

How Time Do Fly!

An old favorite poem, based on "Casey at the Bat," has a couplet something like,

"The path is long, some has said, which never turns again,

"And fate, though fickle, often gives another chance to men."

That might well be the keynot of the present Goldwater campaign. For a candidate designed to give people "a choice, not an echo," Barry's frequent retreats to Hershey and Gettysburg, Pa., must have looked like a surrender to his most avid followers.

In fact, the little booklet, "A Choice Not an Echo" being passed out at the local Republican headquarters (any Republican who hasn't yet regurgitated after reading the foolish, insane personal attacks in the little filthy scandal sheets should visit their own headquarters and obtain one) refers to the nomination of Eisenhower as "The Big Steal."

Now this is interesting. It seems that we recall one of the Indiana leaders in the "draft Eisenhower" movement of 1952, apparently completely fooled by the New York kingmakers, was none other than Indianapolis (and Phoenix) publisher Eugene C. Pulliam. This year Mr. Pulliam has apparently recovered his senses, and is bandwagoning for that champion of the 19th century, Barry Backwater, the candidate who has to explain every statement.

And Mr. Pulliam is so friendly to Mr. Goldwater that he has declined to publish a poll which his own newspaper, the Arizona Republic, conducted! Now we know that this year, like 1936, all polls, according to the Republican press, are wrong, so no doubt Mr. Pulliam's is, too! But a well-known wire service reports President Johnson led in the poll in Goldwater's home state, 58% to 42%.

The personal charges brought by the Republicans against Mr. Johnson should be taken with a grain of salt — a big grain. After all, Mr. Goldwater himself is no less vulnerable to lies and half-truths. It is to the everlasting credit of the Democratic campaigners that they have steadfastly refrained from making the personal life of Sen. Goldwater an issue.

The issues in this campaign should be clear. There is a choice, and no one should be fooled by campaign oratory, or writing. President Johnson has proved in eight months that he merits the confidence of the people of the United States. Sen. Goldwater claims that he has rejected his past, and is a "new" Goldwater, cast over in an Eisenhower mold. He should be given a chance to prove this — at least four more years on the sidelines to mature his political thinking. Sen. Goldwater has repudiated his earlier statements about the UN, foreign policy, social security, civil rights etc., but few, other than hard-line Republicans, have bought it.

WHAT WILL IT DO FOR YOU IN FIVE YEARS?

The tools you can use to earn a living today may not be much help in the future. Jobs are changing; there are many that won't even exist in a few years. Yours might be one.

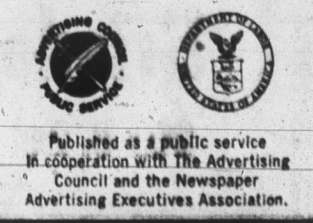

Tools change—jobs change—methods change. That's what makes progress. But along with progress comes opportunity. There will be new tools to do new jobs. The better-paying jobs of tomorrow.

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills.

You'll have to be qualified to get one of these new jobs. You can qualify by retraining. Starting now. You can practice a new skill, study new techniques. And count on having one of tomorrow's good jobs.

It's up to you to decide. To find out more about what's in store for your future, visit the local office of your state employment service. The sooner the better.

Train now for tomorrow's jobs

Bluffton's Street Fair To Continue

Officials of the Bluffton street fair, unaffected by "adverse criticism" from some sources in that city, Monday said they had unanimously agreed to stage the event again next year.

The officials said the criticism had had no adverse effect on this year's fair, which closed Saturday. This was the 44th Bluffton fair, which was dropped only during war years.

The officials continued by stating that the fair not only was a financial success, but was one of the cleanest staged in many years. No one major incident or accident marred the week's celebration, which serves as homecoming week for many residents of the area.

The annual meeting of the fair association is scheduled in January, when the financial report will be presented and officers selected.

PTA 'Caravan' At Fort Wayne Oct. 7

The Indiana Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., is conducting a series of "PTA caravans" in 17 key points in the state, concluding Oct. 9.

These meetings have been planned to inform and train PTA officers, chairmen and members.

