25, Indianapolis, died this morning of injuries sustained Thursday night when his car went off an embankment at the city's sanitation plant. John Cahill, 71, Indianapolis, died in a hospital shortly after he was struck by a car driven by John Wood, 41, Danville, at a city street intersection.

Mrs. Mildred Foster, 46, Indianapolis, was killed when she drove her car into the path of a New York Central Railroad passenger train at a city crossing—the same crossing where Charles Woods, 55, Indianapolis, was critically injured in a similar accident Thursday.

Authorities said flasher warning signals were working at the crossing.

Safety experts predicted 18 traffic deaths in the Hoosier State between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

Two crashes, one near Seymour Wednesday night and another near Frankfort Thursday night, killed two persons each.

Killed in a two-car crash at the intersection of two Clinton County roads southwest of Frankfort were Dennis Young, 17, and Mrs. Lee Moore, both of rural Frankfort.

Mrs. Moore's husband, Melvin, 60, and the couple's daughter, Jane, 17, were seriously injured.

Fred Milburn Tibbs, 43, Fowler, was also killed Thursday night when his car was rammed by a New York Central Railroad train near his home.

Earlier Thursday, Kenneth Ferris, 7, Westport, was killed when he fell from the back of a farm tractor he was riding near Whiteside town and was crushed beneath its wheels.

Also killed Thursday was Charles McKinney, 30, Evansville. A car he was riding in hit a bridge on U.S. 460 about 10 miles west of Evansville. The driver, Robert Ell, 23, also of Evansville, was hospitalized in critical condition.

The other double-fatality wreck Wednesday night occurred on Interstate 65 in Jackson County, killing Lowell Hall and Billy Elliot, both 26 and of Bloomington. The truck driver, Raymond Addington, 45, Elizabethtown, Ky., was injured.

Mrs. Ted Kennedy Undergoes Surgery

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI) — Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, wife of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and their eighth child, a 6-pound 14-ounce boy, were in "good" condition today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

The child, the couple's fifth son, was delivered at 6:48 p.m. Thursday by Caesarean section by Dr. Roy J. Heffernan. The baby was about a week ahead of schedule and was born 88 minutes after a frantic helicopter flight from Cape Cod.

The newest arrival is President Kennedy's 13th nephew. He also has six nieces. It was not known immediately whether the President, who arrived at his summer home on Squaw Island Thursday, had left, would visit the hospital.

The attorney general, who showed the red-eyed and weary signs of most expectant fathers, jokingly announced to newsmen, "They tell me he was the best looking child ever born at St. Elizabeth's."

Among the first he called was his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, at the Kennedy compound at Hyannis Port. "I told my father he looked just like him."

"He's got a strong face, just like his grandfather—a lot of character. He's a very good looking baby. And, oh, he's got black hair," Kennedy said.

No name or godparents have been chose, he said.

Kennedy said his 35-year-old wife was "feeling fine. She's very pleased that it's a boy. The rest of the children wanted a boy."

Holiday births are no new experience for Ethel. Her oldest daughter, Kathleen, 11, also was born on the Fourth of July and Mary Kerry, 3, was delivered on Labor Day. Their other children are Joseph, 10, Robert, 9, David, 7, Mary, Courtney, 6, and Michael, 4.

Heffernan said that Mrs. Kennedy was conscious throughout the delivery. "She was given a spinal anesthetic," he said, adding that Mrs. Kennedy apparently had been in labor since shortly before noon Thursday.

It was expected that the 26-year-old mother of two, who suffered a miscarriage May 16, would be confined to the hospital for about three days.

Authorities said the surgery was for relief of a parturient abscess. They emphasized that the ailment was not connected with the miscarriage.

Mrs. Kennedy was admitted to the hospital Tuesday from her summer home at Squaw Island, Hyannis Port. She was visited by her husband and his sister, Mrs. Eunice Shriver, before undergoing the operation.

Mrs. Kennedy's illness forced

QUIETEST

FEDDERS

AIR CONDITIONER WITH SOUND BARRIER

An exclusive advance in acoustics absorbs the whining, wailing sounds inherent in all air conditioners up to now. Pay nothing extra for this standard feature.