Cyprus Rejects Ultimatum As Sent By Turks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The Cyprus government will reject Turkey's ultimatum that Turkish forces will invade Cyprus unless fighting on the island stops, an official spokesman said today.

The spokesman, quoted by the official Nicosia Radio, said the Turkish warning—contained in a note delivered here today—was "unacceptable."

The radio said the Cyprus government of President Archbishop Makarios also has told its United Nations representative to ask Secretary General Thant for a special meeting of the Security Council.

It said this request follows the "new Turkish threat of aggression."

New Fighting

The diplomatic moves were made as new fighting broke out in Nicosia and its suburbs. The British accused the Greek Cypriots of sporadic firing on its positions along the strategic Kyrenia Road shortly after dawn. Later, U.N. officials confirmed that Turkish Cypriots shot at Greek Cypriots within the city itself and the Greek Cypriots fired back in self-defense.

The Cyprus crisis seemed moving toward a showdown in four capitals.

"Last Chance"

The Turkish note, first issued in Ankara Thursday night, warned the Cyprus government that unless the "murder, pillage, robbery, arson, rape, torture, etcetera, are halted immediately... the Turkish government declares it will use its right to take unilateral action."

A Turkish spokesman said the note was Makarios' "last chance" to halt the fighting. Greek officials retorted they would "react promptly" if Turkey invades Cyprus.

A top-level government meeting in Athens ended with a Greek decision to "react immediately and with all available means to any Turkish action in Cyprus," a government source there said.

James Hoffa To Keep Up Fight On Conviction

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—James R. Hoffa's defense forces turned to appeals battles today in their effort to prevent the 31-year-old Teamsters president from serving eight years in a federal prison.

Hoffa, convicted on two counts of tampering with jurors, was sentenced to four consecutive years on each count Thursday, and fined $10,000 by U.S. District Court Judge Frank Wilson.

Hoffa immediately asked for a new trial, contending that U.S. marshals gave gifts to the eight-man, four-woman jury which convicted him after a marathon trial here ended last week.

Wilson, who gave defense attorneys 10 days to prepare appeals motions, took the new trial requests under advisement.

Will Continue Fight
Hoffa flew to Miami immediately after sentencing. He said on arrival, "I have been in fights all my life... I'm going to win this one and I'm going to show the world I'm right."

The Teamsters president and three codefendants were convicted of attempting to fix jurors during Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville, which ended in a mistrial with a deadlocked jury.

Anspaugh Speaks To Photographers

Lawrence E. Anspaugh, local professional photographer, appeared before members of the professional photographers association of Northern Illinois this week.

Anspaugh lectured the group, stressing the responsibilities of the portrait photographer to his community whether it be large or small. He pointed out the importance of extensive technical schooling and broad educational background involving the arts, business, psychology and other factors necessary for success not only in modern-day professional photography, but even more so in the future.

Anspaugh explained that young people choosing this field as a career should be made aware of these demands. The remainder of Anspaugh's two-hour program concerned wedding and child photography.

The PPANI has a membership of 150 studio owners, camera operators and equipment manufacturers from the Chicago metropolitan area and northern half of the state of Illinois.

Anspaugh appeared last year as a guest speaker on portraiture before the professional photographers of greater Louisville, Ky.

New York City Hall Picketed By Over 15,000

By United Press International

More than 15,000 parents, mostly white, picketed the New York City Hall Thursday in protest against a school integration plan.

Parading in unbroken lines of eight abreast around the building, the demonstrators waved placards and shouted, "No forced transfers." They were unsuccessful in attempts to talk with councilmen.

Earlier, a parents' delegation had met with education officials to oppose a proposal to send children out of their neighborhoods to other schools by bus in order to end racial imbalance in classrooms. The board said it would not change its plans.

The demonstrators, largely mothers, marched from education headquarters across the Brooklyn Bridge to City Hall in one of the largest demonstrations ever seen in the nation's largest city.

Also in New York Thursday, Malcolm Little, deposed top lieutenant of the Black Muslims who calls himself Malcolm X, called upon America's 22 million Negroes to learn how to use shotguns and rifles.

Malcolm, who has formed a new Black Nationalist Party, said there would be "more violence on the racial scene in 1964 than ever before..."

(and) Negroes must be taught how to defend themselves under attack." Malcolm said it was "dangerous and criminal for Negro leaders to stress the nonviolent approach."

Elsewhere in the nation: Jacksonville, Fla.: The FBI said five Ku Klux Klansmen were arrested Thursday night in connection with the bombing on Feb. 16 of the home of a Negro boy who integrated a white school.

Milwaukee, Wis.: Backers of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama Thursday reported an outpouring of grass roots support for Wallace's candidacy in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Washington: Southern senators accused backers of the civil rights bill Thursday with using the facilities of the Democratic Policy Committee to advance their case. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he hopes the Senate will agree to a show-down vote Wednesday on his motion to send the bill to a committee for a 10-day study.

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The Indiana State Bar Association announced today that the resignation of Robert E. Leonard, former Allen County Superior Court judge at Fort Wayne, as a member of the bar has been accepted by the State Supreme Court and Leonard is no longer licensed to practice law in this state.

Leonard submitted his resignation after the grievance committee of the Allen County Bar Association filed a report recommending disbarment. A grand jury at Fort Wayne indicted Leonard last Feb. 26 on two counts of embezzling funds.
