Glendening Is Honored At Retirement Party

First State Bank employees, board members, wives and husbands honored Roscoe Glendening, former bank clerk, with a retirement party Tuesday evening.

The Hone-Tone quartet entertained the group, and Gerald Viard, chairman of the board, made a brief speech, and presented Glendening with a colored TV set. Bank president Theodore F. Graiker then spoke, and presented Glendening with an envelope which represented a nice vacation for the year. Letters of congratulation from many banking officials in the state and nation, congratulating Glendening on his retirement, were then read, and pictures of the group were taken. The bank employees had previously presented their co-employee with a lounge chair on his final day of work, Dec. 31.

North Adams Board Receives Bus Bids

The North Adams community school board met in special session Tuesday evening to receive bids for new buses. The board is considering purchasing three new buses, and is looking over two types, the 60-passenger conventional bus, and the 72 or 78 passenger transient type bus.

The boards received bids on five types of bus bodies, Thomas, Wayne, Superior, Carpenter and Bluebird, and received bids on chassis from the Schwartz Ford Co., and Decatur Equipment Co. After receiving the bids, the board took them under advisement and will make a final decision at its next regularly-scheduled meeting Tuesday, January 14.

Farm Bureau Scores Wheat Control Plan

WASHINGTON UPI — The American Farm Bureau Federation today attacked a new Johnson administration wheat control program as "incredible" and said that Congress should reject it.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman told a House wheat subcommittee hearing Tuesday that the program would recoup about $400 million of a $600 million predicted drop in wheat farm income in 1964.

The plan is a voluntary one which would reward farmers who hold back production by giving them redeemable market certificates.

Wheat producers last year rejected a mandatory control program which also included high price supports.

Charles B. Shuman, Farm Bureau president, claimed that the present proposal is not much different from the one turned down by farmers last year.

"We find it little short of incredible that members of Congress from wheat districts would even consider action to effectuate a plan that has already been rejected by a majority of wheat producers," he said in a statement prepared for today's hearing.

Shuman claimed the administration's voluntary plan "still embodies a great deal of compulsion."

"The penalties for non-participation would be so great that many wheat producers would have little freedom of choice," he added.

The Farm Bureau president said Congress should junk the administration's proposal and turn its attention to other programs which "permit market prices to serve as the dominant influence" in farm programs.

Presbyterian Church Officers Installed

During the communion service Sunday morning officers-elect were ordained and installed at the First Presbyterian church. Elected in a congregational meeting November 11, nine members have since been trained in a number of meetings to prepare to serve on the boards of the church.

Ordained and installed as ruling elder to serve on the session for three years were Warren O. Druetzler and Russell Freed; installed for three years as ruling elder having formerly been ordained was David A. Macklin; ordained and installed for two years to fulfill an unexpired term of C. S. Martinill was Gene Rash. For the office of deacon for three years, Mrs. Cleo Essex and Mrs. Warren Druetzler were ordained and installed. For the office of trustee of the corporation for terms of three years, George Bair, Roger Blackburn and Richard Green were recognized.

After the ordination and installation of officers the congregation received the sacrament of holy communion in reconsecration as individuals and as a people to the mission it was to render in the community and in the world for Christ.

Next Sunday the congregation will meet as a corporation to receive the annual reports which were mailed to every family and to act upon the budget for 1964. All members of the church are to be present for the meeting.

Johnson, Mexican President To Meet

LOS ANGELES UPI — A California Democratic leader said today that plans would be completed within a few days for a meeting here between President Johnson and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

Eugene Wyman, chairman of the state Democratic Central Committee, said he was flying to Washington this week to receive White House instructions on the Feb. 21-22 conference between the two chiefs of state.

Wyman said the purpose of the presidential conference, which has been described as a major international meeting, still was not known. He declined to give an opinion on what might be discussed by the two leaders.

Some sources speculated that the prime reasons might simply be to strengthen ties between the United States and Mexico. Both Johnson and Lopez Mateos — who have met personally three times previously — were reported to have insisted on keeping the meeting as informal as possible.

There also were reports that Los Angeles was selected as a meeting place because of its large Mexican-American population.

Wyman and Gov. Edmund G. Brown stated that the meeting would be "non-political" in nature and that all arrangements were being made in diplomatic circles.

It was reported Johnson will be accompanied by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Thomas C. Mann, former ambassador to Mexico and assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs.

A BRIDGED STORY—Usually, trains ride on bridges, but in one case a 256,770-pound steel railroad bridge traveled more than half a mile aboard a Southern Pacific train. Above, two 90-ton cranes balance the bridge on three flat cars prior to the trip to the Truckee River Canyon east of Reno, Nev., where the bridge was installed.
