Lafayette Is Indiana Prep Net Champion

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press International

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Lafayette's Marion Crawley finally had his fourth Indiana high school basketball championship ring today and there was bad news for his rival coaches—he isn't about to call it quits.

Not just yet. Crawley piloted the bucking Bronchos — his best-shooting team ever—to the title Saturday night with a thrill-packed 55-55 victory over dead-gum Huntington in as well played a title game as this 50-year-old shoot has ever seen.

That tied the 55-year-old Crawley with Everett Case and the late Glenn Curtis for the most titles ever won. It also was Lafayette's third title and its first since 1948, also under Crawley.

Crawley also coached Washington to the title in 1941 and 1942. He did it this time just three days after he was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame, thus closing out a memorable week for the veteran of 33 years of coaching.

However, it could have gone either way for eighth-rated Huntington which upset unbeaten and top-seeded Columbus in the afternoon, 71-67, gave second-ranked Lafayette fits until the final gun with a sticky zone defense and the pinpoint passing and scoring of little Mike Shumaker and Phil Underhill.

Lead By Eight
Huntington's Central Conference co-champs led 26-18 early in the second period, thanks primarily to Lafayette's failure to penetrate the zone or shoot over it.

Lafayette's North Central Conference champs cut the margin to 37-35 at the half and took the lead for good when Trester Medal winner Mike Weaver went to the bench with four personal fouls.

Steve Ricks gave Lafayette a 56-50 lead with 5-29 to go and Lafayette went into a semi-stall with enough points to hang on. Dave Morrison's fielder with nine seconds left was the insurance basket.

Denny Brady's long-range shooting led Lafayette with 17 points, Ricks had 13 and Terry Stillabower, a deadly shooter from the corner, had 10. Underhill and Shumaker with 20 and 18, respectively, paced Huntington.

Crawley said his 1948 team was better defensively, "but no team can compare with these boys on hitting the basket. This is the greatest shooting team I've ever had."

"It's a thrill to put a team on the floor in a championship game and to win it is the greatest thing that can happen to any coach," he added.

Crawley said he was looking forward to a little vacation "but I hope I can last another four or five years, at least."

Crawley didn't think there was a turning point in the title game but Huntington coach Bob Straight disagreed.

Weaver Loss Hurt
"The fact Weaver was out of there in the third period made the difference," he said. "That's when they got those second and third shots."

Lafayette beat state finals newcomer Evansville Rex Mundi in the afternoon, 74-61, with a flurry of fourth period baskets.

But Huntington stole the thunder in the afternoon by nailing 27-game winner Columbus with

Decatur Dog Wins First Place Honors

A rare Hungarian Vizsla, Grindl of Brok Povaia, owned and shown by Gerald Gehrig, of 1104 Master Drive, won first place honors in the puppy bitch class for six-nine month old puppies in the Springfield, O., show held recently.

This same rare breed of dog took top honors and won a first place trophy in an Indianapolis show Sunday where 1,283 animals were entered.

Gehrig's 11-year-old son Randy showed skillful handling in junior showmanship in the Indianapolis contest, and topped second place out of 20 children in the 10 to 13 age group. A fifth grade student at Northwest elementary school, Randy showed his dog Grindl.

Mark Peterman Named Earlham Net Coach

RICHMOND, Ind. (UPI) — Mark Peterman was announced today as Earlham College's new basketball coach.

Peterman, 29, has been coach at Tri-State College at Angola the past three seasons, posted a 43-19 won-lost record and won two Mid-Central Conference championships. He is a graduate of Butler University.

Peterman succeeds Thurman Wright, who resigned after four seasons and a 24-67 record.

a red-hot .603 shooting percentage and four players in double figures.

Jerry Newsom, the 6-6 center for Columbus, drew his fourth personal foul early in the third period with the score tied at 38-38 and that made the difference, said Coach Bill Stearnman, because Newsom had to back off and couldn't move as freely.

