C. A. Reed and wife of Fremont, Ohio, returned to their home at Fremont, Ohio, after visiting with Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Parrish of Monroe.

Mrs. Peter Colchin was pleasantly surprised last Sunday by friends, the occasion being her fortieth birthday anniversary. Quite a crowd was present and the event was certainly a pleasant one for all, and was the result of plans carefully made by her children.

Andy Schurmer left on Tuesday night for Lawton, a growing city located in southern Oklahoma, where he will make his future home. A number of his friends called last evening to say their farewells and bid him success. We join them in their good wishes.

Dr. and Mrs. Roy Anshold entertained the Whist Club last evening at their home on Fifth street, and to be sure it was an enjoyable event. High scores were made by Mrs. Ellingham and J. H. Heller. The visitors were Miss Rose Christen and W. A. Kaubler. Refreshments were served.

The only bidder on the smoke and wood house to be built at the county infirmary, that was filed before the board of commissioners was that of J. D. Weikel, his price being $550. The fate of the building is in the hands of the county council as it requires their approval of an estimate to this amount before the same can be contracted. The new building is a necessity.

The attendance at the Methodist church Sunday was large. Rev. C. G. Hudson delivered one of his practical sermons, one that was straight to the point and needed no microscope for a better view. It was a good, thoughtful and truthful sermon delivered from the heart of a minister who preaches the gospel as he sees it.

A gentleman very closely associated with the east and west proposed traction line that would intersect either Geneva, Berne or Bryant, was in town last Saturday and dropped the remark that Geneva was a preferable point on the line and by hands on the part of our citizens there would be no doubt but what Geneva could have an east and west traction line. Our citizens should not let an opportunity to get the road pass as it would undoubtedly prove a great benefit to the town. Geneva Herald.

Major Allison writes from Birmingham, Alabama, that the thermometer registers in the close proximity of forty-six, and that to us sounds too good to be true. He reports the weather perfect and that he is thoroughly enjoying his visit in the southern clime. With Mrs. Allison he is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Frederick G. Macke.

We are in receipt of a letter from J. H. Stultz of Longmont, Colorado, and it is interesting as usual. Among other things he includes a postal order for the necessary amount of pay for the Democrat a year. He also sends us a newspaper clipping which tells of a $1,000,000 beet sugar factory to be erected there at once. The new plant will have a capacity of 1,200 tons per day and will certainly be a great industry.

The most valuable reference book that one can possess reached us today, in the shape of the Indianapolis Sentinel almanac. It is an encyclopedia of historical and statistical facts that will several times pay the price of the book before the end of 1933. It contains statistics of an official, agricultural and historical nature and state, national and general information and can be purchased of the Sentinel company for twenty-five cents. It is the biggest thing of its kind you ever saw, and every man of business should possess one.

Otto Seitz the young son of Charles Seitz living in the west part of town fell off a chair at the home of his grandfather Peter Seitz and it is feared fractured his jaw. While playing in a room where his grandmother was doing some sewing he accidentally fell off of a chair striking his jaw and hurting it very badly. Before medical aid could be summoned his jaw was swollen to such a proportion that hardly anything could be done and nothing positive can be learned as to how badly he is hurt until the swelling goes down. The accident is causing the boy intense pain.

Good Advice.—The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people of the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects, such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual constipation, palpitation of the heart, heartburn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac. Blackburn & Christen.

Many people often wonder why it is necessary to bring action in the courts in order to have a man confined in jail on an insanity charge. This results on account of the law which provides that no citizen shall be deprived of his liberty without a cause being made out against him. It is impossible to confine a man in jail and keep him from enjoying his liberty without bringing action against him through the courts.

Notice.—We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, biliousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottle, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Blackburn & Christen. If

The appellate court has just given a construction to the act of 1909 which required all assignments of mortgages to be in writing and to be recorded within forty-five days, under penalty of forfeiting ten per cent of the mortgage debt to the state, or to the debtor in case suit for foreclosure is brought before the state has sued for the penalty. It rejected the theory that the act was intended to give information to the taxing officers, and held that the mere transfer of notes secured by a mortgage within the act, so as to make the mortgage subject to a penalty for not recording it.

