

CURED AT 73 YEARS.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure Victorious.
No other medicine can show such a record. Here is a veritable patriarch, 73 years of age, with strong prejudice to overcome, who had Heart Disease 15 years. He took the New Heart Cure and is now sound and well.

SAMUEL O. STONE.

Grass Lake, Mich., Dec. 28, 1894.
I have been troubled with heart disease 15 years or more. Most of the time I was so bad it was not safe for me to go out alone. I had dizzy spells, would cause fainting. I had severe palpitation, shortness of breath and sudden pains that rendered me helpless. All physicians did for me was to advise keeping quiet. In August last I commenced taking

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and before I had finished the first bottle I found the medicine was a God-send. I have now used four bottles in all and am feeling entirely well. I am 73 years of age and have held a grudge against patent medicines all my life, but I will not allow this to prevent giving my testimony to the great cure your valuable remedy has wrought in me. I do this to show my appreciation of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 bottles for $5.00, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Prosperous Farmers.

Yankton Press and Dakotian: In Yankton County, South Dakota, there are at least one thousand farmers who came here poor as the proverbial turkey of Job, and who to-day count their worldly possessions by thousands. Many of them started in with a house built of sod, and almost empty handed so far as horses and cattle go. To-day they occupy fine dwelling houses, have large barns, fine horses, cattle, hogs and sheep, granaries filled with grain, fruit orchards, and money in hand. We mention this to show that South Dakota farmers are the prosperous class. Prosperity is the rule—not the exception. With fair prices for grain and live stock they would be rolling in wealth. Prices, however, have nothing to do with the fertility of the soil and the favorable character of the climate. These natural advantages are here to stay and assure prosperity to the farming classes.

A copy of an illustrated pamphlet on "Irrigation in South Dakota," just issued by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R'y, can be had by addressing Robt. C. Jones, traveling passenger agent, Cincinnati, O. 68342 3w2

SENT IN THE SERVICE

After Being Called to Account by the Supreme Court.

RECEIVER FOR HAMMOND LAND.

Rensselaer to Become a City—Dead Man at Valparaiso Thought to Be From Chicago—Appportionment Suit Postponed. Business Man Sentenced for Contempt. Indiana News Notes.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 4.—The supreme court issued an order yesterday for the sheriff of Carroll county to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to promptly serve and return an order of court in the famous Bowen tax case. During the day the sheriff sent a telegram stating that the service had been mailed. Recently the Treasurer of Carroll county compromised a claim against the Bowen estate for back taxes, but the state tax commissioners set up that the interests of the state were not cared for and, through the attorney general, the commissioners are seeking to have the old case reopened, in order to bring suit on behalf of the state for $11,000. There is said to be much feeling in Carroll county against the tax commissioners because of this attempt to come into a settlement which is regarded as final, and this may account for the alleged dilatory action of the sheriff.

Lispenard's Family Fears He Has Been Foully Dealt With.

MISSING SINCE LAST NOVEMBER.

Royal Arcanum In Session at Richmond. Valparaiso Citizens Ask For Old Rates. Permit to Build a Log Cabin. Danville Normal College Opened. Brief Notes of Indiana.

LOANSPOUT, Ind., April 3.—The disappearance of Charles Lispenard of this city, deputy supreme high chief ranger of the Foresters, is causing alarm. He went to Vincennes early in November to institute a court of Foresters, and afterward sent word to his family that he was on the track of a murderer and might be detained for several days. Since then nothing has been heard of him, although his family has succeeded in tracing him to Cairo, Ills., where he told a hotel proprietor that he intended making a short trip down the Mississippi river in a skiff, after which he would proceed by rail to Memphis. Mr. Lispenard came into prominence some months ago by exploding the Cox-Myers conspiracy at Elwood to defraud the Foresters and other mutual benefit insurance companies, during which he made a number of exceedingly bitter enemies. His domestic relations were pleasant, and the fear is now forced upon his wife and children that he has been murdered. Not the slightest trace of him is obtainable since he left Cairo in November.

