

Decatur Entertains Jinx Garrett Eleven In Home Opener Friday

Jackets Attempt To Snap 11-Year Winless String

It will be the Auburn game all over again, plus Decatur's No. 1 jinx, when the Yellow Jackets open their home portion of the 1964 schedule at Worthman Field Friday night.

The Jackets, 7-6 winners in their season opener at Red Devil last week, go against Garrett's Railroaders, without a doubt the jinx team on the Decatur football schedule.

Game time Friday night, the first of five home games this year, is 8 o'clock. A huge crowd is expected to be on hand for the affair, if the crowd at Auburn last week is any indication.

The Decaturites will be facing a team that is almost a carbon copy of Auburn, but a team that also seems to hold the "Indian Sign" over Yellow Jacket football teams.

11 Long Years
It has been 11 long years since a Decatur football team has beaten one from Garrett—that's right, 11 years. Decatur bested Garrett by a 21-6 score at Worthman Field back in 1952, and since that time has only a pair of ties to show for their series with the Railroaders, as compared to nine losses.

If Decatur ever had a football jinx, it's Garrett. The only other team that even approaches that type of mastery is New Haven, which has triumphed in the last seven battles between the two teams.

There have been some close ball games, in fact two ties, but never has a Decatur team beaten Garrett in the past 11 meetings. After losing that 1952 battle, the Railroaders came back with a 27-0 win in 1953, added a 20-6 triumph in 1954, and a 20-0 verdict in 1955.

Snap Streak
Decatur had a 3-0 record in 1956 until they ran into Garrett, and a 19-6 loss. In 1957, the Railroaders scored in the closing seconds for a 7-0 triumph, and in 1958 and 1959 they posted identical 27-0 wins.

Finally, after seven losing years, the Yellow Jackets salvaged a 13-13 tie in 1960, but in 1961, it was Garrett again, winning a 6-0 battle. The following season, the two battled to a 7-7 draw at Worthman field, and last year, the Railroaders recorded a 22-6 win.

Big Three
This is also the second game of Big Three for the Yellow Jackets. Auburn, Garrett and New Haven, who comes in the following week, look to be three of the better teams in the NEIC, and if the Jackets can get by these three they will be well on the way to a conference title.

Coaches Wally Yeoman and Steve Brandenburg have drilled the team this week on mistakes made in the Auburn game, as about the only difference in this week's game from last week will be the color of the jerseys.

The Railroaders will use the same single-wing attack as Auburn, with an unbalanced line. Most of their strength will revolve around line smashes at the tackle and end spots.

And, Garrett will throw up another big line at the Yellow Jackets. Their defensive forward wall will be anchored by a pair of tackles weighing in at 245 and 280 pounds.

The Railroaders have lost George Hathaway and Larry Wartsler from their backfield of last year's potent squad, but retain another pair of talented backs in Rick Lewis and Dave Steward. Many of last season's regulars in the line are also returning for another season.

Good Shape
Barring any happenings in practice sessions today and Thursday, the Yellow Jackets will go into the home opener in good shape.

Due to see more action this Friday are some of the reserves who turned in good performance last week and who will be used to give some of the regulars more rest this week.

Lon Hawkins, sophomore defensive back, who performed well at Auburn will probably see more duty this week. Jack Stauffer, reserve fullback who suffered a shoulder separation in practice before the jamboree, may also see some action this week.

Adams Central jumped into a 3-0 first inning lead, but were shut out the rest of the way by three Monroeville hurlers. The Cubs tallied once in their half of the opening inning, and then sent home four more in the second frame.

The Jets got their runs on a single by Morningstar, a walk to Rash, a double by Funk and Green's sacrifice fly. Smith went the distance for Adams Central. Line score: Adams Central—300 000 0-3 5 2 Monroeville—140 011 x-7 9 1

Cannon, Michaels And Woodson In Grid Deals

By United Press International
Lou Michaels figured his days with the Pittsburgh Steelers were numbered after being suspended last week for allegedly breaking training rules and slugging a teammate.

Lou figured right. The Steelers traded the left-footed placekicker and defensive end to the Baltimore Colts Tuesday for linebacker Bill Saul and rookie back Marv Woodson as all National Football League teams got down to the 40-player limit for the start of the new season next weekend.

Michaels, who set an NFL record by booting 26 field goals and scoring 110 points in 1962, was suspended indefinitely by head Coach Buddy Parker of the Steelers last week for his after-hours fracas. He was returned to the squad on a probationary basis two days later but did not play against the Baltimore Colts in an exhibition game at Canton, Ohio, Sunday.