The Decatur Daily Democrat, Vol. 1, No. 1, has reached this office. The Democrat is one of the staid democratic organs of northern and eastern Indiana, and under the direction of Lew Ellingham has prospered. The daily edition has been thought advisable and starts out under most auspicious circumstances. The appearance of the paper is of the very finest and the sheet, which is a six column folio, is filled with breezy news items of both local and general interest. All access to Mr. Ellingham and his new venture and congratulations to the democrat of Adams county.—Huntington News-Democrat.

A story which comes from good authority, says the Bluffton News, was phoned over from Montpelier Friday night. It was concerning a little trouble Andy Rapp had with the gas company, of which he is a consumer. The company had sent a delinquent gas bill to Andy amounting to $4.10. After reading the bill he sat down and wrote one against the gas company for $4.10 for tallow. The manager of the company became indignant, and knowing that they had never purchased any tallow from Andy he went out to look for him. When he found him he said: "See here, Andy, what do you mean by sending us a bill for $4.10 for tallow? Why, we never got any tallow from you." "No," says Andy, "and I never got any gas from you, either."

Dislocated her shoulder. Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Ferrus Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep, which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by Holthouse Drug Co.

ANTI-TRUST BILL

Congress Preparing to Get Busy On This Important Measure.

As Soon as Committee is Ready to Report, Everything Else Will Be Sidetracked for It.

Leaders in the House Have Already Agreed to This Sort of Program.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The indications are that the present week will witness the passage by the house of the anti-trust measures preparing by the judiciary committee. The subcommittee which is at work on the bill expect to have it ready to report to the full committee tomorrow, and no delay is expected in the full committee. It is still possible that a separate measure will be reported to cover the publicity features. As soon as the measure or measures are reported everything will be sidetracked, and they will be brought into the house. The leaders already have agreed to this course and a special order for consideration will be prepared. No decision has yet been reached as to the length of time which will be allowed for discussion, or whether opportunity will be given for amendment. The Democrats will desire extended debate but owing to the lateness of the session it is not probable that more than two days at most will be allowed. It is more likely to be a single day. At least the members of the subcommittee which is preparing the bill is of opinion that a day will be ample. The question of opening the bill to amendment presents many difficulties, and in order to prevent a flood of propositions of all sorts the rule probably will limit the amendment at least to those pending when the time allotted for consideration expires.

Appropriation bills probably will occupy the time of the house to the exclusion of everything else if the anti-trust bill does not appear in the arena. The District of Columbia consular and diplomatic and Indian bills are on the calendar. The bill to grant Alaska representation in the house through a delegate is a continuing order beginning Wednesday, but the rule for its consideration provides that it shall not interfere with appropriation bills, so it can be used as a stop-gap when ever appropriation bills or other important matters are not pending.

IN THE SENATE

Three Important Measures Are Claiming for Attention.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The statehood bill, the immigration bill and the Cuban reciprocity treaty will vie with each other in demanding the attention of the senate during the present week, and the probabilities are that before the close of the week all of them will be displaced temporarily by the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. The last-named measure has been under consideration at the hands of a subcommittee of the senate committee on appropriations for the past two weeks and was laid before the full committee today. Its consideration by the full committee will be completed at one or two sittings, and as soon as possible it will be taken up in the senate, the purpose being to present consideration of the appropriation bills as rapidly as possible in order to avoid necessity for an extra session. The present indications are that the Cuban treaty will be before the senate for some time to come. Whatever may be its ultimate fate, there is no doubt that the present disposition is to discuss it at a considerable length. All efforts looking to a compromise on the statehood bill appear for the time to have been abandoned, and both sides now claim that it is their purpose to fight it out on the lines already drawn. The trust question is receiving no little attention at the hands of senators, but their talk is confined largely to the cloakrooms. Senators generally express the opinion that some conservative trust measure will be gotten through during the present session, but all of them recognize the difficulty of agreeing on measures affecting such vast interests and involving such important principles as will any bill on the subject of trusts.

Gonzales May Recover.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 13.—There are more encouraging symptoms in the condition of Editor N. G. Gonzales than have appeared at any time since his wounding by Lieutenant Governor Tillman last Thursday, yet it is impossible to make any prediction as to the ultimate result of his case. The physicians will only say that he is holding his own and that he has probably passed the period of danger from peritonitis. One of the physicians says that if Gonzales lives until Tuesday without unfavorable developments he will have an even chance of recovery.
