

Take Applications For Camp For Youth

Richard P. App, manager of the Fort Wayne office of the Indiana employment security division, said today that young men interested in the Indiana youth conservation camp may file applications now. He urged potential campers to act quickly since enrollment closes August 12.

The youth conservation camp will be in operation at Corydon, for 60 days starting September 3, and will offer a program of work, vocational guidance, and educational classes. Each enrollee will be paid $75 a month and will receive in addition, quarters, subsistence, and clothing.

App said the camp will be open to male residents of Indiana between the age of 17 years, 9 months, and 22 years, 9 months, who want to work but have not been employed for 90 days or more. They must be of good character and have adequate physical and mental abilities to do strenuous labor and benefit from instruction and guidance.

Enrollees will be quartered at the Harrison state forest and will work 40 hours a week in the field. They will have team sports and recreation plus at least eight hours of education and vocational training a week and employment counseling to help them apply for and hold jobs. At the end of their 60-day training and work period, enrollees will report to Indiana state employment service offices in their home areas for assistance in finding suitable employment.

Applications for enrollment must be made in person at the Indiana Employment Security Division, 315 E. Washington Street, Fort Wayne, until August 12. Forms may be obtained from that office or from the Indiana youth council, the department of conservation, or the department of labor, all of which are in the State Office Building in Indianapolis.

No New Polio Cases In State Last Week

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Indiana State Board of Health records showed no polio cases again last week, and the year's total remained at 2, compared with 5 this time last year and a five-year median of 6.

Indiana's fifth case of diphtheria this year was reported, from Parke County. The 5 cases compare with 3 this time last year and a five-year median of 3.

Admiral McDonald Is New Naval Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., hauled down his flag as chief of naval operations today and relinquished command of the world's largest Navy to an old friend and fellow aviator, Adm. David L. McDonald.

Anderson now will become U.S. ambassador to Portugal, entering a diplomatic world with which he is familiar from international military assignments.

McDonald, a soft-voiced Georgian with essentially the same hard ideas as Anderson on the Navy's future, became the nation's top-ranking sea officer in a colorful change of command ceremony at the Washington Navy Yard.

There were tributes from Navy Secretary Fred Korth, 19-gun salutes and full honors rendered by squads of Marines and sailors as the Navy observed the time honored tradition of swearing in a new chief.

McDonald's selection by President Kennedy, announced May 6, was a surprise throughout the armed forces. Not the least amazed was McDonald himself.

It had been expected generally that Anderson, top military man in last fall's Cuba crisis operations, would get a second two-year term at the Navy helm and, perhaps, succeed Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McDonald had become a full admiral only on April 1, and had just moved from command of the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean to London to be commander of U.S. naval forces in Europe, the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Aug. 1, 1943 was Sunday and no paper was published.

Today's Sport Parade (Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.) By OSCAR FRALEY UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay, the Louisville lip, should be arrested today not only for impersonating a fighter but also for impersonating an entertainer.

The loud one has signed a contract with Columbia Records to produce a record — a long playing one, naturally — which deals with not only his poetry but also his fistic future against one Charles (Sonny) Liston, heavyweight champion of the world.

It'll be a gasser like his fight with Liston, meaning both will be designed to put you to sleep. Or him.

Cassius, if you look under the surface, is merely loud-mouthing to build a big game against the retirement into which Liston probably will blast him. As a fighter, which was proved by one Doug Jones, he is a wondrous talker.

Prediction Went Wrong
"I predicted six against Jones and then predicted four," he admitted by way of indirect apology of his "lucky" 10-round "victory" over Jones. "So it went 10 rounds and that's the right total." There is nobody in boxing who believes that the flap-lipped Louisville boxer can last much past two or three rounds with Liston. But this is all part of the box office buildup.

"I talked so long the record company asked me to do a record," he said in a mid-Manhattan hotel suite when he swaggered in wearing a red robe with white lapels. "This blood you see on here is that of Henry the Cooper. Real blood."

Cooper was the British heavyweight, in the true tradition of a long line of inept British heavyweights, who was Clay's last "victim."

Cassius was forced to admit right off the bat that he wasn't a singer but merely a "talker and reciter." Asked whether anybody would buy it, he predicted, naturally, a total of eight — namely 8 million.

Cover Sells It
"They'll buy it because on the cover will be the prettiest fighter in the world," he insisted. "Inside will be gags and philosophy."

Then he gave a sample, and there were those on hand who wished he hadn't.

"This is a story about a man with iron fists and golden tan. 'Friends, Romans, countrymen, I come to bury Liston, not to praise him...'

"I'll teach that Liston anything, talking, boxing or actually what he needs, falling lessons... 'I'm too pretty to be a fighter...'

"I'm so beautiful my face should be a natural resource... 'Patterson was nuthin' but a scared chump...'

"I could whip both Patterson and Liston in the same night... 'This record will last longer than Liston...'

"I named him a big ugly bear and what I say goes all over the world...'

And, carried away by his own importance, Clay allowed that he wouldn't fight Liston for the 22½ per cent he had been offered.

"Sugar Ray Robinson told me he never took less than 45 per cent as a challenger," the Lip allowed, "I'd be a fool to take lower."

And so it went. Meaning, that if you take Cassius Clay, against Liston or on a record, man you ought to have your head examined.

Gray Ladies Hold Regular Meeting

The Gray Ladies of the American Red Cross in Adams county held their regular business meeting recently in the Indiana & Michigan building in Decatur. Mrs. Leo Sheets, Gray Ladies county chairman, presided.

Reports were given by various officers. Mrs. Frank Braun reported on the hours served by the Gray Ladies at the Adams county home, Berne nursing home and the Adams county memorial hospital. Mrs. Walter Bauer revealed that during the month of August there will be over 50 opportunities for the Gray Ladies to serve in the county.

Mrs. Artie Kiefer, Berne area unit chairman, introduced Mrs. Noah Brunner and Mrs. Marcus Luginbill, who are interested in joining the unit. She also explained the service of the Gray Ladies in the Berne nursing home. Mrs. George Pauley, project chairman, explained the numerous articles that have been completed in craft and shop at the county home.

The cookout for residents of the county home was reported on by Mrs. Nevin Miller. Mrs. Russell Fleming and Mrs. Richard Marbach. The food was furnished by the home and the Gray Ladies served the residents at tables erected outdoors. Following the cookout, all enjoyed movies and group singing. Each resident was given a small treat from the "birthday box." Mrs. Marbach furnished a small chord organ for additional music.

Discuss Services
Discussion was held on any additional improvements that can be added to the service of the Gray Ladies, which is varied and numerous in the county. However, it was pointed out that the number of qualified Gray Ladies must be increased to strengthen the service, which is dedicated to the comfort and recovery of the sick, the injured, and the handicapped, and to bring friendship to the patients.

All qualified Gray Ladies who have completed the requirements to the service of the Red Cross may introduce new ladies and men to the Gray lady program in the county.

The next business meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 26, in the Indiana & Michigan building in Decatur.

Happy Hustlers

The tenth meeting of the Happy Hustlers was held at the home of Mrs. Ken Martin, July 23. The meeting was opened by Beth Harmon leading the American pledge and Kathy Watkins leading the 4-H pledge. Roll call was answered by how to improve the 4-H program for next year. The marching unit for the parade was then discussed. The club also decided to take a trip to Coney Island. Debbie Neadstine gave a demonstration on baked apples. Refreshments were served by Brenda McBride and Norene Reed.