ONLY EARTHWORMS.

YET THEY HAVE CUT QUITE A FIGURE IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY.

The Worm Has No Eyes and No Sense of Hearing, but Is Sensitive to Strong Light and Vibrations of Sound—Objects of Antiquity Preserved by Earthworms.

The common earthworm, despised by man and heedlessly trodden underfoot, fulfills a part in nature that would seem incredible but for the facts revealed by the patient and long continued researches of Darwin. "Worms," says Darwin, "have played a more important part in the history of the world than most persons would at first suppose." Let us follow Darwin and see how this apparently insignificant creature has changed the face of nature. We will first consider the habits and mode of life of the earthworm. As every one knows, the worms live in burrows in the superficial layer of the ground. They can live anywhere in a layer of earth, provided it retains moisture; dry air being fatal to them. They can, on the other hand, exist submerged in water for several months. They live chiefly in the superficial mold less than a foot below the surface, but in long continued dry weather and in very cold seasons they may burrow to a depth of eight feet. The burrows are lined by a thin layer of earth, voided by the worms, and end in small chambers in which they can turn round.

The burrows are formed partly by pushing away the earth, but chiefly by the earth being swallowed. Large quantities of earth are swallowed by the worms for the sake of the decomposing vegetable matter contained in it, on which they feed. The earth thus swallowed is voided in spiral heaps, forming the worm castings. In this case the worm obtains food and at the same time excavates its burrows.

In addition to the food thus obtained half decayed leaves are dragged into the burrows, mainly for food, but also to plug the mouths of the burrows for the sake of protection. Worms are also fond of meat, especially fat. They will also eat the dead bodies of their relatives. They are nocturnal in habit, remaining, as a rule, in the burrows during the day and coming out to feed at night.

The earthworm has no eyes, but is affected by strong light if exposed to it for some time. It has no sense of hearing, but is sensitive to the vibrations of sound. The whole body is sensitive to touch. There appears to be some sense of smell, but this is limited to a certain articles of food, which are discovered by the worm when buried in earth, in preference to other bodies not relished. The worm appears to have some degree of intelligence from the way in which it draws the leaves into its burrows, always judging which is the best end to draw them in by. This is remarkable in a so lowly organized animal, being a degree of intelligence not possessed by many animals of more complex organization. For instance, the ant can often be seen dragging objects along traversely instead of taking them the easiest way.

As we have seen, vast quantities of earth are continually being passed through the bodies of worms and voided on the surface as castings. When it is stated that the number of worms in an acre of ordinary land suitable for them to live in is 50,000, we can imagine the great effect which they must have on the soil.

They are, in fact, continually plowing the land. At one part of the alimentary canal of the worm is a gizzard, or hard muscular organ, capable of grinding food into fine particles. It is this gizzard which is the main factor in triturating the soil, and it is aided by small stones swallowed with the earth, which act as mill stones.

In consequence of the immense amount of earth continually being brought to the surface by worms it is not difficult to understand how objects, such as stones, rocks, etc., lying on the surface will in course of time become gradually buried in the ground. Owing to the burial of stones and other objects by the action of worms, ancient monuments, portions of Roman villas and other objects of antiquity have been preserved. These have been gradually buried by the worms and so preserved from the destructive effect of rain and wind. Many Roman remains were studied by Darwin, and traces of the action of worms found, to which action their preservation was mainly due. The sinking of the foundations of old buildings is due to the action of worms, and no building is safe from this unless the foundations are laid lower than the level at which the worms can work—namely, about eight feet below the surface.

Another useful effect produced by worms is the preparation of the soil for the growth of seedlings. By their agency the soil is periodically sifted and exposed to the air, and in this way is able to return moisture and absorb soluble substances of use for the nutrition of plants.
