

Duffer's Divots:

Democrat Cops City Title

By Dick Reidenbach
The Decatur Daily Democrat golf team copped the 1964 City Golf League crown for the second consecutive year Sunday in the play-off match with Gerber's Super Dollar Market at the Decatur Golf Course.

The Democrat team, winners of the first half city league competition, defeated Gerber's, second half winners, 11 and 1 in the 18-hole championship finals.

The single point won by Gerber's was won by John Baumann, captain, when he chipped one in from the edge of the final green to the Bob Helm with 77. Ironically, when these two last met throughout the season, Helm dropped one in from off the edge of the final green to beat Baumann in their match.

Democrat members Neil Highland, John Pfister and Dick Reidenbach each won their match. Highland upended Carl Gerber 80 to 86. Gerber shot an actual 94 and received an 8 shot spot from Highland. Highland had rounds of 40-40, while Gerber shot rounds of 50-44. Pfister defeated John Smith 77 to 88 on rounds of 40-37. Smith fired 46-hole spot giving him a net of 88. Reidenbach had rounds of 43-36 for 79 with a 2 stroke spot giving him a 77 net while Kenny Gaun skied to a 98 actual on rounds of 48-50. Helm put together rounds of 38-39, while his opponent, Baumann, fired rounds of 39-38 for their 77 tie as the two played their match even.

Three Share Low Medalist
Three golfers shared low medalist honors for the championship finals with 77.

Bob Helm and John Pfister, both members of the Democrat team, and John Baumann, captain of Gerber's, each fired rounds of 77, to lead the 8 golfers for low honors.

Cleveland Mayor Is Ready For Battle

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Mayor Ralph Locher said Monday he was ready to "move heaven and earth" to keep the Indians in Cleveland.

Locher said he would begin an immediate and vigorous campaign to assure the Tribe of staying in the city. His statement came after Tribe President and General Manager Gabe Paul said the team might be forced to move because of mounting financial losses.

Paul said the board of directors would meet soon to decide the future of the team. Locher countered by saying he would contact Paul and board Chairman William R. Daley immediately to offer whatever civic aid is needed to help the team stay here.

According to latest reports, the Indians will be transferred to Seattle, Wash. But Paul said he had not contacted any other city about the proposed move.

However, Paul added that several cities have contacted him with offers to move the team to their city.

Reserve Teams Play At Worthman Tonight

Vikings Only Unbeaten 11; Lions In Swap

By United Press International

The tinsel crowns — four of 'em, because of ties — have been passed out to the exhibition game "champions" of pro football and from here on they play for keeps with both the National Football League and American Football League opening their seasons on Saturday.

The Minnesota Vikings were the surprise kings of the NFL in the pre-season competition, the only team in either league to post a perfect record—5-0—in exhibition games.

The San Diego Chargers, Kansas City Chiefs, and New York Jets tied for the mythical title in the AFL, each with a 4-1 record.

The NFL's regular 1964 season opens with a single game Saturday night in which the St. Louis Cardinals visit the Dallas Cowboys. All the other NFL teams swing into action Sunday with the defending champion Chicago Bears at Green Bay, Eastern champion New York Giants at Philadelphia, Baltimore at Minnesota, Cleveland at Washington, Detroit at San Francisco, and Los Angeles at Pittsburgh.

The AFL has two games Saturday night — Denver at New York and Houston at San Diego. On Sunday, it's Kansas City at Buffalo, and Boston at Oakland.

Cut Down Players

One of the main jobs in all camps this week is cutting down to player limits.

The Detroit Lions cut down by trading players for future draft choices. On Saturday they sent halfback Larry Vargo and defensive tackle Mike Bundra to the Vikings for two such choices, and on Monday they swapped veteran linebacker Carl Brettschneider to the Steelers for another.

The Vikings made room for their two ex-Lions by dropping two one-year men, defensive tackle Pat Russ of Purdue and guard Jim Battle of Southern Illinois.

The Steelers acquired Brettschneider because two of their key linebackers were injured in Sunday's exhibition game against Baltimore. Veteran Myron Pottios was lost probably for the entire season with a fractured arm and Bob Harrison, recently acquired from Philadelphia, was lost for two to three weeks with a shoulder separation.

