Some Observations

Thursday we received an unusual group of books through the mail from Cross World Books, Chicago. It included five small paperbacks by Nikita S. Khrushchev, and a catalog of books in English about the USSR, that have been imported from the USSR.

Being somewhat sophisticated, we have always read books ABOUT Russia by Americans with somewhat of a grain of salt, believing a large number of things to be exaggerated.

For example, we Americans have ridiculed the Russians for claiming to invent various different items which we use in everyday life, and have for years. This seemed to be somewhat peculiar.

So we looked through the catalog. Sure enough. Order Number D-380 was entitled, "Alexander Popov, Inventor of Radio" by M. Radovsky, Moscow, FLPH, 1957! Just below that was a title, "Nikolai Zhukovsky, Founder of Aeronautics"! And all these years we have believed in Marconi and the Write Brothers!

If our government ever wants to kill off Communism in the United States, it should just help circulate these pamphlets. Paul Bunyan and his blue ox, Babe, seem pretty tame alongside the Soviet whoppers.

In fact, we would advocate that every literate American worker read these books. You don't have to read very many pages to find out how far ahead we already are of the goals set for Russia! They are talking about bringing necessities for everyone. We already have many of the luxuries.

And that presents a problem with goal, "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs." Any average person in the United States long ago achieved all of his basic needs. Only those who have steadfastly refused education, training, help and experience lack basic needs. But how would you distribute the luxuries by need? How many mink coats does a woman need? Then should all women wear just plain cloth coats?

UCLA Opens Title Bid In NCAA Tourney

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

UCLA, the team that had everything during the regular season, opens its bid tonight for the NCAA major college basketball title.

The Uclans carry a perfect 26-0 mark into the Far West regionals, were named the No. 1 team in the nation by UPI's board of coaches and John Wooden was honored as coach of the year.

UCLA plays upstart Seattle in the nightcap of a doubleheader at Corvallis, Ore. Utah State meets San Francisco in the opening game.

Defending champion Loyola of Chicago goes against Michigan and Kentucky plays Ohio University in the Midwest regionals at Minneapolis, Minn.

In the East regionals, at Raleigh, N.C., Duke takes on Villanova and Princeton meets Connecticut, while Wichita tangles with Creighton and Texas Western is pitted against Kansas State at Wichita, Kan., in the Midwest regionals.

NYU finally mastered an opponent's all-court press and advanced to the quarter-final round. Happy Hairston topped the Violets with 29 points and Dave Bing had a Syracuse high of 31.

Evansville, gunning for its third NCAA small college title, advanced to the final round of the tourney at Evansville, Ind., by ripping the State College of Iowa, 82-67. The Aces meet un-rated Akron tonight for the championship. Akron disposed of North Carolina A&T, 57-48, in a semifinal game.

Sloan Leads Aces
Jerry Sloan led a parade of four Evansville scorers in double figures with 23 points. Randy Berentz and Bill Stevens each scored 14 points for Akron.

In NAIA tournament quarter-finals at Kansas City, Mo., Emporia (Kan.) disposed of High Point (N.C.), 90-78; top-seeded Pan American (Tex.) rolled to an 82-69 victory over Mansfield (Pa.). Rockhurst College of Kansas City ousted St. Mary's (Tex.), 59-54, and Carson-Newman (Tenn.) eliminated Central Oklahoma State, 61-55.

Coach Wooden figures UCLA can go all the way because "it's the best team I've ever coached." And Wooden UCLA has had a losing season. UCLA was beaten by Arizona State in an early Western regional game last year and lost to eventual champion Cincinnati in the 1962 semifinals. Seattle stunned Oregon State Tuesday night for its 21st win of the season.

San Francisco, which has won its last 18 games, takes a 22-4 record into the Utah State game. The Utes are 21-6. Loyola (21-4) has four members of its 1963 title team aiming for a semifinal berth at Kansas City, March 20. Opposing the Ramblers are Michigan's one-two scoring punch of Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, who led the Wolverines to a 20-4 record.

Nash Leads Kentucky
All America Cotton Nash leads Kentucky (21-4) against Ohio U. (20-5), which combines a fast-break with multiple defense systems. Kentucky has won the NCAA title four times.

Duke (23-4) and Villanova (23-3) headline the Raleigh contingent. Outstanding shooters are Duke's Jeff Mullins and Villanova's Wally Jones.

Princeton's All America Bill Bradley makes the Tigers (20-7) favorites over Connecticut (15-10), which upset Temple

150 Beer-Drinking Youths Tie Traffic

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Some 150 beer-drinking college students tied up traffic at a major downtown intersection here Thursday with an impromptu rally for their basketball team.

Police said the men and women students, mostly from the University of Akron, blocked traffic for more than an hour just before the evening rush as they stood and sat on top of cars and trucks and climbed utility poles and traffic lights to cheer for their school.

The students were here for the National Collegiate Athletic Association small college basketball tournament which will wind up tonight. Akron downed North Carolina A&T Thursday night to reach tonight's finals against Evansville.

Police, called away from preparations for a major Ohio River flood crest expected to reach here over the weekend, patiently tried to break up the party. They made only one arrest and the arrested student was released a few hours later after he apologized to officers.

"We understand how these kids feel," one officer said. "They're here for the NCAA basketball games and they expect to have a good time. But it just got completely out of hand."

Police were called to the scene by an outraged bystander who was hit on the head with a cup full of beer. Officers said most of the students had been drinking in taverns and finally emerged into the street for "one heck of a vocal contest."

They said the students spent most of the hour waving school banners, cheering, chanting "all the way with NCAA" and, in in a first round game. Wichita and Creighton enter their game with identical 23-5 records. The host Shockers have All America Dave Stallworth and Creighton sports the nation's leading rebounder, Paul Silas.

Texas Western (24-2) has Jim Barnes with a 30.7 scoring average going against Willie Murrell (21.9) for Kansas State, which won its last 11 games and enters the playoffs with a 20-5 record.

general, trying to shout each other.

Officers said the students jeered and taunted them when they tried to persuade them to return to the taverns for their drinking. The youth who was arrested was taken into custody when he refused for the fourth time to return to a tavern with a cup of beer.

Officers said he toasted them and then downed the beer in front of them.

An Akron student leader, who asked not to be identified, said he and his companions "hadn't really intended any sort of trouble."

He said, "This thing got out of hand so fast. All of a sudden there were six or seven men climbing the telephone poles. That fellow who was arrested deserved what he got. We all realize that and know we got off pretty light."

The incident was the second involving college students in Indiana in less than a week. Some 40 students from Hoosier College were arrested early Sunday at a wild party following a fraternity convention at a downtown Indianapolis hotel.
