

Studebaker Foresees Profitable 1964

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Studebaker Corp., which recently cut back its automobile production and moved it from here to Canada, is looking forward to a profitable 1964.

President Byers Burlingame same Wednesday he expects the firm to show a profit "now that automotive losses are sharply curtailed."

He conceded that the shift of car production to a plant at Windsor, Ont., would involve "very substantial losses" but said they would be charged to 1963 and the firm "will start 1964 with a clean slate." All of the company's 13 divisions, except the automobile division, showed a profit during 1963. The losses from automobile production, offsetting profits from the other divisions, were responsible for the move which left some 6,000 persons jobless here.

Burlingame also announced that the corporation's two-year-old $25 million revolving credit agreement with six major banks had been replaced by a $25 million secured loans plan. He said Studebaker also had established a new short-term $10 million revolving credit for a new subsidiary.

"I think the corporation's finances are now under control," he said. "We still have problems ahead but our present good earning capabilities from the diversified operations show success for the future.

"With our continuing automobile manufacturing program based in Canada, I cannot help but feel encouraged as to the future of Studebaker Corporation," he said.

Annual Meeting Of Church Held Sunday

The annual meeting of the congregation of Zion United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) was held Sunday morning in the church sanctuary, following a memorial service for the died during 1963. After brief remarks by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Feller, the names of the departed ones were read; they were, Henry Stauffer, John F. Mayer, Mrs. Carrie Heare, Rolland G. Poling, Tim Allen Murphy, and Joseph A. Rash. With the reading of a verse of scripture a lighted candle was placed on the chancel for each one. Assisting with the placing of the candles were Margaret Fritzinger, Cynthia Gehrig, Janet Lord, Lou Ann Meyer, Cheryl Miller, and Debra Snyder.

George Thomas, vice president of the official board, presided while the pastor read his 21st annual report. He noted an increase in attendance in the morning worship services, and an increase in membership. The average attendance on Sunday mornings in the worship services for the year was 303. Thirty-seven members were received, 22 were lost by death or transfer. The present membership of the congregation totals 575. He commended the work of the officers and members of the auxiliary organizations, and expressed appreciation to the teachers and officers of the church school and to the youth counselors for their labors.

Mrs. Adolph Weidner, secretary of the congregation, read the minutes of the last annual meeting. The report of the treasurer, Fred E. Kolter, was read by Ned Johnson, and showed that the congregation had done well in the financial department during the year. The budget for 1964 was presented by Gottlieb Stauffer. The estimated budget for 1964 amounts to $27,600, and was accepted.

Election of officers resulted in the electing of Joseph Hazelwood and Ned Johnson as elders for two-year terms; Fred Brokaw, Ronald Gerber, Hubert Isch, Harold Johnson and John Rawlinson, as deacons for two-year terms; and Harold Shoaf as trustee for a three-year term. These men, with elders Edward Jaberg and Wesley Lehman; deacons Lauren Arnold, Richard Linn, James Tumbleton, Paul Warthman, Robert Worthman; trustees Robert Yost, Lauges Meyer; financial secretary-treasurer, Fred E. Kolter; Women's Guild president, Mrs. Lawrence Rash; Sunday school superintendent, Leonard Egly, and the pastor, will constitute the members of the official board for 1964.

Wayne Burger, outgoing chairman of the deacons, served as chairman of the tellers, and was assisted by Lavern Roth, C. L. August, Miss Alice Roth, Miss Margaret Fruchte, Henry Heuer, and Raymond Snyder. An auditing committee, composed of Hubert Isch, Robert Mutschler and Richard Gehrig, was appointed. The newly elected officers will be installed during the worship service Sunday morning, and those who have not previously held the office will be ordained. The official board will meet for organization Monday at 7 p.m.

In September of 1963, Mrs. J. Fred Fruchte was honored and presented with a gift from the congregation in recognition of her 45 years of service as organist of the church.

Thomas K. Tricker Funeral On Friday

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Methodist church in Sturgis, Mich., for Thomas Kent Tricker, 16, of Sturgis, one of two youths killed in a two-car crash Tuesday night. The lad was a son of Mrs. Lenore Tricker and the late Kenneth Tricker, a former Decatur resident. One sister also survives. There are a number of relatives in Decatur and vicinity. Burial will be in Greenland cemetery at LaGrange.

Witnesses To Hold Three-Day Conference

Clyde D. Steele, presiding minister of the Decatur congregation of Jehovah's witnesses, announced today plans for a 3-day conference to be held in Hartford City, January 31 through February 2.

The 3-day meeting will stress the importance of Jesus' words to "Feed my little sheep." It is expected that there will be over 800 delegate-ministers in attendance to share and participate in special dramatized training and teaching methods.

Sen. Goldwater Says Missiles Not Dependable

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today that this nation's intercontinental ballistic missiles are not "dependable."

"... And I'll probably catch hell for saying this," said the Republican presidential hopeful. Goldwater, winding up a three-day campaign swing in New Hampshire, urged a defense posture utilizing manned aircraft.

"I am very fearful that we may get caught sometime with our airplanes down," he said. "We need to keep up our airplane capability," said Goldwater, an Air Force reserve general.

Goldwater said at a news conference that the United States' short range missiles "are dependable."

But, he said, "I wish the Defense Department would tell the people how dependable the long range missiles are."

"I can't tell you just how undependable they are," he said. "It's classified information."

"They're not dependable—the ICBMs—and I'll probably catch hell for saying this," Goldwater said.

Goldwater devoted part of the news conference to an attack on President Johnson's State of the Union message. He said the section of the message dealing with spending "simply does not square with the facts."

Goldwater accused Johnson of "a double-tongued way of putting his estimates for spending $97.9 billion next year."

"The trick is that President Johnson is using the requested and estimated figures of the Kennedy budget rather than the figures actually authorized by Congress. This Congress is truly economy minded. This administration is not," he said.

Goldwater said President Johnson implied in his State of the Union message "that we are deliberately going to cut down on military strength because the Communists might regard it as provocative if we are too strong."

"The only way we have ever halted Communist aggression is by letting them know we are strong enough to handle them, come what may. I don't think our great military strength should be trimmed just to make Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung feel better," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said, "Our strength doesn't provoke Communist aggression, it's the only way to deter it."

As the Arizona Republican wound up his three-day whirlwind tour of Southern New Hampshire, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York prepared to fly to Manchester for what was billed as a major campaign address tonight before the associated general contractors. Rockefeller's arrival in New Hampshire was expected a few hours after Goldwater's departure for Washington.

No-Smoking Edict Is Lauded By Bank

ROOSEVELT, N. Y. (UPI)—The following scene could be taking place today in any of the 50 branch offices of the Franklin National Bank, Long Island's largest financial institution:

Two of the bank's 1,150 employees, one a vice president, the other an office boy meet in the men's room. The vice president, smoke curling up from a corner, whispers in cloak-and-dagger tones, "Psst, can I have a drag?" After a couple of drags each on the cigarette both workers whip out their handkerchiefs and frantically wave the smoke away. They return to work looking like cats who ate the canary, for both have side-stepped a "no smoking" company rule instituted a month ago by the chairman of the board.

The no smoking rule — except in washrooms — was laid down by non-smoker Board Chairman Arthur Roth, who estimated the ban will save the bank $100,000 a year.

Roth told a stockholders meeting Wednesday that he banned smoking because he was concerned with the state of health of his employees. But he noted that the no smoking edict has had favorable side-effects.
