President Cheered By Ohio Reception

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson was buoyed today by the success of his six-hour campaign swing through normally Republican southwest Ohio where wildly enthusiastic crowds threatened at times to mob him.

To Protest County Dump Near Homes

Residents of Eiting Acres met Friday evening to lay plans for attending the Monday morning meeting of the Adams county commissioners protesting a proposal to establish a county dump in the vicinity of the housing development.

The commissioners have, without much publicity, laid plans to locate a county dump on land presently owned by the Krick-Tyndall company to the south of Eiting Acres and within approximately 400 feet of some of the homes in the area.

Commissioner Hugo Boerner said this morning that no contract for acquiring the land has yet been signed and that the board of commissioners will not make a decision until it has heard the protest of the Eiting Acres residents.

The residents are basing their protest on a number of points. They contend that the location of a dump in the area will eliminate the area from further residential development and that it will decrease the value of homes already constructed. They also say that the proposed dump will "cut off natural drainage in the area, pollute water supplies, cause the area to be infested with insects and rodents of all kinds, create smoke, dirt, odors and health hazards . . ."

Not Consistent

The also contend that the establishment of a dump "is not at all consistent with orderly development of the area as contemplated by the county zoning plan now being formulated and which the commissioners apparently intend to avoid by the hasty unannounced location of this dump."

A statement issued this morning by Robert Smith, attorney for the residents says "The group believe that persons and industrial concerns in the southwest part of the city of Decatur should be concerned because, with the prevailing southwesterly winds, they too will get the 'benefit' of this dump."

Smith said that about 75 persons would be present Monday to present their objections to the commissioners.

UAW And American Resume Bargaining

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers union and American Motors negotiators return to the main bargaining table today in an effort to reach agreement on three key issues and end a strike by about 26,000 workers.

The strike was called by the union early Friday even though a last ditch bargaining effort resulted in agreement on the major stumbling block — profit sharing.

Douglas Fraser, UAW American Motors department director, and AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman agreed Friday the three unresolved issues on the main table covered transfer rights of workers, an economic agreement for workers of the Kelvinator appliance division and alleged wage inequities. They also said there were several unresolved local issues that must be settled before the strike can end.

The union and company battled long and hard over whether or not the 1964 national contract would include the historic profit sharing or progress sharing contrast, as they prefer to call it — concept. The first details of the plan were scheduled to be released today.

AMC, the nation's smallest auto maker, joined giant General Motors as subjects of UAW strikes. The union struck GM 22 days ago. Since then, a national contract has been agreed to but labor peace cannot be restored until plant level contracts are substantially cleaned up at 130 GM plants around the country.

GM spokesmen said the number of settlements hovered at near half the total.

Lower Income For Indiana Farmers

Indiana farmers likely will receive in the next 12 months a somewhat smaller net income than during the past year, Jack H. Armstrong, Purdue University agricultural economist, said Thursday night at the Adams county outlook meeting.

Thirty-five farmers and business men attended the meeting, one of the some 60 being held throughout Indiana. Purdue agricultural economists each fall analyze the outlook for farming for the next year.

Armstrong said that this income prospect is in line with the U. S. net farm income prospect for the next 12 months.

Lower cash receipts for Hoosier farmers will result largely from smaller yields for crops produced in 1964 which will be sold in the coming marketing year.

Reduced income will also result from lower prices for eggs and stock cattle, fewer broilers and lower prices for them. However, higher hog prices are expected to more than offset smaller receipts.

Purchase of feeder cattle $3.6 per hundred weight below year ago levels, and reduced marketing of heavy weight cattle should bring improved returns to cattle feeders.

The economist forecasts a continued expansion of the non-farm economy in the year ahead. This means strong total demand for farm products, more off-the-farm job opportunities for skilled or semi-skilled persons, a continued scarcity of good hired men and continued exodus from the farming business.

Analyses Outlook

Here's the way Armstrong analyzed the Indiana farm outlook for the period from October 1 to September 30, 1965:

Corn — Five to 10 per cent a bushel higher prices are expected for the next marketing year — summer prices averaging $1.15-$1.25 in surplus areas, 10 to 20 cents a bushel higher in deficit areas.

Soybeans — Prices forecast at an average of $2.55-$2.65 a bushel compared to the $2.54 the past year.

Wheat — Increased in price for soft red winter wheat will only be about enough to cover storage costs this fall and winter.

Hogs — Moderate increases in prices above those of last year are expected. Average price in Indianapolis was $15.70 per hundred-weight.

Beef cattle — Somewhat improved prices for the higher grades of fed cattle; but lower returns for beef cow herd owners are seen.

