ANNUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD THURSDAY

Seventy-nine ladies of the Church of God met Thursday evening in the fellowship hall for the annual women's birthday party. Four sections of the room were beautifully decorated, representing the seasons of the year. The ladies were seated in the section according to their birthdays. After Mrs. Clarence Strickler welcomed the women, there was group singing led by Mrs. K. W. Watkins. The devotions given by Mrs. Clarence Strickler were taken from several scriptures, 1 Corinthians 15:22, Galatians 5:22, 1 Peter 4:11, Romans 15:13, 1 Timothy 1:14, and II Corinthians 13:14.

Mrs. Floyd Mitchell led the group in prayer and then Mrs. Holman Egly gave a reading called "Success." The main part of the program was the home talent performed by 30 ladies with different acts including piano, organ and accordion solos, singers, comedians, pantomimes, and monologues. Mrs. Floyd Mitchell was presented with honorary membership to the Missionary Society.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table centered with a lovely three tiered cake frosted in pastel colors by Mrs. DeWayne Steiner, Mrs. Clarence Stapleton, Mrs. Charles Frank and Mrs. Floyd Mitchell. A business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mervin Rupp. A letter from Mr. and Mrs. William Gerig and family, missionaries in Sierra Leone, Africa, was read to the group. Mrs. Lawrence VonGuten and Mrs. Jack Gray were elected as delegates to the Indiana Women's Missionary fellowship meeting to be held in Fort Wayne October 1. For devotions, Mrs. Rupp read the article "Withhold Not Thine Hand" based on Ecclesiastes 11:6. A special session of prayer was held in behalf of the revival meetings September 20-27.

Miss Doris Garboden, a member of the group, who spent two weeks this summer visiting missionary friends at Pignon, Haiti, at the missionary station there, showed her picture and gave a very interesting talk about life on the mission field as a visitor observes it.

Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. VonGuten. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Myron Hart and Mrs. Bert Rolston.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberts Lee

Q. Different members of our family received a number of notes and cards of condolence following the death of a loved one. Should these be acknowledged by us?

A. Personal notes of acknowledgement are in order, although it is quite understandable that they be brief even to close friends.

Q. If a double-decker sandwich seems too big and unwieldy to handle with the fingers, isn't it all right to eat it with the knife and fork?

A. No; this type of sandwich must be picked up. Only on the "open-faced" type of sandwich do you use your knife and fork.

Q. What is the proper behavior when our national anthem is played?

A. When the flag is not displayed, all stand and face the music. When the flag is displayed, all stand and face the flag. Those in uniform, of course, salute and retain this position until the final note. And, we all show the same respect for the anthems of our allies.

PRES. JOHNSON

ahead. He said newspapermen managed to mention Goldwater name quite a bit in reporting presidential speeches anyway.

The President rejected a reporter's suggestion that over-coinidence among Democratic precinct workers might be a problem for Johnson at the polls this fall.

"I don't think it exists," he said. "I think we all recognize that a very important decision is going to be made in November. I think every patriotic American will want to participate in that decision wherever he is."

Friday Strike Deadline Set At GM Plants

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors and United Auto Workers negotiators, under pressure of a 10 a.m. EST Friday strike deadline, today took up a new economic proposal matching benefits the union won from Ford and Chrysler.

General Motors personnel Vice President Louis G. Seaton said Monday the offer "is in line with the settlement established at Chrysler and puts General Motors' hourly rate employees on an economic par with respect to wages and benefits."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther agreed "in the broad essentials it matches the Chrysler package in benefits. But there are a number of areas where we believe GM ought to provide initiative and do some pioneering."

The union president said he set the strike deadline because experience at Ford and Chrysler showed negotiators "didn't get down to brass tacks until the strike deadline was upon us. Therefore, we thought we would set the deadline and give the company advance notice."

Ruther also made sure he gave advance notice to local union leaders representing nearly 350,000 workers at the 130 GM plants across the country.

He notified them by telegram of the strike deadline, and added a warning against any wildcat strikes like the one which crippled the Ford Rouge complex during the crucial stage of the Ford negotiations last week.

Reuther said that walkout "sabotaged" the Ford talks, and he obviously didn't want the same thing to happen at GM where two Fisher body plants were shut to wildcat walkouts Sept. 8, the day of the Chrysler settlement.

The settlement the union won from Ford and Chrysler were the richest in auto industry history worth about 54 cents an hour for every worker during the three-year life of the pacts.

DELPHI, Ind. (UPI) — State police lab experts are examining the bits and pieces of a bomb which exploded in the car of a part-time Flora musician after he turned on the ignition.

James F. Kemmer, 21, escaped injury and police are trying to establish a motive. The charge was wired alongside the motor but defective wiring resulted in a delayed reaction.

You, Your Child And The School

The new school year is here. There is a need for children and parents to play realistic activity schedules. Careful plans for work and play at this time will avoid many problems which occur during the year.

It is often difficult for families to make an immediate adjustment from a relaxed summer schedule to the structure of the school year. Since school now has opened it might pay to check over the daily schedule. Consider the following areas: Awakening time, organizing the wardrobe, meal times, family reading or get together period, and bed time. Arranging sufficient time and an appropriate schedule for these activities will make adjustments easier for all.

What should be done about planning a student's activities outside of school? The present trend seems to be to overschedule at the expense of a child's free time. This can be the cause of various academic, emotional, and social problems. Children need time for free play. They need time to simply play with their friends in whatever way they like. Perhaps a schedule should be somewhat lighter than seems proper. This will allow for emergencies. If time is available additional activities can always be included. Discuss the schedule with your child. Include plans on a daily and weekly basis. Time should be allotted for study, relaxation, sports, reading, dates, and family time. Don't forget practice time if your child is taking dancing lessons and music instruction.

Remember that any schedule will reflect the habits and needs of the particular family. If father is a commuter it may be possible to plan a later dinner time so that the family will be together. Religious instruction may or may not take up much after school time. If it does, remember this should be taken from scheduled activities such as dance or music lessons, rather than free time. Study time should be planned for a period when the house is quiet. Also remember that a child has difficulty concentrating on homework when his friends are outside playing baseball. If there are several children in the family, it may be better for all to study at the same time. This can avoid unnecessary disturbances.
