

3,000 Homeless In California Floods

KINSTON, N.C. (UPI) — An estimated 3,000 persons were homeless today in eastern North Carolina, plagued by floods brought on by torrential rains from Hurricane Hilda. Damages were estimated in the millions of dollars.

The rain-swollen Neuse River was expected to crest at a record 23 feet today or Tuesday in this Lenoir County town some 75 miles southeast of Raleigh. The mark would put it nine feet above flood stage. Mayor Simon Sitterson said he believed the flooding was the worst since 1945. The Raleigh Weather Bureau Sunday advised all persons near the lower portions of the Neuse to continue to take precautions against "what now appears to be the most severe flooding in at least the past 35 to 40 years."

At least 460 families had been evacuated from their homes here and in the surrounding rural areas Sunday. An estimated 300 families were forced from their homes in Goldsboro, 35 miles northeast of here at the height of the flooding there and most have not yet been able to return.

No Government Aid For Billy S. Estes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee has found that erstwhile Texas business tycoon Billy Sol Estes got no help from government officials through bribery or political pressure.

But, the subcommittee said in a report released Sunday, the government could have been a lot more conscientious in its handling of the case.

The report by the House government operations subcommittee covered an exhaustive two and one-half year study of most of Estes' activities. It said the government did not lose any money to the Pecos, Tex., boy wonder.

Republicans have made the case a campaign issue, charging the Democratic administration with showing favoritism to Estes. The subcommittee report rejected that contention in the areas into which it looked.

"The investigation did not disclose evidence to substantiate allegations that Billie Sol Estes received deliberate preferential treatment because of bribery, political influence or pressure, or for any other reason involving corruption of government officials or employees," the report said.