Here's what happened in this weekend's final exhibition games:

NFL: On Saturday, Minnesota beat Philadelphia 21-20, on Fran Tarkenton's TD pass, with 11 seconds left and Bill Brown's extra point kick; Detroit beat New York, 24-10, and Jim Brown's two touchdowns gave Cleveland a 20-17 win over Green Bay in a doubleheader at Cleveland; Washington downed St. Louis, 17-10; Los Angeles beat San Francisco, 21-17, on Bill Munson's late TD pass; and the champion Bears beat Dallas, 21-6, on Sunday, Baltimore crushed Pittsburgh, 48-17.

AFL: On Saturday, Dick Wood's TD aerial gave New York a 19-17 win over Buffalo; Denver handed Boston its 12th straight exhibition loss, 28-17; and San Diego downed Oakland, 24-10.

Maxwell Is Suspended From Tournament Play

DALLAS (UPI)—Billy Maxwell, the Texas pro registering out of Indianapolis, was suspended from tournament competition for a month Monday by the Professional Golfers Association for what tournament supervisor Joe Black called "conduct unbecoming a tournament player."

The action was taken for profanity used by Maxwell at the 18th green scoring table Saturday after completing his second round of play in the Dallas Open.

Maxwell finished the tournament with a 282 and a tie for 28th place, worth $227.21.

Maris' Splurge Tightens Race; Phillies Near N.L. Pennant

By TIM MURIARTY

UPI Sports Writer

An old standby has popped up to lend a hand in the Yankees' new pennant push.

Roger Maris, who has collected a World Series check every autumn since joining the Yankees in 1960, is ripping the ball at a near 500 clip these days as Yogi Berra's embattled crew keep closing in on the Baltimore Orioles and the Chicago White Sox.

The slugging right fielder rapped four hits, including a run-scoring double in the 11th inning, to earn the Yankees a 5-4 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday. The second game of their morning-night holiday twinbill was rained out and was rescheduled for tonight.

The Yankees' triumph, the 11th in their last 15 games, carried them to within 1½ games of pace-setting Baltimore and left them one game back of Chicago. More important, the Berra men now are even in the loss column with the Orioles and have lost two less games than the White Sox.

Maris' Splurge
Maris' holiday splurge gave him 15 hits in 33 at-bats during his last eight games, enabling him to raise his average to .288. It couldn't come at a better time, for Mickey Mantle, the other half of the Yankees' "M and M" combination, has garnered only two hits in his last 11 at-bats.

In Monday's game, a solo homer by Tony Kubek and a two-run blast by Maris (his 21st) helped stake Jim Bouton to a 4-0 lead. The Twins deadlocked the score with four runs in the eighth, highlighted by a pinch two-run homer by Bob Allison, who had been benched because he had only three hits in his previous 35 appearances.

Kubek launched the Yankees' 11th inning rally with a single, moved up on a bunt by Bobby Richardson and came home on Maris' two-out double down the right field line off Al Worthington (5-3). Hal Reniff (5-3), the fifth of seven New York pitchers, was the winner.

The Orioles regained first place by splitting a pair of 6-1 decisions with the Kansas City A's while the White Sox dropped 3-0 and 6-2 verdicts to the Washington Senators to fall a half game behind. The Los Angeles Angels turned back Boston twice 4-1 and 4-3 in 11 innings, and the Cleveland Indians whipped the Detroit Tigers 7-2.

Wally Bunker, the Orioles' year-old righthander, spaced six hits in gaining his 15th victory in 19 decisions in the opener at Kansas City. Boog Powell collected the 200th homer off K.C. pitchers this season, a major league record. In the second game, Jim Gentile knocked in four runs with two homers against his former Baltimore teammates.

Bennie Daniels blanked the White Sox on five hits and Dave Stenhouse added eight more innings of shutout pitching in the second game before Chicago pushed across two runs with the help of a wild pitch and a passed ball. The White Sox also were frightful in the field, committing four errors in the second game. Chuck Hinton banged out a single, double and triple for Washington in the opener.

Angels Sweep Sox

The Angels completed their sweep over the Red Sox on rookie Jack Hiatt's bases-loaded single in the 11th. Los Angeles had tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth when Willie Smith tripled off Dick Radatz with the bases full. Dean Chance posted his 18th victory and lowered his earned run average to 1.55 in the opener, after the Angels were outlasted 7-2. Bob Rodgers hit an inside-the-park homer after Joe Adcock singled for the Angels' first hit in the eighth inning.