One of these caravans will be held at the St. John United Church of Christ (Webster and Washington streets), Fort Wayne, Wednesday, Oct. 7, from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. Mrs. Manfred Moch, president of the Fort Wayne PTA council, will be chairman.

Mrs. A. L. Hendrick, a field service director for the national congress of parents and teachers, will conduct the meeting. Mrs. Hendrick, of Mississippi, has a thorough local and state parent-teacher background. She will use various types of program presentation such as demonstrations, talks, a filmstrip, and question and answer periods.

PTA officers, chairmen, school administrators are invited to attend.

Death Sentence For Cop's Slayer Upheld

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The Indiana Supreme Court today upheld the death sentence of Michael T. Callahan, Indianapolis, for the 1961 slaying of a police officer.

Callahan was convicted on a first-degree murder charge in the death of Marion County Deputy Sheriff Edward G. Byrne. The slaying occurred April 16, 1961, when Byrne sought to interrogate three men following reports of a tavern burglary.

Evidence was that Callahan stuck a gun out the window of a car and shot Byrne as he was instructing one of the other men to step aside so he could read the license plate.

Defense attorneys contended Callahan failed to get a fair trial and alleged that the trial in Marion County Criminal Court was "a spectacle with a carnival air."

The defense claimed that the trial judge failed "to properly supervise the decorum of the courtroom... the court permitted the courtroom to be dominated by television equipment, cameras, radio and television commentators and newsmen and an array of uniformed officers."

However, the high court in the opinion written by Judge Harold Achord said since the defense made no objection during the trial regarding the presence of news media or of the police officers, the question could not now be raised on appeal.

The defense also had claimed that the jail room in which Callahan conferred with his attorneys was "bugged," so that others could eavesdrop on their conversation.

Dinner Wednesday For Scottish Rite

FORT WAYNE — Adams and Jay county Scottish Rite members and their wives will hold a dinner meeting Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Fort Wayne.

The program will be held under the auspices of Adams and Jay county Scottish Rite clubs. The Adams county club officers are: Ralph Habegger, president; Luther L. Yager, vice president; and Walter J. Muth, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the rite and their guests will be taken on a tour of the new Scottish Rite Cathedral before the dinner. The program will be highlighted by a motion picture entitled, "The American Road," depicting the evolution of the horseless carriage at the turn of the century. Chairman of the program will be Arthur M. Paulson, thrice potent master, lodge of perfection.

Ladies of Scottish Rite will hold their first fall card party and luncheon at the Scottish Rite Wednesday noon, October 14. Among those who have made reservations to attend from Decatur and vicinity are: Mrs. Ned C. Johnson, Mrs. Lewis Smith, Mrs. Don Cochran, Mrs. Robert Mills, Mrs. J. Ward Calland, Mrs. George T. Denney, Mrs. Theodore Siler, Mrs. Melvin Zoss, Mrs. Clarence Ziner, Mrs. W. L. Linn, Mrs. Harold Floyd, Mrs. Albert Beary, Mrs. Clyde Butler, Mrs. A. ## 'Barefoot Freedom' Week Is Celebrated

"Go barefoot to enjoy barefoot freedom?" Certainly not, say Harlick & Morrissey, 125 North 2nd St., and others who are promoting the sixth annual national barefoot freedom week here and throughout the country, continuing through Saturday.

"The way to enjoy the barefoot freedom of childhood days," says Dale Morrissey, "is to wear Barefoot Freedom Shoes, recommended by members of the medical profession for years."

A physician who writes a syndicated newspaper column on health matters, recently quoted a letter from an unhappy woman who complained, "I can't wear these pointed shoes that are in fashion, and I've talked with many other women who can't wear them either. Many of my friends are complaining of corns and bunions. Either we have to wear these torture chambers or the 'old granny' oxfords, or go barefoot."

"Not so," says Morrissey. "There is no need for women to be at the mercy of style-conscious footwear makers, wear 'old granny' oxfords or go barefoot. They can enjoy barefoot freedom through the successful designing of America's most attractive lowheel oxfords for comfort."
