

Vows Spoken At The Monroe Methodist Church

Two altar vases of white footed mugs and candleabra with greenery decorated the Monroe Methodist church, where the Rev. Charles Elam officiated at the double ring ceremony which joined in marriage Miss Gloria Rupert and William Kohli at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Miss Rupert is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rupert, 225 E. Washington street, Monroe, and Kohli is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kohli, route 2, Bryant. Mrs. Chester Longenberger, organist, played selections of "Clair de Lune" and "Indian Love Call." Joyce Nussbaum, vocalist, sang "Because," and Charles Workinger, vocalist, sang "The Lord's Prayer." Both vocalists sang a duet of "Hand in Hand." Given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a floor length gown of bouquet taffeta enhanced by a scoop neckline etched with lace appliques and sprinkled with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt featured lace motifs centered with a cabbage rose. A butterfly back bow complemented the repeated motifs and roses on the chapel length train. The sleeves were long and tapered to points over her hands. A flowered crown of pearl and crystal loops with a tiered veil of imported illusion was her headdress and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible. The bride also carried a lace-edged handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother. Mrs. Larry Roth was her sister's matron of honor in a floor length gown of rose cranberry satin brocade in an "American Rose" design. The skirt had a sheath-paneled front with a pleated overlay. A matching jacket featured a jeweled neckline, elbow length sleeves and two small self bows in the back. Matching dior bows of rose cranberry with a short bouffant veil was her headpiece. She carried a single white football mum tipped with rose cranberry and completed with greenery. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dewayne Agler, sister of the groom, and the Misses Nancy Miller and Kathy Michaels, friends of the couple. The flower girl was Miss Lori Hunt, niece of the bride. The bridesmaids wore ensembles identical to the honor attendant. The flower girl wore a white nylon dress with a slip of rose cranberry. Each attendant wore a jeweled cross, gift of the bride. The flower girl carried a basket of carnations.

Larry Roth, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and Dewayne Agler, brother-in-law of the groom, Jerry Rowden and Neil VonGunter, friends of the groom, seated the guests.

The bride's mother chose a blue sheath dress featuring a jacket edged in satin with a black brocade hat and black accessories. The groom's mother wore a brown sheath dress of matelasse with short sleeves and a V neckline. She wore a brown mint hat and brown accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony for 200 guests. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Gene Hurst and Mrs. Leroy Kolter, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Garry Bluhm, Miss Sydonna Carnall, Miss Diane Hirsch, Miss Edith Dennison, Miss Beverly Osterman, and Mrs. Ed Beer, friends of the bride.

For her wedding trip of unannounced destination, the bride chose a two piece teal blue mo-hair suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Adams Central high school and is employed by Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., Fort Wayne.

The groom, a graduate of Adams Central high school and International Business college, Fort Wayne, is employed in the office of Home Dairy, Berne.

Following their return, the couple will reside at Beery's Trailer Court, lot 11, on route 4, Decatur.

HAIRDRESSERS 27TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Mme. Marguerite E. Buck of New York City, internationally famous coiffure designer, will be guest artist at the 27th annual convention and trade show of the Indiana hairdressers and cosmetologists association Nov. 8 and 9 at the Sevier Hotel, Indianapolis.

Program plans are announced by Mrs. Ben Bosley, state president, and Mrs. Earl Collings, convention chairman, both of Indianapolis.

Mme. Buck, who heads the institute of coiffure design in New York, is fashion coordinator for the national hairdressers and cosmetologists association. She has received 26 international and national first awards for hair styling. Of particular interest to the Hoosiers will be her interpretation of the "Flirtation Collection" of advanced styles for 1965.

Enlivening the proceedings will be four contests. A record number of entrants will compete for 12 handsome trophies in hair styling, hair shaping, "artistic creation" (fantasy) and "novice" contests. A master artist award awaits the winner with most combined points in styling and shaping contests.

More than 2,000 members, guests and exhibitors are expected. Social events will include a Sunday night banquet, with "Fashion Fair" by the Indiana hair fashion committee (15 Indiana artists who have qualified for platform work); and Monday luncheon with style show by the William H. Block company, Indianapolis.

Climax of the festivities will be a brilliantly staged parade of affiliates Monday night, with costumed models from 55 local affiliated groups throughout the state. The winner will represent Indiana in the national convention parade of states in St. Louis next July.

Delegates will meet in business session all day Saturday, Nov. 7, and will elect officers. A pre-convention Leap Year party for conventioners and their guests is scheduled for 9 p.m. Saturday.