Sam McDowell limited the Tigers to five hits and struck out eight to bring his record to 7-6. Woody Held sparked Cleveland's 11-hit attack with three safeties, including a two-run homer off Dennis McLain (3-5).

Walter Brown, Celt Owner, Dies Monday

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI)—Walter A. Brown, co-owner of America's most dominating professional sports team in history and a longtime friend of amateur sports around the world, died suddenly Monday night less than 24 hours after suffering a heart attack.

Brown, co-owner and president of the world champion Boston Celtics and president and co-owner of the Boston Bruins, died at Cape Cod Hospital here after suffering what physicians described as a "massive coronary attack."

The genial 59-year-old Brown who was instrumental in founding the National Basketball Association, was admitted to the hospital early Monday after being stricken at his summer home in nearby Centerville.

He had returned from a business trip to Toronto and New York City last Saturday.

Brown's personal physician, Dr. George Bourne, and a Boston heart specialist, Dr. Edmund Callahan, diagnosed the famed sportsman's ailment as "coronary insufficiency."

DiGravio Paces Indy Warriors To Triumph

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI)—The Indianapolis Warriors kept their United Football League record clean Saturday night with an easy 45-13 victory over winless Joliet in the second game for both clubs.

Roger Lopes paced the Warriors with three touchdowns—one on a 45-yard pass from quarterback Ron DiGravio and two others on runs of 20 yards and one yard. Willie Jones scored twice on short plunges.

Ron Miller booted six extra points for the Warriors and kicked a 23-yard field goal.

Three Tops In NEIC Chase

Decatur, Bluffton and Elmhurst rest atop the Northeastern Indiana Conference, by chalking up victories Friday night in season openers.

The Yellow Jackets nipped Auburn by a 7-6 score, while Elmhurst and Bluffton surprised with their victories. The Trojans posted a 19-14 victory at Garrett, and the small but fast Tigers whipped the Comets at Kendallville, 26-9.

In another NEIC battle, Concordia of Fort Wayne and Angola battled to a scoreless tie in the Hornet lair. Columbia City dropped its season opener to Nappanee, 15-12, in a non-conference battle.

The only team that didn't open its season was defending NEIC champion New Haven. The Bulldogs wait until this Friday when they play host to Fort Wayne Central in a non-conference clash.

Three This Week

Three conference games are on tap this week, including a big one at Decatur, as the Yellow Jackets open their five-game home card against the Garrett Roadrunners, a team Decatur hasn't beaten in many, many years.

In the other two contests, Bluffton's Tigers entertain Auburn, and Elmhurst, which has already won more games than it did in the entire 1963 campaign, hosts Angola.

The other four members of the ten-team circuit are also in action in non-conference battles. In addition to the New Haven game, Kendallville is at Nappanee, Concordia meets Fort Wayne Central Catholic, and Columbia City goes to Alexandria.

NEIC STANDINGS

The conference standings, plus overall records, and conference points scored and points allowed are as follows:

Decatur	1 0 0	1 0 0	7 6
Bluffton	1 0 0	1 0 0	26 9

Twin-Bill Opens Softball Tourney

A doubleheader this evening at McMillen field opens the annual City Softball League's post-season tournament.

In the first game, the regular season champion Adams County Trailer Sales nine, which won 19 of 20, meets Citizens Telephone Co. Decatur Casting Co. and the K of C. play the nightcap. The first game begins at 7 o'clock.

Torre Leads Braves

Joe Torre collected six hits, including a homer and a double, in the Braves' sweep. Denis Menke and the Cubs' Ellis Burton each hit a pair of homers in the opener. Torre and Billy Williams of the Cubs each had four RBI's in the nightcap, called after eight innings because of darkness.

The Mets outlasted the Colts on effective relief pitching by Larry Beardsner and rookie Dennis Ribant. Beardsner saved Al Jackson's 10th victory by pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning of the opener. Ribant bailed out Jack Fisher (10-16) in the eighth of the nightcap. Roy McMillan provided the Mets with their winning margin in the opener with a two-run homer, his first of the season.

He had returned from a business trip to Toronto and New York City last Saturday.

Brown's personal physician, Dr. George Bourne, and a Boston heart specialist, Dr. Edmund Callahan, diagnosed the famed sportsman's ailment as "coronary insufficiency."
