Ex-County Agent Is Lions Speaker

Saturday noon has been set as the checkout deadline for the Decatur Lions Ladies Night, next Monday evening which will feature an outstanding group of singers from Purdue University Center, Fort Wayne. In making their reservations Lions are to include all guests.

Former Adams county agriculture extension agent L. E. Archbold was the featured speaker at Monday evening's Lions club meeting. Speaking on "How to prepare for retirement," Archbold stressed two major needs: "(1) Select an activity or group of activities. (2) If you are married, make your plans for retirement with the help of your wife to assure accord rather than discord." During the years he was a county agriculture agent Archbold said he would see farmers retire, move to town and in five years or less be dead and buried—apparently because of a sudden change of routine in everything except eating. Because women seldom really retire but continue keeping house no matter where they live or what their husbands do, Archbold said, they generally outlive their husbands.

Mr. and Mrs. Archbold have made travel their main retirement activity and have traveled from Canada to various parts of Mexico—much of the time of late with a house trailer with which they visit and live in many kinds of trailer courts. Archbold showed pictures taken in both Canada and Mexico. Included in his Mexican pictures were some excellent shots of the pyramids, temples and sports areas of the ancient civilization of Yucatan which in many ways was as great as the civilization of ancient Egypt but to this day is covered with mystery as to who the people really were that promoted it. Don Farr, a charter member of the Decatur club, was a guest at the meeting and spoke briefly on recollections of the Decatur Lions charter night held at the old country club in 1926.

Soviet Growth Rate Lagging In Industry

MOSCOW (UPI)—New government figures showed today that Russia's current industrial growth rate is the lowest since the start of the seven-year economic plan.

Some Western economic experts here attributed the drop to vast new investments in a drive to boost the production of chemicals.

The figures also showed a decrease in labor productivity, although most of the items in the industrial sector exceeded the state quotas.

The economic trends were contained in a report from the Soviet Union's Central Statistical Board covering the first quarter of 1964.

The massive drive for more chemicals was announced last year by Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The chemicals will be used for certain consumer goods and extensively for fertilizer to bolster the country's lagging agriculture.

The report disclosed that the Soviet industrial growth rate is "about 8 per cent." This compares with the 8.2 per cent figure for a like period published last April. In April, 1962, the rate was listed at "more than 9 per cent."

Even so, the Soviets claim that the nation's economy is outstripping the United States.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is one of 139 investor-owned electric companies throughout the country sponsoring the Tower of Light pavilion at the New York World's Fair opening today. The greatest concentration of exposition lighting of its kind in the world—12 billion candlepower—soars skyward from the pavilion. The spectacular structure consists of hundreds of aluminum prisms rising from a glittering reflecting pool to a height of 80 feet at center. At night, the building will be bathed in multi-colored ever changing light produced by 1,000 lamps. Inside, visitors will see a musical featuring a cast of three-dimensional electrically automated figures who "sing the story of the magic of electric power."
