A Well-Fought Race

Decatur native Max Hobbs fought a hard fight by losing 7,155 votes to veteran E. Ross Adair, the Fort Wayne attorney returned to congress for an eighth term, despite his negative record.

Hobbs came the closest of any Democratic candidate with the exception of Fort Wayne attorney Robert Fleming, who in 1958 came within 268 votes of ousting Adair.

Adair, practically unknown, coasted into Congress by 16,000 votes beating Edward H. Kruse, who had served a term after being elected over Gillie when Harry S. Truman was elected in 1948.

He was reelected in 1952 over Howard L. Morrison by 41,000, over Fred Greene in 1954 by 24,000, over Deane Bechtol in 1956 by 41,000, over Fleming in 1958, over Bryon McCammon by 28,128 in 1960, and over Ron Ross by 16,140 in 1962.

If Adair lives out this term, he will have represented Adams county longer than any other Congressman, 16 years.

This was just the fourth time in eight elections that Adair has failed to carry Adams county — he also lost Wells county, but carried the other six.

Hobbs can well be proud of his 513 vote margin — it is the largest any opponent of Adair has ever received in this county.

A young attorney, Hobbs has a very good chance of unseating Adair next time, if he chooses to run. By careful campaigning during the next two years, by hammering away at the negative record of Adair, by pointing out how much better representation the fourth district could have if the representative had influence with the executive branch of government, and by getting personally acquainted over the entire district, Hobbs can be expected to win next time.

After all, Adair can't expect a $30,000 a year salary to continue for life for sitting on his chair and punching the "no" button. Sooner or later his constituents will see behind that pleasant grin, and blast him out of Congress.

In the ninth district, dynamic Lee H. Hamilton, of Columbus, blasted Earl Wilson out of his seat which he had held 22 of 24 years since 1940. He organized a campaign that lasted a year, and brought his story to the people.

A young, personable candidate such as Hobbs deserves a second chance. It takes a while to get acquainted with the 390,010 people of the fourth district. And reapportionment may well add a Democratic county or two to the fourth district, helping whomever the Democrats nominate.

Goldwater To Make Fight To Keep Policies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, with one political defeat already chalked up against him, today was faced with another impending battle to keep the Republican party marching to his conservative tune.

Such a battle, or perhaps even a series of them, was clearly in prospect. Goldwater expects it, and he is committed to make the fight to keep the party aligned to his conservative philosophy.

Political battles were not on the senator's mind Wednesday, however. He went shopping and bought two paintings. One, by Martin Coomer, was of a scene in Spain and Goldwater thought it just right for a new addition to his kitchen.

The other he bought for his daughter, Peggy, who likes pictures of clowns. It was a picture of a clown crying. According to Press Secretary Paul F. Wagner, Goldwater tacked on a note: "I voted for Barry."

Place Blame

Goldwater blames his crushing election defeat, in part, on the Republicans who opposed his nomination and who, in his words, "would not vote or work." Their action he contrasts with that of conservatives who worked hard for moderate candidates in other years.

Goldwater thinks his opponents had a right to withhold their support from his campaign, but "I don't think we can build a Republican party

Damage Caused By Laboratory Blast

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—An Wednesday night caused heavy explosion and fire early damage to a small laboratory on the fourth floor of Emerson Hall at the Indiana University Medical Center.

The cause was not immediately determined but workers said it may have been caused by fumes from chemicals. Damage was estimated at about $35,000, much of it to expensive equipment.

on their concepts which, in my opinion, have no difference at all with the Democratic concept."

In a post-mortem news conference Wednesday Goldwater said he does not feel that the conservative cause has been hurt at all by his defeat. Referring to the size of his own vote, he said, "25 million votes is a lot of votes, and a lot of people dedicated to the concept of conservatism."

Referring to his statement announcing the third turned out to be a much longer effort than we thought. It is not an effort that we can stop now, nor do we have any intention of dropping it now," he said.

He said he plans to keep his apartment in Washington, and as one of the "unemployed" devote a lot of time to party matters, working with GOP congressional leaders. As of now he does not expect he would be selected as the party's nominee in 1968.

Fined For Reckless Driving After Wreck

A 42-year-old resident of route 1, Van Wert, O., has been arrested by Adams county sheriff Roger L. Singleton for reckless driving.

Clyde E. Gray, who wrecked his automobile east of the city early this morning, paid a fine of $5 and costs, totaling $22.75, in justice of the peace court here, after being charged.

Gray was traveling west on U. S. 224, six miles east of Decatur, around 4 a. m. today when he lost control of his auto; he told police he had fallen asleep. The vehicle left the road, knocking down some six rods of fence on the Homer Fickert property. After the mishap, Gray got a ride into Van Wert.

Meanwhile, the Fickerts awoke a short time later, saw the car in their field, and notified the sheriff. The sheriff had the auto towed away and began tracing the license plate number. In the meantime, however, Gray returned with a Van Wert wrecker, only to find his auto missing.

He then contacted sheriff Singleton and told him what happened, and he was ticketed for reckless driving. The sheriff estimated about $150 damage to the auto and $40 to the Fickert property.

PLAN CHURCH ADDITION—The Washington Street Church of Christ broken ground Oct. 25 for a new addition to the church. The addition will consist of a full basement to be used for youth activities and recreational facilities for church lunches and activities, and there will be one floor above ground to include four new classrooms, a church office and conference room.

Lamar Construction, Decatur, is the general contractor, and cost of the addition will be approximately $15,000. Completion date will be after the first of the year, with dedication shortly after March 1.

Red China Premier To Moscow Parley

MOSCOW (UPI)—Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived today for the first top level Sino-Soviet talks in three years.

Chou flew here from Peking at the head of a Red Chinese delegation to attend Saturday's 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

He is expected to size up the possibility of easing the Sino-Soviet dispute in the wake of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's ouster.

(Chinese Communist sources in London said Chou also will try to line up the somewhat disarrayed Communist world into a solid front against "U.S. imperialism.")

Ranking comrades from 12 other Communist regimes are arriving for Saturday's observances. The occasion will in effect be a full-dress post-Khrushchev Communist summit.

Communist sources said Chou will find that Kremlin policy remains the same as it was before Khrushchev's downfall, though it may be expressed in more tactical terms.

The sources say Khrushchev's hammer-and-tongs approach to the Chinese was one of the reasons he lost his job.

But the hard differences remain and there is no prospect of their being dissolved soon: disputed territory along the Chinese-Russian border, rivalry for leadership of the Communist world, disagreement about the feasibility of peaceful coexistence with the West.
