

Adams County Death Rate

The monthly bulletin of Indiana Department of Health points out this month that the most objective measure of the health status of a community or an area is its death rate. This makes sense!

The most commonly used and best-known form of the death rate is the crude death rate: the number of persons dying for each 100,000 people in the area.

The average in Indiana is 960.2 per 100,000 per year. For white males it is 1100.9; for white females, 820.0.

By age, the average in Indiana is:

Under 1	2486.6	55-59	1310.4
1-4	94.7	60-64	2014.0
5-14	45.5	65-69	3032.2
15-24	103.9	70-74	4643.1
25-34	126.3	75-79	7308.0
35-44	266.8	80-84	11838.8
45-49	539.9	85+, unk.	20783.0
50-54	897.5

By county, Adams county really shines. In the unadjusted annual crude death rate, Adams county ranks 9th out of 92 counties, with an average of 841.3. This average, which includes both males and females, is very, very good — it means you are likely to live longer if you live in Adams county! (In spite of the fact that our water contains three times the recommended maximum of flourides!)

When the death rate is adjusted to rule out sex, age, and race advantages and disadvantages, Adams county shows up even better: it ranks third out of 92 counties as the healthiest! Only Jefferson and Carroll county rank better. Adams has an adjust rate of 834.0, compared with an average of 938.6 for other counties this size, and 1,050.6 for other counties our size, unadjusted! In the northeast part of the state, the average is 941.6 adjusted, 981.5 unadjusted.

In this immediate area, Allen county has a better unadjusted rate, ranking 6th, but moved down to 23rd in the adjusted rates; Wells is way down the list, with 1120 unadjusted, 942 adjusted. Jay is 74th and 78th.

PROCLAMATION
JUNIOR FIRE MARSHAL DAY

BY THE MAYOR:

WHEREAS: The President of the United States has proclaimed the week of October 6-12 as National Fire Prevention Week;

WHEREAS: Experience has shown that effective community fire-prevention programs can save thousands of lives each year and millions of dollars in property; and

WHEREAS: Four million elementary school age boys and girls across the country are joined in a national brigade of Junior Fire Marshals for the purpose of learning to recognize and remove fire hazards; form safe habits they will carry with them throughout their lives; now

THEREFORE: I, Donald Gage, Mayor of Decatur, do hereby proclaim Thursday, October 10 during National Fire Prevention Week (October 6-12) as JUNIOR FIRE MARSHAL DAY in Decatur, and urge parents to support the Junior Fire Marshal program which is sponsored locally by LELAND SMITH INSURANCE AGENCY, INC. and DECATUR FIRE DEPT.; to assist Junior Fire Marshals by inspecting their own homes for fire hazards. I also urge all the citizens of Decatur to benefit by the example set by our boys and girls; to pay special tribute to this worthwhile activity by making a special effort to check their own premises for fire hazards on JUNIOR FIRE MARSHAL DAY.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF: I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City to be affixed, this 4th day of October, 1963.

3 out of 5 With Hearing Losses
Do Not Need Hearing Aids!

Why worry needlessly?

Come in, let Sonotone relieve your mind

Medical authorities estimate there are up to 15 million Americans with hearing losses — but only up to 6 million need hearing aids. So, even if your hearing isn't as good as it was, the odds are 3 to 2 in your favor that you don't need a hearing aid.

Why worry needlessly? Come in and let a Sonotone hearing test relieve your mind. If you don't need a hearing aid, Sonotone will be pleased to tell you so.

Our test takes just a few minutes, gives you a complete

"picture" of your hearing. You see the chart, you know the score — then you decide.

There's no charge for the test, of course. Call for an appointment today and end your hearing worries.

Also get your FREE copy of 40-page booklet, "Your Hearing and Your Health." Contains revealing facts about care of the ears, effects of vitamins and drugs on hearing, whether deafness is inherited — everything you want to know about hearing problems.
