ART DEPARTMENT MEETS AT MRS. FRISINGER'S

Mrs. M. A. Frisinger was hostess to the Art department of the Decatur Woman's club at her home Monday evening. The meeting was opened with the club collection, followed by a business session. Plans were formulated for the Christmas exchange and special Christmas dinner, December 7. All reservations are to be placed with Mrs. Hubert Feasel. The program subject was a review of the book, "Renoir My Father," presented by Miss Glennys Rupp. She related many incidents from his life as a child and as a mature man. Renoir ventured into many fields of the artist world going from the painting of porcelain, to scenes on window shades to impressionist painting. Many pictures of his paintings were exhibited showing the variations in his approach to painting.

At the close of the program, the hostess, Mrs. Frisinger, served refreshments to her guests assisted by her committee, Mrs. Raymond Bichenauer, Miss Ruth Winnes and Miss Glennys Rupp.

The Geneva PTA will hold its annual fall festival Friday evening at the schoolhouse. A smorgasbord supper will be served in the school cafeteria from 5 p.m. - 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

HOW THE '50' WENT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Pooled News Services Aid Return Report

NEW YORK (UPI) — The major news agencies and television networks pooled their vote-counting resources and reported the election results faster than at any time in history.

The combined service provided the nation's news media with tabulations of actual counted votes for the presidential, senatorial, congressional and gubernatorial races from the 50 states and District of Columbia. The results were provided as tabulated results — not projections.

well-conceived and well-executed enterprise," he said.

Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press, said the vote count was so fast that it made unnecessary the use of projections by newspapers, since they had definite results in hand for early editions.

"There were some tabulation errors but they were quickly caught and did not affect the reported results in any race," Gallagher said.

William R. McAndrew, vice president in charge of NBC news, said: "This is the best reported election on the basis of vote returns in my recollection and I go back to 1936. It was an excellent job. The fastest reporting. NES proved itself tonight."

Elmer Lower, president of ABC news, special events and public affairs, said NES was highly successful.

"It's been a particularly strong and successful effort in most of the populous areas where elections are mainly determined. We achieved our objective in giving the public an authentic and accurate count
