He has been whispered out loud that Ed. went to see his best girl last week. He is not amenable to the law, for that however, but fearing an approaching storm, his better judgment dictated that he run his bugzy into the barn for shelter. But while he could best entertain his lady love on that occasion, he kept on pushing his buggy and when found was landed in the hay mow where he was surprised to find it, having no recollection of getting the vehicle in so lofty a position.

We know that a miller gets cursings and blessings from the same batch of flour.
 That the difference is much between when you owe the other fellow or the other fellow owes you. That Decatur should have a Union depot. That Emanuel Neaderhouser will be a boy as long as he lives.
 That spring is coming, coming like Annie. That Wm. Schlagenhauf is hard to beat on a foot race. That Berne could hustle Decatur as a competitor for the county fair.

Hot Springs, Arkansas.

We are in receipt of a letter from our friend and fellow townsman, Dr. T. T. Dor-win, dated Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 27, 1893, which we herewith give our readers the contents thereof:

The Springs of Arkansas have got to be a resort visited by people living in all the States of the Union and also from across the water. The speculators are making it a semi-tropical resort now, being visited by a class of high livered at home who want to soak out the impurities and spirits that have been accumulating during years of dissipation; also great on horse back riding, following the hounds in fox chasing, ladies as well as gentlemen. That is the class the natives make the large profits off of. It costs that class from $10 to $40 per day, while the more modest visitor can live just as well on $6 to $12 per week, outside of bathing. The Government owns the Hot Springs mountain o' hill, and furnishes bathing facilities free to all those who wish to avail themselves of it. Make allowance for disappointed brevity, as I am in poor condition to write interestingly. Am a little better in some respects, and worse in others, so I will call it a stand-off. T. T. D.

Piles of people here piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them. Holt-house, Blackburn & Co.