Dairy — Equal or slightly better net income for dairymen.

Laying flocks — On-the-farm egg prices will average about one cent a dozen below the previous year.

Broilers — A 14-cent a pound average in the last quarter of this year is expected, down one-half cent from a like period of 1963.

Turkeys — Prices for the remainder of 1964 will average about one cent below those of the same period of last year.

Farm real estate — Upward trends in land values will continue — two to four per cent in the next year.

Production item prices — Increases of one to three per cent are seen for prices of production items.

British Labor Head

Appoints Ministers

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson spurned "any mere 'caretaker' role today and set out to run a tough, hard-hitting government despite his slim parliamentary majority.

Indications were that Wilson might have an edge of only three or four votes over the combined opposition in the new Parliament.

Wilson appointed the first seven members of a sharp streamlined cabinet Friday night, less than three hours after being named prime minister. He appeared intent on fulfilling his campaign pledge to "get Britain moving."

He promised to announce more cabinet appointments today and to complete the list Sunday.

The ministers named Friday night were taking over their jobs this morning.

Johnson Meets Top Advisers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson meets with his top military and diplomatic advisers today to consider "these . . . sobering issues in the history of the world" — Red China's nuclear test and the shakeup in the Kremlin.

The Chief Executive canceled a scheduled weekend campaign trip to Texas because of the international situation. He was to confer at noon EDT with the National Security Council.

"I will go to any lengths an honorable man can to seek peace in the world," he promised. "Our guard is always up, but our hand is always out."

The President launched the tour with a speech at the greater Cincinnati Airport in nearby Covington, Ky., then moved to Fountain Square in downtown Cincinnati where police estimated the crowd at 30,000.

Says Goldwater Is Part-Time Amateur

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — About 2,000 Indiana Democrats paid $10 to $100 a plate for dinner Friday night and the privilege of hearing Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey describe Sen. Barry M. Goldwater as a "part-time amateur" as a presidential candidate.

U.S. officials doubted that either of the two events — China's nuclear test or Nikita S. Khrushchev's downfall — was caused by the other. They were regarded as a momentous coincidence.

Profound Effects

Together their effects on the Humphrey said.

He said Goldwater is "a part-time, off-and-on, now-and-then amateur and hobbyist" who wants to abandon the "challenges of tomorrow for the fatalities of yesterday."

The aim of Goldwater and his supporters is "to establish a kind of selfish irresponsibility" in domestic and international affairs, Humphrey said.

"The American people must choose for the president of the United States between a dedicated professional in the arts of science of government — Lyndon Johnson — and a part-time, now-and-then amateur, Barry Goldwater," Humphrey said.

Humphrey attacked Goldwater for suggesting some nuclear weapons could be classified as conventional.

"The world entered a new era at Los Alamos in 1945, an era fraught with greater peril than any mankind has known before," Humphrey said. "Senator Goldwater cannot deal responsibly with the most fearful crisis of our time if he ignores its existence, if he argues that a tactical nuclear weapon is just an oversized hand-grenade. He is either deliberately or accidentally misleading the American people — and I am not sure which is more dangerous."

Humphrey hurried into Hoosierland from a corn-picking contest in Iowa, and was greeted at Weir Cook Municipal Airport by Sens. Vance Hartke and Birch Bayh and Governor Welsh.

The party went to the Indiana executive residence for a reception, and while the "victory dinner" audience was feasting, Humphrey was making radio and television tapes.

After his speech, Humphrey flew away to Chattanooga, Tenn.

world would be profound, although these effects might be a long time emerging.

The Kremlin change left great questions as to how East and West would not proceed on major issues between them — Berlin, Southeast Asia, disarmament, payment of United Nations costs. Officials expect a pause in East-West negotiations while the new Kremlin leadership goes through a "shakedown" period.

Pravda, without mentioning Khrushchev by name, denounced "hare-brained scheming, immature conclusions and hasty decisions and actions divorced from reality, bragging and phrase-mongering, commandism, unwillingness to take into account the achievements of science and practical experience."

It denounced "the ideology and practice of the personality cult." It praised collective leadership as communism's "greatest political asset."

Reliable sources said Khrushchev went down fighting at the Central Committee meeting which decided his fate.

Field Fire Nearly Leads To Disaster

Quick work by the Decatur fire department averted a near disaster Friday afternoon when a fire in a field nearly got out of hand.

The fire started some distance from the home of William Fritzinger, north of Decatur, by a cause as yet undetermined. It was seen by some one in the Fritzinger family in the morning, but was thought to be just a small trash fire.

