Frenchmen Kick On De Gaulle Handouts

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle of France is trying to play "Uncle Sugar" too much and too often.
He has been getting a lot of political mileage by showing that France, in proportion to its population, hands out more foreign aid than any other country — including the United States.
Now, as De Gaulle sets out to win more friends and influence more people with additional largesse to Latin America, Frenchmen are beginning to kick at picking up the tab.
A hefty debate has been launched in the French press over assertions that De Gaulle's program of economic handouts is bleeding France dry.

Money Squandered Charged
It is being charged that France is squandering money on palaces and armies for African rulers that could well be put to use on highways, schools and housing for this country.
It is being asked why Frenchmen should pay out aid funds to Latin America when millions still are without proper housing in France itself.
De Gaulle is well aware of the mounting storm of criticism. He tried to head it off in part in his Jan. 31 news conference by emphasizing the importance of France's foreign aid effort.
He plans a counterattack against critics of his foreign

Three Are Arrested For Dynamite Trap

MIAMI (UPI) — A railroad union official and 10-year employee of the Florida East Coast Railway was arrested Wednesday and charged with setting a 50-pound dynamite bomb trap on a track south of Vero Beach March 12.

Three other men were arrested within hours after the dynamite bomb was rigged under the noses of FBI agents who had staked out the tracks on a tip from an informer. But a fourth man escaped, agents said.

John Katsikos, 40, recording secretary for Local 555 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men at Miami, was apparently the fourth man.

Katsikos was charged both with conspiracy to set the dynamite trap and with actually placing the bomb on the railroad trestle spanning a canal south of Vero Beach.
After FBI agents watched the bomb being set from their hiding places near the trestle, they said they followed Joseph Leo Vetter of Miami and John Wesley into Fort Pierce and arrested them. The next day, Hugh Winn of Miami was arrested.
All three were former FEC employees and members of operating railroad unions. They are awaiting trial on federal train wreck charges under $50,000 bond each.

Agents said Katsikos, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, was formerly employed by the sabotage-plagued FEC for 10 years as a car inspector.
He lost his FEC job after the carrier was struck Jan. 23, 1963, by members of 11 non-operating unions. The operating unions, including the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men, have refused to cross the picket lines set up by the non-operating unions.

aid program in a series of speeches during a meet- the-people tour of northeastern France in April.

Goes To Former Colonies
France currently is spending more than $1.2 billion annually on foreign aid. Although the United States spends nearly three times that amount, it does, in fact, make France per head of population and in relation to her national income the world's largest dispenser of foreign aid.

Nearly all of it goes at the moment to France's former African colonies.
By far the greatest proportion of this—more than $200 million annually—is given to Algeria under the 1962 Evian agreement, which gave the former French North African position independence.

But it is being asked now why France has sent nearly 30,000 school teachers to Africa—14,650 of them to Algeria—at the French taxpayer's expense when French schools and universities are desperately undermanned.

Five Persons Dead As Boat Is Capsized

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Coast Guard resumes a search today for a possible fifth victim of an ill-fated tourist fishing party that was flung into the treacherous waters of Boynton Inlet from a capsized boat.

Sheriff's deputies searched without success along beaches Wednesday night for Jerry Sapp, 20, of Fort Lauderdale, the only one of 20 passengers and crewmen of the drift fishing boat Two Georges not accounted for.

The 65-foot boat was bowled over by an 18 to 20 foot wave as it entered the inlet from a deep sea fishing trip Wednesday.

"I tried to beat it in, throttling the whole way, it was just too close. It kept sucking the boat... it caught us on the bottom and rolled us right over on the port side," said Capt. James (Bill) Stevens from his hospital bed.

"There was nothing I could do. Nature had its way."
The dead were Harry Williams, about 65 of Lyndhurst, Ohio; Ernest Jeffries, about 70, of Boynton Beach, a retired Cleveland, Ohio, burial vault manufacturer; Mrs. Ernest (Mary Agnes) Whitman, about 70, of East Boston, Mass., and Louis Paletta, 79, of rural Medford, N.J.

Three others of the 15 survivors were hospitalized with Stevens, 46, a skipper in Florida waters for 25 years.
His two crewmen aboard the drift fishing vessel, Don Lashchuk, 19, and Jim Scarborough, 20, both of Boynton Beach, survived.

The mishap occurred just offshore from the inlet, where the water often is the roughest.
Scarborough said the first giant wave which overran the Two Georges as it headed into the inlet to get to the intracoastal waterway cast the craft broadside.

"The next swell capsized us," said the mate.
The mate said the boat was bowled over by an 18 to 20 foot wave as it entered the inlet from a deep sea fishing trip Wednesday.

Jacksonville Seeks To Form Bi-Race Group

By United Press International

Negro and white businessmen in Jacksonville, Fla., worked today toward establishing a bi-racial committee to deal with racial problems magnified by a series of clashes that left one person dead and a score injured.