Potties Is Out
In that game against the Colts, all-pro middle linebacker Myron Potties of the Steelers suffered a broken right arm and another linebacker, Bob Harrison, was sidelined with a shoulder separation. So when the same Colts offered Saul and

Jobless Pay Claims Continue Low Here

Unemployment continued in Adams county at a record low, with six new claims and 33 continued claims, for a total of 39 claims, filed with Indiana employment security division this past week ending Saturday. Richard P. App, manager of the Fort Wayne office, announced today.

Unemployment compensation covers about half of the county's 9,000 workers, according to the 1960 census and IESD figures.

In 1963, 58 were unemployed a year ago; 60 in 1962; 177 in 1961. Figures for 1960 are not available, but unemployment at the end of the year was nearly 300 a week in Adams county.

Woodson for Michaels, the Steelers okayed the deal. The Steelers earlier had acquired linebacker Carl Brettschneider from the Detroit Lions for a future draft choice, but cancelled that trade when it was learned Brettschneider had an injured leg. Parker then completed his busy day of wheeling and dealing by purchasing tackle Ray Mansfield from the Philadelphia Eagles.

To reach the 40-player limit, the Steelers released four men—flankerback Roy Curry, tackle Frank Atkinson, guard Tom Jenkins and defensive back Al Hall.

The Dallas Cowboys placed Sonny Gibbs on their waiver list and hoped some NFL club would claim him, else they will have to pay the 6-foot-6, former TCU quarterback the balance of a $100,000 three-year "no-cut" contract he signed last year.

Regular Bench-Warmer
Gibbs took part in only one play of an exhibition game in his 1963 rookie year, sat on the bench during the regular season and was used sparingly in this year's pre-season games. The Cowboys also cut a pair of rookies—quarterback John Jacobs and end Jimmy Evans.

The New York Giants put linebacker Jerry Hildebrand, end Tony Dimidio on the injury-waiver list and asked for outright waivers on rookie pass-catcher Homer Jones. These moves technically put the Giants one player under the limit, indicating they hope to claim a defensive lineman or linebacker from the waiver list of another NFL club.

It looks as if the Oakland Raiders second place finish in the Western Conference last year wasn't satisfying enough to Coach Al Davis or the Oakland brass. As the American Football League teams trimmed their rosters to the 34 player limit Tuesday, the Raiders took a big step toward obtaining the number one spot in the Western Division this season.

The Raiders obtained former Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon from the Houston Oilers and grabbed star pass catcher Bill Miller from the Buffalo Bills.

Minor Incident At Auction Sale Site

Sheriff Roger Singleton said at noon today that no further incidents at the Berne-Genev livestock auction were reported to him Tuesday afternoon or today. An independent trucker, Wilson Amstutz, had pulled into the auction location Tuesday morning and drove through about 25 or 30 NFO members to the loading chute, and moments later found an ice pick sticking from the side of one of his tires.

The sheriff's department was notified of the incident and went to the scene. Dan Stewart, one of the owners of the auction, called off the sale scheduled for Tuesday night. Sheriff Singleton said today that nothing else happened at the auction, with the exception of a very minor incident. He said a truck driver reported that one of the pickets had stuck a tire iron through the spokes of one of his truck's wheels, but the driver said there was no damage done.

Wagley Funeral Is Held This Morning
Funeral services were held at the Vagler funeral home this morning for Henry O. Wagley, Sr., of Berne route 2, who died Sunday night at the Adams county memorial hospital. The body was taken to Huxley, Ia., for burial.

Among survivors are two brothers, Sheldon J. Wagley of Decatur route 8, and Leonard Wagley of Geneva, route 2. The Geneva Masonic lodge and Order of Eastern Star held memorial services at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Yanks Move To A Game Of The Orioles

By TIM MORIARTY
UPI Sports Writer

Yogi Berra, like a lot of people, finds Mel Stottlemyre's name a little difficult to pronounce.

The New York Yankees' manager, though, doesn't have any trouble explaining how happy he is that Mel was called up from Richmond of the International League a month ago to bolster his shaky pitching staff.

"Any pitcher who keeps the ball low the way he does can't miss sticking in the majors," says Berra. "He's a wonderful prospect."

Stottlemyre is more than that. Although only 22, he's showing signs of developing into the stopper of the Yankee staff.

The right-hander from Yakima, Wash., used his sinker ball to pitch the Yankees to within a game of the pace-setting Baltimore Orioles and to one percentage point of the second place Chicago White Sox when he beat the Minnesota Twins 2-1 Tuesday night in the only American League action.

Shows Good Control
Stottlemyre scattered nine hits while New York collected only four off Camilo Pascual and two successors. But the Yankee rookie struck out eight and again showed marvelous control by issuing only one walk.

In gaining his fifth victory in seven decisions, Stottlemyre lowered his earned run average to a nifty 1.96. He has given up only 12 earned runs in 55 innings.

The Yankees scored an unearned run in the top of the first and the Twins got it back in the bottom half on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and Harmon Killebrew's fielder's choice.

