This office takes off their hat to William Hoagland who presented us with a half bushel of good eating apples, from which no bad effects are yet manifest. The more you eat the better they taste and under such a strain they will not last long. Mr. Hoagland is one of those fortunate individuals who understands the weakness of humanity including the direct route to the heart of a printer.

The state board of health has asked all railroad companies doing business in Indiana to see that their employes are vaccinated and that their passenger cars are regularly cleaned and disinfected so as to lessen the liability of spreading smallpox contagion. Dr. Hurty, secretary of the board, says he is fully convinced that the companies will obey the request. The order if issued will apply to trainmen, those who engage in handling baggage and in fact all employees who come in contact with the traveling public who have not already been vaccinated. If the companies heed the order thousands of railroad men will be going around with sore arms during the summer.

Do you know it is a splendid thing to think that the woman you really love will never grow old to you? Through the wrinkles of time, through the mask of years, if you really love her, you will always see the face you loved and won. And a woman who really loves a man does not see that he grows old; he is not decrepit to her; he does not tremble; he is not old; she sees the same gallant gentleman who won her hand and heart. I like to think of it that way; I like to think that love is eternal. And to love in that way and then go down the hill of life together, and as you go down, hear perhaps the laughter of grandchildren, while the birds of joy and love sing once more in the leafless branches of the tree of age.—Ingersoll.
