Most Big Ten Squads Are In Good Condition

By United Press International
Most Big Ten football camps reported all hands in top shape Tuesday for Saturday's action.

Exceptions were at Purdue, where reserve guard Bill Howard, idled with a severe hip bruise, was declared out of Saturday's game with Notre Dame; and at Michigan State, where senior halfback Ron Rubick will miss Friday night's game with Southern California. Rubick has not recovered from a knee operation.

Ohio State, which usually concentrates on a ground attack, worked on a passing attack Tuesday, and coach Woody Hayes bemoaned the efforts. "Our pass protection broke down," Hayes said as he ordered similar drills for today.

Northwestern, definitely a passing eleven, worked on pass protection. Coaches warned that Wildcat quarterback Tom Myers would face a hard charge—but Illinois Saturday.

At Minnesota, quarterback Bob Sedek was demoted from the first to third string, apparently as punishment for being late for a quarterback meeting. Coach Murray Warmath didn't indicate how long Sedek would run with the reserves.

Michigan coach Bump Elliott drilled the Wolverines on pass defense in preparation for Navy's star quarterback Roger Staubach, who set a Navy record for pass yardage in a single game last week.

Wisconsin, idle this weekend, worked its offensive patterns against Purdue defenses. The Badgers meet the Boilermakers Oct. 12.

One of the few teams not stressing passing or pass defense Tuesday was Indiana, which placed special emphasis on the quick kick.

Iowa worked on both running and passing. Coach Jerry Burns moved Phil Deutch to the No. 2 right tackle spot and Bill Nickbala to second string right end.

Leo Is Winner Of Adams Central Meet

Leo scored twice in each of the first two innings and went on to a 7-3 win over Ossian, copping the championship of the Adams Central baseball tourney Tuesday afternoon.

The contest was played at the Monroe diamond, as were all games in the seven-team tourney. Leading 4-0 after two innings, the Lions were hard-pressed as Ossian scored all three of their runs in the fourth. The winners, however, tallied three times in the top of the seventh and Miller winning hurler, held Ossian scoreless in the last of the seventh.

A single by Ted Gehrig, an error, a triple by McNeese and another error brought home the seventh inning runs.

Kauffman tripled and Windmiller poked a double to lead the Adams attack. Miller cracked a two-run homer for Leo in the fifth, but both runs were nullified when the Lion pitcher failed to touch first base. Line score:

Leo	220	000	3-7	6	3
Ossian	000	300	0-3	8	3

$125,000 Golf Meet Attracts Leading Stars

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The richest talent in professional golf will be in a field of some 150 that tees off Thursday in the $125,000 Whitmarsh Open, the most lucrative tourney of the 1963 pro circuit.

Top money winner Arnold Palmer, PGA and Masters champion Jack Nicklaus and U.S. Open title Julius Boros will be among those competing for the $26,000 first prize money in the first annual event at the suburban Philadelphia Whitmarsh Valley Country Club.

The Open, which will benefit the child development center for the handicapped in nearby Norristown, Pa., will compete for attention with the baseball World Series and area football games during the weekend but tournament officials were hopeful of a $250,000 gate.

Many of the pros played practice rounds on the 6,807 yard, par 72-course Tuesday and pronounced it in fine shape. The lengthy course is liberally sprinkled with 150 sand traps and most players agreed that approach shot accuracy and putting would tell the story.

Gary Player, a money winner in all but eight of 118 Professional Golfers' Association events in the United States since 1957, said he felt a 16-under par 272 would capture the 72-hole event.

Palmer, who has been troubled by apparent bursitis in his right shoulder, said he "felt fine" as he shot a two under par 34 for nine holes during a Tuesday practice round.

Four-time U.S. Open champ Ben Hogan had been scheduled to play in the event but sent word to tournament director Frank Meador Tuesday saying he regretted he was unable to attend "due to business commitments."

The field will be cut to the low 75 players and ties at the end of 36 holes and a tie at the end of the event will necessitate an 18-hole playoff Monday. In the event of still another tie at the end of the playoff, "sudden death" holes will be played.

To Launch League Bowling By Girls

Organizational plans are being made this week for the initial start of league bowling for girls from Decatur high school.

Mrs. Dick Mies, certified instructor for the BPAA youth bowling program, met Tuesday afternoon with all interested D. H. S. girls, explaining the YBA program and outlining plans for this bowling season.

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, all interested juniors and seniors will meet at Villa Lanes, where they will be given mass instructions and individual attention in an intensive "learn to bowl" program for youth at the local establishment.

As a result of the meeting at the high school Tuesday afternoon, this junior and senior division, to be known as the high school Major league, the girls voted to bowl three games each Thursday at 3 p.m. Already, approximately 10 teams of three bowlers each have requested to bowl in this league.