Columbus thus became the third unbeaten team to lose in the afternoon round of the state finals. The others were Springs Valley in 1958 and Madison two years ago. It also left Indianapolis Attacks in 1956 and South Bend Central in 1957 the only state champs with perfect records.

Huntington made the title game for the first time but it was the seventh time for Lafayette—second only to five-time state champ Muncie Central which has been there 10 times.

Muncie was the defending champion but a suspension forced the Bearcats to surrender the crown without firing a shot. However, Lafayette's victory assured the NCC of its third title in the last four years and its 19th overall.

Craft Hopeful Houston Colts To Be Better

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of 20 dispatches on the prospects of the 1964 major league baseball teams.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

COCOA, Fla. (UPI) — The lowly Houston Colts are "coupling two of baseball's oldest ingredients, youth and age, in the hope of coming up with a winning formula."

They added experience in off season deals in an attempt to help mature the youngsters who constitute the club's blueprint for the future.

So pleased is Manager Harry Craft with the acquisition of second baseman Nellie Fox, shortstop Eddie Kasko and pitcher Jim Owens that he honestly feels the Colts could finish as high as sixth in the coming National League race.

If they do, it would be quite a feat for they finished eighth their first year in the league and ninth last year.

"We still are going to have trouble scoring runs," Craft predicted, "but we aren't going to give away as many as we did last year. That's why I feel we have a good chance of finishing ahead of the Mets, Cubs and Pirates. The other six clubs will be tougher to beat, but I think we have a good shot at beating out one of them."

Will Need Rest
Craft admits that both Fox, acquired after a brilliant stretch with the Chicago White Sox, and Kasko, who had several fine years with the Cincinnati Reds, will need rest. Fox is 36, Kasko 32.

Bob Lillis, whom Craft regards as one of the best utility infielders in the league, will be available to relieve them when they need rest.

Rounding out the infield will be the veteran Pete Runnels, the former American League batting champion who had a disappointing 1963, at first base and Bob Aspromonte at third.

That setup frees one of the potential stars of the Colts, 20-year-old Rusty Staub, for duty in right field. Last year, Staub was tried and found wanting at first base.

"But don't sell him short," warns Craft. "He's going to be one of our stars of tomorrow, just like Jim Wynn (an outfielder who is 22) and John Batten (a 21-year-old catcher)."

Staub will start the season in right field and Wynn in the key center field spot. They didn't supply much batting power last year, Staub hitting only .224 and Wynn .244.

Left field is up for grabs with Al Spangler and Johnny Weekly the leading candidates. Big Walt Bond, who couldn't make it with the Cleveland Indians, might win an outfield utility spot, going to right if Staub should fail or take over for Runnels at first. Veteran Howie Goss and rookie Jim Beauchamp are other outfield possibilities.

Craft is really high on his young catchers, starting off with Bateman who hit only .211 last year, but occasionally rapped out a long ball. Behind him are three kids fighting for jobs—20-year-old Dave Adlesh, 21-year-old Gerry Grote and 20-year-old John Hoffman.

Craft has three starting pitchers—right-handers Dick Farrell (14-13 last year); Ken Johnson (11-17) and Don Nottebart (11-8).

For his bullpen punch he has left-hander Hal Woodeshick (11-9) and right-hander Claude Raymond, a draftee who was 4-6 with Milwaukee last year.

Hal (Skinny) Brown (5-11) and Bob Bruce (5-9) are other starting possibilities along with Owens, who was 0-2 with Cincinnati in 1963.

Fort Wayne Girl Is 'Miss Cheerleader'

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla. (UPI) — Jeanie Carroll, 20, Fort Wayne, Ind., a brown-eyed, blonde Indiana University coed, Sunday was named "Miss Cheerleader U.S.A."

Bradley Whips New Mexico In Finals Of NIT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob King, the New Mexico basketball coach, was more embarrassed than mad after Bradley had defeated his Lobos, 86-54, for the National Invitation Basketball Tournament championship.

