Reunited After 23 Years Apart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Stefania Rukas, who was kidnapped from her Lithuanian home by the Soviet police in 1941 and interned in a Siberian labor camp for 15 years, was reunited Friday with her husband and daughter she had not seen in 23 years.

With Christmas joy expressed in tears, Mrs. Rukas was greeted by her husband Konstantinas and their now-grown daughter Nijole. She was whisked to her new home in Connecticut and a sumptuous holiday dinner.

On June 13, 1941, as a precaution against a mounting wave of Stalinist terror against Lithuanian intellectuals, Rukas, a school principal, took 3-year-old Nijole away from their home in Kaunas. They found refuge at the nearby farm home of Rukas' mother.

Mrs. Rukas, then 34, remained at home. The secret police came that midnight and sent her off to Siberia.

Not until Friday, in an emotion-fraught reunion at Kennedy International Airport here, did Mrs. Rukas again set eyes on her husband and daughter.

With tearful hugs and kisses, the Rukas family was reunited on Christmas. It also was Mrs. Rukas' 58th birthday.

Nijole, a pretty 26-year-old brunette graduate student, cried unabashedly and said of her mother: "she looks wonderful."

Mrs. Rukas, her dark hair now flecked with gray, also was in tears.

"I am so happy but I am also very tired," she said. Her long separation from her family was climaxed by 20 days of traveling.

Snowballs Irk North Koreans

SINGAPORE (UPI) — The Communists in Korea complain that the cold war has gotten colder at a sentry post in the truce zone, it was reported today.

Radio Pyongyang said the Reds have filed a formal protest with the truce commission, charging that U.S. troops have taken to throwing snowballs at Communists sentries and making "offensive gestures."

"Between Dec. 6 and '20, guards of the U.S. side threw snowballs at the Korean-Chinese sentry post 12 times," according to the broadcast monitored here. "They also made offensive gestures to provoke personnel on the Korean-Chinese side."

Three Seminaries To Be Accredited

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Three more seminaries, two of them in Indiana, will join the Accredited Theological Schools of Ohio and Indiana next July 1, expanding the organization to seven members.

Dr. Walter N. Roberts, chairman of the group and president of the United Theological Seminary here, announced the expansion Thursday.

New members of the organization will be Mennonite Biblical Seminary, Elkhart, Ind., St. Meinrad Seminary, St. Meinrad, Ind., and St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio.

The original member schools are Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis; Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary, Columbus, Ohio; Hanna School of Theology, Springfield, Ohio; and United Theological Seminary.