The freshman-sophomore group, because of a different dismissal schedule at school, will not be able to bowl on Thursdays as in the past but have tentative plans to bowl on Tuesday afternoons after school. This group will, however, meet at Villa Lanes this Thursday after school, for the first in a series of free lessons aimed to teach each and every one of the students the proper way to bowl, bowling etiquette and all phases of the YBA program.

In preparation of this new YBA program, Dick and Gwen Mies, and Villa Lanes employees Charles and Edna Hite, attended an all day bowling clinic at Key Lanes last Friday, where they received intensive coaching and guidance in training young bowlers. All were presented certified instructor certificates by the field representative of the BPAA who conducted the schooling.

Each of the high school leagues this year will be headed by an instructor who will be assisted by at least one adult coach per league, all of whom will have had specialized training in this field.

Decatur high school boys and schools in the Adams county area will be contacted this week to arrange schedules for inter-county leagues and classes of instructions for the boys.

Plans are also being made for an inter-county girls league this year, with details to be announced in the near future.

Parental approval from each of the students participating in league bowling will be necessary this year, and parents are invited to attend any of the instruction periods as well as league bowling. For further information, students may call Dick or Gwen Mies.

Patricia Johnson Is Elected By Nurses

Patricia Johnson, Decatur, was selected first vice president of the senior class in class elections held at Parkview-Methodist school of nursing in Fort Wayne.

The three-year training program at Parkview-Methodist prepares students for beginning staff positions in hospitals and other health agencies. Approximately 180 students are enrolled.

Hammond Tops Prep Rankings For 2nd Week

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press International

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Hammond's hungry Wildcats missed a clean sweep by a single point today to pace the Indiana high school football elite for the second consecutive week.

The United Press International coaches' board gave coach Bernie Krueger's boys nine first-place votes and one runner-up spot for 99 points out of a possible 100. Second-place Evansville Reitz, front-runner the first week, got the other first-place ballot and a total of 89 points.

Anderson's Indians, who battled Richmond to a 27-27 standoff in a North Central Conference headliner last Friday, were the only "Big 10" newcomers, climbing from 16th to 10th position and two South Bend elevens—Adams and St. Joseph—were demoted out of the "Big 10."

Muncie Fourth
Kokomo remained third and Elkhart seventh. Three other teams also improved their positions—Muncie Central moved up from fifth to fourth; New Albany, which collides with Reitz in Saturday's "game of the week," from sixth to fifth, and South Bend Central from ninth to eighth.

Richmond dropped from fourth to sixth, East Chicago Roosevelt from eighth to ninth, Adams from a tie for 10th to a tie for 15th and St. Joseph from that same spot to a tie for 17th.

Columbus and Lebanon, although still undefeated, and Evansville Rex Mundi and Marion were deleted from the honor roll, with LaPorte and Gary Wallace brand-new additions. LaPorte clipped South Bend St. Joseph's 12-game winning streak and Wallace is second only to Hammond in the Northwest Conference.

Indianapolis Cathedral, which entertains Muncie in a non-conference headliner Friday, leads the Second 10 with 12 1/2 points.

The Breakdown
1. Hammond (9) ..... 99
2. Evansville Reitz (1) ..... 89
3. Kokomo ..... 78
4. Muncie Central ..... 51
5. New Albany ..... 46 1/2
6. Richmond ..... 41
7. Elkhart ..... 40
8. South Bend Central ..... 23
9. East Chicago Roosevelt ..... 18
10. Anderson ..... 13
11. Indianapolis Cathedral 12 1/2
12. Southport, Evansville North 9
14. LaPorte 5 1/2; 15. Indianapolis Tech, South Bend Adams 4; 17. Noblesville, Vincennes, South Bend St. Joseph 2; 20. Gary Wallace 1; 21. South Bend Riley 1/2.

Yankees Are Betting Favorites In Series

NEW YORK (UPI) — The odds-makers, as usual, are stringing along with the New York Yankees in the World Series.

They quoted the Yankees as 6-5 favorites to whip the Dodgers in today's opening game and as 3-2 picks to win the championship.

Top Teams Are Favorites To Win Saturday

NEW YORK (UPI)—Alabama, Texas and Pittsburgh—all members of college football's top 10—are strong favorites to breeze past their next opponents Saturday.

Alabama is a 23-point choice over winless Vanderbilt, Texas is picked to down Oklahoma State by at least 22 points, and Pittsburgh is a 13-point favorite over California.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, on the strength of its upset victory over Southern California last Saturday, will be idle this weekend. The Sooners swing back into action against Texas Oct. 12.

Southern Cal, meanwhile, is a six-point choice to bounce back against Michigan State in the feature game on Friday night's program.

