

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Israel's Third International Bible Contest will be held in Jerusalem beginning Sept. 24, 1964. Participation from abroad is encouraged and is being arranged through radio and television stations in various countries.

Archaeological searchings are attempting to uncover the entire story concerning 966 Jews who chose suicide in the year A.D. 73 at Massada on the Dead Sea rather than be taken captive by the Roman army.

Plans for a Protestant "repentance church" to be built on the grounds of the notorious Nazi concentration camp at Dachau, near Munich, are announced by the Council of the Evangelical Church in Germany. The church will be a memorial shrine to all victims of the Hitler regime, but especially to the 300,000 persons, mostly Jews, who were killed in the camp. Among the victims were more than 1,000 Roman Catholic and Protestant clergymen.

A new anthology of the Bible for use in public school literature, history, and social studies courses has been prepared under the joint editorship of a Roman Catholic priest, Protestant educator, and Rabbi. The publication of the anthology is planned during this year. Called Bible Selections for General Education, the source book presents information on the major religious traditions of the nation through essays, maps, and charts. Selections from various translations of the Bible in English illustrate development of the English language and the growth of Biblical scholarship.

1. Which writer of the New Testament had much to say about Christian giving?
2. Which apostle had his head shorn?
3. What two Christian workers were thought to be gods?
4. Who said, "I though he slay me, yet will I trust him?"
5. What miracle happened in the sepulchre of Elisha?