Pascual then retired 17 Yankees in a row until Roger Maris led off the seventh with a double to right. After Mickey Mantle walked and Joe Pepitone

Duffer's Divots: 50 Golfers In City Tourney

by Dick Reidenbach
Qualifying for the 1964 City Golf championship tournament has ended, showing a field of 50 golfers participating in the 72-hole tournament scheduled for Friday and Saturday, September 12-13, 1964, according to the tournament committee.

Don Elder, president of the Decatur Golf Association and chairman of the 1964 event, won the low medalist trophy for the 36-hole qualifying round with 151 on rounds of 72-79. Last year, Thane Custer won the medalist honors with 150. Elder was closely followed by Gordie Sowers, the 1963 "half champion, and Dick Reidenbach with 153.

Caddie Clinic
Luke Majorki, local PGA pro and owner of the Decatur Golf Course, has announced that a caddie clinic for members of the junior golf program will be held at the golf course Thursday evening at 6:30 p.m.

All members of the junior program wishing to participate in the 1964 event as a caddie are urged to attend the clinic. Caddie fees for the city tournament will be posted at the pro-shop.

Any golfer wishing to bring his own caddie may do so or if he desires one will be assigned to him by the golf course for the entire tournament.

Tourney Rules
U. S. G. A. rules will govern play during the city golf championship.

Majorki has pointed out that a golfer will lose stroke and distance for a ball out of bounds and will be required to hit the ball from the same point where the ball originally was last hit. During the year, a player lost only 1 stroke and hit the ball from the point where it last crossed the boundary line.

Two strokes will be assessed for a lost ball and for an unplayable lie. One stroke will still be in effect for laying out of the ditch.

A free lift will only be permitted this year if the ball comes for a lost ball and for an un-

City Softball Tourney Opens

Two more games are on tap in the City Softball League's post-season tournament tonight, after Adams County Trailer Sales and Decatur Casting Co. recorded victories in the opening night of action Tuesday.

The Trailer Sales, behind the shutout hurling of Lee Hoopingartner, downed Citizens Telephone Co. by a 5-0 score in last night's first game, while the Casting Co. romped to a 14-2 victory over the K. of C.

In tonight's action in the double-elimination tourney, Vernon's Ginger Ale battles McMillen in the 7 o'clock, while Citizens goes against the K. of C. in the nightcap. Loser of the second game tonight is eliminated from the tourney.

The Trailer Sales, regular season champions with a fine 19-1 mark, scored all the runs Hoopingartner needed in the first inning Tuesday night when Don Menter doubled and scored on a single by Hoopingartner.

Wrap Up Win
The Trailer Sales wrapped up their victory with a three-run outburst in the second frame, using three errors, Menter's second double and Roger Carnes' single to score.

They added their final run in the fourth when Ralph Busse doubled and scored on an error. Hoopingartner allowed just four hits in tossing the shutout, giving singles to Nevil and Oberlin and doubles to Elliott and Gordon Black. Dick Black of Citizens pitched well in defeat, allowing just five hits.

A single by Allie Marbaugh, an error and K. Lautzenheiser's triple got the Casting Co. into a quick 2-0 first-inning lead in the nightcap. Marbaugh's triple featured a three-run second frame and the winners iced the victory with five more tallies in the fourth.

The K. of C. got their only runs in the fifth inning. J. Baker reached base on an error, Bresler singled, and both later scored. Line scores: Citizens—000 000 0-0 4 4 Trailer Sales—130 100 x-5 5 1

Bluffton Nips Jacket Reserves By 13-7

Bluffton pushed over a tough-down in the final period to nip the Decatur Yellow Jacket reserves by a 13-7 score at Worthman Field last night.

Each team scored in the first half, and fought through a scoreless third period before Bluffton pulled the victory out of the fire in the last quarter. The contest opened the season for both reserve squads.

around shrubs or in marked off areas. No other free lies will be allowed. All golfers are urged to contact the pro-shop about any rule questions.

All golfers are again asked by the golf course to lay the ball off the side of a tee station should the ball come to rest on any tee. The ball may be dropped to the side without penalty.

Anyone who is required to play their Saturday match ahead of schedule is asked to contact the pro-shop immediately. All golfers who work on Saturday and must play ahead will be permitted to play their Saturday match on Thursday and Friday. All Sunday matches must be played on that day.

Majorki has pointed out that the first tee will be closed on tournament days from 11:45 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and will be reopened to outside play when the last foursome begins their second nine holes.

Spectators are permitted on the golf course during the city golf tournament according to Majorki. He stated that this is the only time of the year spectators are permitted on the golf course and has urged all persons interested in the tournament to come to the local course to watch the annual city golf championship tournament.

Pairing and tee-off times for all participating golfers will be announced Thursday by the tournament committee.