Duke is picked by 7 over Maryland in Saturday's nationally televised game of the week.

In other college games:

East: Columbia vs. Princeton, even; Penn State 4 over Rice; Colgate 5 over Boston U.; Yale 5 over Brown; Dartmouth 7 over Penn; Harvard 11 over Rutgers; Syracuse 21 over Holy Cross.

South: Clemson 1 over North Carolina St.; Georgia 1 over South Carolina; Tennessee 3 over Mississippi State; Virginia Tech 7 over Virginia; Oregon 7 over West Virginia; Auburn 8 over Kentucky; North Carolina 13 over Wake Forest; Miami (Fla.) 16 over Tulane; Florida 26 over Richmond; Georgia Tech 5 over LSU.

Midwest: Notre Dame vs. Purdue, even; Xavier vs. Cincinnati, even; Minnesota 3 over Army; Colorado 3 over Kansas State; Ohio State 6 over Indiana; Ohio University 10 over Kent State; Boston College 12 over Detroit; Nebraska 13 over Iowa State; Bowling Green 17 over Dayton; Northwestern 7 over Illinois; Navy 7 over Michigan.

Southwest: Air Force 4 over SMU; Arkansas 4 over Texas Christian; Texas A&M 7 over Texas Tech; Memphis State 13 over Tulsa; Arizona State 13 over Colorado St.; Mississippi 19 over Houston.

Far West: UCLA vs. Stanford, even; Oregon State 4 over Baylor; Washington 6 over Iowa; Kansas 8 over Wyoming; Washington St. 12 over Arizona; Utah State 14 over San Jose State.

In pro games this weekend:
National Football League: Philadelphia 1 over Dallas, Minnesota 3 over St. Louis, Cleveland 4 over Pittsburgh, New York 7 over Washington, Chicago 9 over Baltimore, Detroit 10 over San Francisco, Green Bay 20 over Los Angeles.
American Football League: Boston 3 over New York, Buffalo 4 over Oakland, San Diego 5 over Denver, Kansas City 6 over Houston.

Man Is Found Dead Inside Corn Silo

MOUNT VERNON, Ind. (UPI) — Virgil Watson, 60, Owensville, was found dead Tuesday buried beneath many bushels of corn inside a 100-foot-tall silo near here.

An autopsy was ordered, but authorities said Watson probably was stricken ill while inspecting a depth indicator at the top of the silo elevator during his rounds as watchman Monday night.

They said he may have died instantly or may have suffocated when corn in the 1,000-bushel silo was piled in on top of him throughout the early morning operations.

Wilkinson Is Named As Coach Of Week

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson, the silver-haired football strategist whose golden touch paid off in a stunning 17-12 upset of defending national champion Southern California today was named United Press International "coach of the week."

"On behalf of the team and coaching staff I appreciate the honor paid to them all," Wilkinson said as he prepared to study films of Oklahoma's most important victory in years.

"We felt we had to control the ball to win the game—it was no super-strategy," Wilkinson said of the Southern California victory, which probably sent the Sooners soaring to their greatest heights since their heydays of the mid-50s.

Southern California might quarrel—with Bud's modesty about strategy, because Oklahoma unveiled a new series of double-reverses, which included passing, to go with its storied ground game and bone-rattling defense that had the Trojans off balance.

Oklahoma's ball control tactics hogged the game while they built up a 17-6 halftime lead. The Sooners ran off 101 offensive plays, not counting kickoffs, while the Trojans managed only 55, and therein lies the tale.

Wilkinson said the heat, which unofficially was near 120 degrees on the field, did not bother his team. "In the second half, instead of tiring, we seemed to get faster, if anything," he said.

Fined, Sentenced On Contributing Charge

Ernest L. Eckrote, 30, former local resident now residing in Fort Wayne, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Adams county jail by circuit court Judge Myles F. Parrish this morning.

Eckrote, who was represented by Wayne Miller, Fort Wayne attorney, pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Prosecutor Severin H. Schurger asked that a charge of furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor be dropped, after Eckrote entered his guilty plea to the other charge.

Eckrote was arrested last spring when five juveniles and a quantity of beer were found in his automobile, when stopped by the city police after midnight.

Five Youths
Judge Parrish told Eckrote in court this morning that due to his actions, five local boys now have juvenile records, as they were found to be delinquent after being picked up with Eckrote.

The judge explained that "Socrates drank the hemlock for perverting youths," and added that "although in this day and age the courts are not as severe as then, contributing to the delinquency of minors is still a serious offense."

Judge Parrish added that in the day of Socrates men who were found guilty of perverting youth were hanged.

After severely chastising Eckrote for his crime, the judge ordered the $100 fine and 30-day jail sentence.