And Chuck Orsborn, the Braves' coach, knew exactly how King was feeling.

Orsborn, who guided the Braves to their third NIT title in the last eight years, said the difference at Madison Square Garden last Saturday was a simple man-to-man defense.

"It was the best defense we played all year, especially in the first half," he said. "We were aggressive without too many fouls."

Bradley's defense also was the precise cause of King's embarrassment because New Mexico had entered the tournament as the nation's leading defensive team, having allowed just 55.7 points per game during the 1963-64 season.

Close Only Briefly

The New Mexico-Bradley game, close only in the opening minutes, was a complete opposite from the consolation game won by Army over NYU 60-59, when Mike Silliman made a one-hander with five seconds left.

The championship game changed completely when New Mexico center Ira Harge went to the bench with three personal fouls after eight minutes of play.

Bradley went on a 12-2 spurt right after that with the game's high scorer, Joe Strawder, and the tourney's MVP, Lavern Tart, leading an offensive which eventually gave the Braves a 32-22 lead at halftime. Strawder wound up with 21 points.

New Mexico never came back and Bradley gradually increased its lead to the game winning margin of 32 points. Army's victory for third place was its third upset in a tournament which had nothing but thrillers until the title game.

Earlier Victories

Earlier, the unseeded Cadets had beaten St. Bonaventure, 64-62, and Duquesne, 67-65, in overtime before losing to Bradley in the semifinals.

The Cadets were underdogs again for the NYU game mainly because they had lost to the Violets, 86-66, at West Point in a regular season game.

But Silliman led Army with 24 points and had help from Dick Murray with 24. Barry Kramer, who carried the NYU offensive load after Happy Hairston missed the second half with a back injury, was the game's leading scorer with 28 points.

Tart, who said he was "surprised and happy" with the MVP award, also headed the all-tournament team selected for United Press International by writers covering the 27th annual classic.

He was the only unanimous choice on a first team which included Steve Courtin of St. Joseph's (Pa.), Hairston, Harge and McCoy McLemore of Drake.

UCLA Defeats Duke For NCAA Championship

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Coach Dave Strack's Michigan Wolverines, who boast many of the characteristics which carried UCLA to a perfect season, loomed today as the logical long-range choice to succeed UCLA as the national collegiate basketball champions.

The Wolverines, who won the third place title in last weekend's 26th annual NCAA championships with a 100-90 consolation victory over Kansas State, lost only one of the five quick youngsters who carried the load for the Big Ten champs.

But Coach John Wooden's "perpetual motion" UCLA Bruins, with their amazing speed, sticky zone press defense and deceptive rebounding, may also hustle their way back to the championship finals where they demoralized Duke 98-83 last Saturday night.

Wooden loses All-America guard Walt Hazzard, center Fred Slaughter and forward Slaughter and forward Jack Hirsch from his battling Bruins, who became only the third NCAA champion in history to complete an untarnished season (30-0).

Good Team Returning

But Wooden concedes he will have a "pretty good team" next winter with starting juniors Gail Goodrich and Keith Erickson coming back as seniors and spectacular sophomore Kennedy Washington—the sixth starter — returning for an expected brilliant second chapter in a promising career.

Duke's Vic Bubas and Kansas State's Tex Winter also will have some strong holdover strength. But if they are to make the 1965 final big four a repeat of this year's championship, they will have to come up with an unexpected talent.

Michigan loses only outside bombardier Bob Cantrell from the team which finished the season with a 23-5 record.

Strack, a quiet, stoical coach, admits he looks forward to next season with center Bill Buntin, the tournament's high scorer with 52 points, flashy Cazzie Russell and steady Larry Trenggoss and Oliver Darden coming back.

All-Tourney Team

Buntin, who scored 33 points in the consolation victory over K-State when Russell sat out the game with an aggravated ankle injury, made the all-tour-
