Hobbs Files Today

For Congress Race

In a whirlwind tour, Max Hobbs today officially filed for 4th district candidate for congress in the Democratic May primary in all eight counties of the 4th district. He filed with clerk George Bair at 8:40 a. m.

Although it is only necessary to file with the secretary of state, Hobbs declared that the gesture demonstrated his pledge to "visit every corner of every county."

Already Hobbs has met with national, state and local Democratic leaders and has a growing number of commitments for speeches throughout the eight-county area.

Hobbs has pledged to wage a dynamic campaign based on the need for "more active representation of the 4th district in congress and more effective support of President Lyndon Johnson's program."

In his travels throughout the various counties, Hobbs stressed that if elected he would strive for "more industrial development, more jobs, and a fair share of government contracts in the 4th district."
