

AND IT COMES OUT HERE—Decatur Daily Democrat publisher Dick D. Heller demonstrates a Ludlow typcasting machine to pupils of the Northwest school sixth grade class and their teacher, Lee Hoopingarner. The tour was conducted as part of the paper's observance of national newspaper week, Oct. 11-17. The demonstration trip was another part of the Democrat's newspaper education program, which includes a series of explanatory film strips shown to local school children.

Decatur Democrat Is School Program Aid

Listen, and you'll hear the sound of the future. It's a sound made up of the rumble of feet in school corridors... teacher voices calling roll... the clink of laboratory glassware... and the declamations of a beardless Caesar strutting on the school stage.

It's the sound of the next generation coming on fast. Adults hear that sound with mingled nostalgia and hope — hope that may be our children will be able to untangle some of the knots of the world with which we've struggled so long and unsuccessfully.

How well-prepared will our youngsters be to grapple with problems of our community, our country, and the world? To help insure that students will cope successfully with tomorrow, the Decatur Daily Democrat is cooperating with teachers in a special educational program. Through this program, young people of the community are kept interested and informed about national and world events.

A new filmstrip program is distributed weekly to each participating school during the school year. The filmstrip is projected in the classroom. It has photographs of significant national and world events that have occurred just a few days — sometimes hours — before the filmstrip arrives in the school. These photos are used in current affairs discussions. Narration guides, in various vocabulary levels, supply background materials for the teacher to use in conducting her class.

The first news filmstrip packages arrived in the schools September 14. Each package contains an introductory filmstrip, "What's Going On?" This lively story illustrates the importance of being an informed citizen and keeping up-to-date about events. Each week thereafter, the school receives a news filmstrip issue with very current news pictures and discussion guides.

The news filmstrip program is a complete, ready-to-use current affairs unit which has been used successfully in thousands of schools in the United States and overseas since 1952. It is produced by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., Madison Wis. Teacher-users say that it is remarkably effective in making students interested in the news.

Many instructional materials accompany the basic program. Each month the school receives a study filmstrip which discusses a specific news-related subject in depth. These cover such subjects as congress, current surveys of foreign nations, conservation, current news maps, etc. The study filmstrips, like the news filmstrips, become part of the school's basic audio-visual library for use again and again, as needed. In this way, many schools have accumulated large filmstrip reference libraries that would be financially impossible for them to have otherwise.

The news program provides something for parents, also. Each week, the Decatur Daily Democrat publishes a news quiz. Questions in the quiz relate to news subjects which students are discussing in school. When parents take the quiz, they will find they become informed about the news and about subjects which their children are studying in school. Educators believe such parent interest helps stimulate students to do better school work. Students are encouraged to take the quiz, also, and save it for review material at semester examination time.

The news filmstrip, the study filmstrips, and the news quiz are provided free of charge by the Decatur Daily Democrat as an educational service for schools in this area.

Major Kremlin Development Is Hinted Today

MOSCOW (UPI) — The government newspaper Izvestia announced it is not publishing an edition tonight. Such action usually precedes major Kremlin developments.

There was no indication what, if anything, was afoot, Western observers said.

In London the Evening News reported there were Moscow signs of government changes that could affect Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The Evening News dispatch said speculation was heightened by Khrushchev's absence from the public scene for the last two days.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Wednesday, however, that Khrushchev was vacationing at his home in the Crimean resort of Sochi.

Khrushchev last was seen by a Westerner two days ago at his Black Sea retreat of Pitsunde. The visitor was Gaston Palowsky, French minister of science.

The Soviet premier and party leader received Palowsky briefly and told him he was rushing off to meet the three Soviet cosmonauts who completed their space flights the day before.

Western Communist correspondents in Moscow were alerted tonight to stand by the radio to await an important announcement.

Khrushchev's portrait has not been posted in Red Square yet in connection with decorations for the welcoming ceremonies of the new Soviet cosmonauts expected Saturday.

But the decoration of the square has not been completed. Western observers said it may be premature to attach any significance to this at the moment.

U. S., German Profs Awarded Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Prof. Konrad Bloch, a biochemist at Harvard University, and Prof. Feodor Lynen of the Max-Planck Institute in Munich, Germany, today won the 1964 Nobel Prize for medicine or physiology.

The Caroline Institute's Nobel Prize committee said they were awarded the prize for their discoveries concerning the mechanism and regulation of the cholesterol and fatty acid metabolism. Some medical authorities cite a high level of cholesterol as a cause of heart disease.

The two professors will share the $52,500 which accompanies the award to be presented here Dec. 10 by Swedish King Gustaf VI Adolf.

Born In Germany

Bloch, 52, was born in Germany but emigrated to the United States in 1936 and became a naturalized American citizen in 1944. He has been a professor of biochemistry at Harvard since 1954.

Lynen, 53, is director of cell chemistry at the Max Planck Institute, where he has been a professor since 1947.

The teachers' college of the Caroline Institute, which is the awarding body for the medicine prize, said Bloch and Lynen, in a series of brilliant investigations, have shown how cholesterol is built up in the body.

The institute said Bloch also pioneered in the discovery that cholesterol was the direct precursor of a sex hormone, "a discovery that has opened up the field of steroid hormone biosynthesis."

The institute said the discoveries of Bloch and Lynen were of great importance in connection with circulatory disease.

The award came one day after the Nobel Peace prize was awarded in Oslo, Norway, to Dr. Martin Luther King, a Negro leader of the civil rights movement in the United States.

Award Questioned

The bestowal of the peace prize to King brought questions from Norwegian newspapers about the timing and intent of the award by the Norwegian parliament.

The Oslo Aftenposten said the timing of the King announcement, in view of the election campaign in the United States, "may raise some doubt."

"It would be most regrettable," the newspaper said, "if this award turned out to be an agitated factor during the last weeks of the campaign."

King said Wednesday that "every penny" of the $54,000 prize money will be given to

Golf Kings Off In Finale Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The kings of golf — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema and Ken Venturi — tee off today in their final big fling of the season for big money in the $77,777 Sahara Invitational tournament.

Palmer, fresh from winning the world match play crown in England, has been installed as a co-favorite, with defending champion Nicklaus to take home top money of $12,000.

If either man is able to accomplish the feat, then he will nail down another championship — top money winner of the 1964 tour.

Palmer is leading the official money-winning race with $110,743 to his credit. But Nicklaus is right on his heels with $107,717.83. The others aren't far back but they couldn't catch the leaders, even by winning.

The new "big four" doesn't have a lock on winning any tournament, however. Also competing here in the long, 7,069 yard Paradise Valley Country Club course are Billy Casper, third-leading money-winner of the year, PGA champion Bobby Nichols, who is right behind Casper in the standings; and a host of the rest of the country's finest shot-makers.

Rushville Physician Dies In Paris, France

PARIS (UPI) — Dr. Clement Poston, 64, Rushville, Ind., died Wednesday at Orly Airport while waiting to board a jetliner to return to the United States.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said Poston, who was traveling alone, apparently suffered a heart attack.

the civil rights movement. He said he was "filled with keep humility and gratitude" on winning the award.

King was informed he had won the peace prize in St. Joseph's Infirmary in Atlanta where he was undergoing a routine physical checkup.