In other major racial activity, Negro and white demonstrators ignored a tornado threat and a warning of arrest to march in the rain to open a new voter registration drive in Greenwood, Miss. There were no incidents.
In Washington, a Pentagon survey reported housing discrimination in 90 per cent of the communities near big military bases and public accommodations discrimination at about 50 per cent. A spokesman said of the discrimination: "There is not much difference, North, East, South or West."

Trying To Talk
Robert Millus, a Jacksonville businessman, said the bi-racial committee would be organized "to lay down the lines of communications which have been choked in the city."

"The communications lines here between the races have eroded," he said. "We are trying desperately to keep up a conversation between whites and Negroes."

Jacksonville is the second largest city in Florida. It is a seaport and has enjoyed a growing economy. It was struck by a wave of violence and vandalism Monday that continued sporadically through Wednesday.

A white man, Lester Phillips, 51, was struck by a brick Wednesday during an attack by 12 to 15 young Negroes. His condition was described as fair in St. Luke's Hospital.

Negro Woman Shot
At the height of the violence on Monday, a Negro woman was shot to death from a passing automobile. A total of 320, mostly Negro, teen-agers, have been arrested.

The city gave signs of settling down Wednesday and police Inspector W. L. Bates said only five adult Negroes were arrested Wednesday in connection with racial incidents.

At Greenwood, city policemen and auxiliary officers stood guard around the Leflore County Courthouse as some 120 pickets, including several white out-of-state ministers, marched around the building.

There were no attempts at arrest despite earlier warnings that picketing would not be tolerated. Negro applicants filed inside the courthouse in groups of two to take voter registration tests required by law.

New Orleans: David Dennis, a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said, Wednesday the FBI is not doing the job it should do in Mississippi and that it would form its own investigative team to look into reports of violence. Dennis said the team would look into reports that as many as eight Negroes have been killed in recent months "under mysterious circumstances."

Columbia, S. C.: A woman delegate threw the South Carolina Democratic convention into an abrupt adjournment Wednesday when she urged greater participation by Negroes in party affairs. The suggestion by Mrs. Albert H. Holt of Clemson was met first by silence then by loud boos and catcalls.

New York: New York City school principals have rejected the plan to transport children by bus to schools in neighborhoods other than their own as an answer to de facto classroom segregation. The Council of Supervisory Associations said the plan "will drive the middle class Negro and Puerto Rican and white, out of the public schools and thus

Says New Book Of Etiquette Needed

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Why this country needs a new book of etiquette. Right, Emily Particularly is this true of the chapter on introductions.

In my lifetime thus far I probably have been introduced to 5,000 people and I would guess that 5,000 others have been introduced to me.

Yet I have never once learned anyone's name during a formal introduction. Names uttered at those moments leave no more impression on my brain than the college algebra classes I once attended.

If the hostess at a cocktail party introduces me to one of the guests, I always have to slide up to the hostess later and whisper "What did you say that fellow's name was?" That's if I'm lucky.

In most cases she wanders off and leaves me stuck with the person whose name I didn't catch. Then another guest will join us and ask to be introduced.

I'll concede that my memory could never compete in an adhesive contest with the cheaper grades of flypaper. But I do say that I can ordinarily remember words no longer than most proper names for at least 15 seconds after I hear them.

I blame the mental blackout that I experience during introductions on the cumbersome procedure set forth in the etiquette books for performing this function.

As soon as an introduction begins, I immediately start trying to decide how I am going to acknowledge it—whether I am going to say "How do you do," "Pleased to meet you," or "Charmed, I'm sure."

It is this preoccupation with the ritual of the introduction that causes me to miss the names. And the same is true when I am performing an introduction.

I get so intent on trying to remember whether the lady is introduced to the man, or whether the older person is introduced to the younger, that I forget the names of the people I am introducing.

With friends this is embarrassing and when one of the names that slip your mind happens to belong to the woman you married it is downright painful.

Which is why I say that what this country needs is a new book of etiquette. The rules should be rewritten to require that when two or more persons are introduced they must cement the acquaintance by Indian wrestling.

You will never forget the name of anyone you have bested at Indian wrestling, or of anyone who has bested you. Besides that, it helps get a cocktail party off to a good start.

Special Services At Mt. Hope Church

Special services will be held at the Mt. Hope Church of the Nazarene Saturday and Sunday. Larry Brown, a ministerial student at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., will be special speaker at the services, 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Frank D. Voss, pastor, extends a welcome to the public to attend these services, sponsored by the young people's society. The church is located five miles east and one mile north of Berne.

make impossible the upgrading of our schools."
St. Augustine, Fla.: Negro and white integrationists from New England began a "vigil of prayer and fasting" in a church Wednesday. They also picketed an information booth asking tourists to bypass the 400-year-old city and held a rally to protest jailing of a group of young Negroes. Police said there was no trouble.