The blaze continued to work its way through the brush, and a bean and corn field, and the firemen were called at 3:55 p.m. The sources said Khrushchev is resting at a government-owned "dacha" (country house) in the Moscow area, taking medical treatments for an unspecified ailment.

They said Khrushchev may be seen again in public some day — but not in a prominent position. He probably will live quietly on a pension with his wife Nina Petrovna in Moscow.

Third Youth Held On Burglary Count

A third youth, from Decatur, has been implicated in a second burglary cleared up with the apprehension of two other youths around midnight Thursday.

Gerald Gene Harmon, 17, of near Decatur, and Eddie Ray Thompson, 17, of near Bluffton, were apprehended by a city police "stakeout" at the Adams County Trailer Sales at midnight Thursday, and are being held in the Adams county jail on second degree burglary charges.

A third youth, Richard Dennis Kerton, 18-year-old resident of 1121 Elm St., has been implicated in a second burglary in which at either Harmon and Thompson, or both, are believed involved.

Kerton is also in custody at the county jail, charged with second degree burglary. All three are being held under $1,000 bond each.

Second Burglary

A city police patrol around 10 o'clock Thursday night discovered a break-in at the Treon Poultry Market on 13th street, and some time later, the stolen articles.

Four of the men were the same ones arrested by the FBI during its investigation last summer of the shotgun murder of Lemuel Penn, a prominent Washington, D.C., Negro educator who was killed July 11 while riding along a north Georgia road.

FBI agents at Athens, Ga., arrested three of the Klansmen Friday. Two others were free on $20,000 bonds they posted earlier and the sixth Klansman, James S. Lackey, is being held in jail awaiting trial on charges of murdering Penn.

Two of the Klansmen indicted Friday — Herbert Guest, 37, a garage operator, and Joseph Howard Sims — were tried by a state court in Danielsville, Ga., and acquitted on Sept. 4 of charges that they murdered Penn.

A confession by Lackey implicating the two men was introduced into evidence at the trial, but he later repudiated the confession.

The other two indicted were Willis Phillips, 24, a mechanic who worked in Guest's garage, and George Hampton Turner, 32, a textile mill worker who lives in Hull, Ga.

The six were charged with conspiring to oppress, injure, threaten and intimidate Negroes.

"It was part of the plan and purpose of the conspiracy," the indictment said, "that its objects be achieved by . . . shooting Negroes . . . beating Negroes . . . killing Negroes . . . damaging and destroying property of Negroes."

In addition, Guest also was charged with violating the federal Firearms Act.

Conviction of the first offense could carry a penalty of up to 10 years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Police said a truck stopped at the edge of the highway, a heavily traveled route between Chicago and Indianapolis, because of a fire in a car which previously had pulled off the road.

Lewis pulled up and stopped behind the truck but pulled out into the highway and was struck by another truck in the passing lane of the four-lane road.

The car was crushed between the moving and the parked truck, and burst into flames when the gasoline tank exploded.

The bodies of the car occupants were badly burned. Police traced identification from the charred license plate of the car. The plate had been issued in the Seymour area.

At first, police considered the possibility the victims were Purdue students. Heat from the flames which swept the wreckage kept them from probing through the car for additional clues to the identity of the victims.

Joseph E. Talbot, Jr., 55, South Bend, a former FBI agent and former deputy prosecutor in St. Joseph's County, was killed early today when he left his stalled car on U.S. 30 near the Elkhart-St. Joseph's County line. He was struck by a vehicle which did not stop.

Airman 3c Jerry LeRoy Farmer, stationed at Bunker Hill Air Force Base, was killed Friday night when two cars collided south of Peru on U.S. 31 near a bypass construction project.

Police said the car in which Farmer was riding hit a barrel at a detour junction and skidded broadside into a vehicle driven by Curtis Hurley, 56, Peru. Farmer was thrown out.

The ministers named Friday night were taking over their jobs this morning.

Five Persons Die In Crash

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) —

Five persons were killed today when their car was crushed between two trucks in a fiery accident on U.S. 52 west of the Purdue University campus.

The dead were believed to be Indianapolis area young persons enroute home for the weekend from their work with Trans World Airlines in Chicago.

Two of the dead were identified by Indiana State Police as Patty Sue Owen, 21, Brownsville, and Michael Lewis, 21, Seymour, driver and owner of the car.

Lewis' grandmother told state police she believed that Lewis, Miss Owen and three other TWA employees were in the car.

Police said a truck stopped at the edge of the highway, a heavily traveled route between Chicago and Indianapolis, because of a fire in a car which previously had pulled off the road.

Lewis pulled up and stopped behind the truck but pulled out into the highway and was struck by another truck in the passing lane of the four-lane road
