

Bishop McCabe, the noted Methodist, gave expression to a sentiment of feeling concerning the Turks that will find a hearty endorsement in the minds of many people in this country when he said during the recent Methodist conference at Los Angeles: "I should like to see another war. I should like to see Admiral Dewey sail up the Bosphorus with his biggest ships and send word to the sultan that the massacre of Christians must stop. Since we have been in this conference the Turks have destroyed forty three towns, killing women and children. How long, ho Lowordong shall this endure?"

W. H. Shepherd was in the city Friday completing arrangements for drilling the test oil wells on Judge Erwins farm. He desires to secure leases of 1000 acres of land in the vicinity and he must have these in his possession before he began drilling. It is believed he will have accomplished this part of his plan by tomorrow when the articles will be signed up. It is thought now that the rig will be brought here by the first of the week and drilling begin by a week from this time. Mr. Shepherd as well as other oil men of good judgement believe the territory is good and that a new field will be the result of the present investigation.

Mr. Jamison, of Chicago, who desires to locate a factory here for the manufacture of gasoline stoves will arrive in the city tomorrow and would like to meet every citizen who is interested in the future welfare of the town at the Commercial Club rooms at Eight o'clock tomorrow evening. When he will state his proposition and hopes to close up a deal for bringing his factory here. He has a number of good patents and his proposition will undoubtedly be a good one, mean a profit for the stockholders and a good industry for the city. This concern asks only to sell a small amount of stock and Mr. Jamison comes recommended as a first class citizen and hustler. It may pay you to attend the meeting tomorrow evening.

An important legal question was involved in the case of John C. Snee, paymaster of the Panhandle railway to recover $200,000 from the City National bank of Logansport taken by the sheriff to satisfy two judgments against the company. "At the close of the hearing of the case Judge Anderson announced that his decision would be in favor of the defendant and Snee's attorneys asked that he withhold his decision a week. This was granted but before the time for the decision to be announced Snee's attorneys went into court and dismissed the case, thus avoiding a decision of that kind going on record as it might have great effect hereafter. "If the decision had been rendered every sheriff who had an unpaid judgment against a railroad company could wait until the pay car came around and then by main force, as was done at Logansport, hold up the paymaster and take the cash. The prospect of such action becoming common was not at all to the liking of the railroad companies. —Sentinel.

The officers of the Great Northern Indiana Fair are already busy with the preparations for their exhibit for 1904, the dates for which are August 30 and 31 and September 1 and 2. Contracts have already been made with the Hoagland Bros. free attraction which is the best of its kind in the country. It is the intention of those in charge to spare no expense, time or money in making this exhibit the greatest of them all and that they will succeed goes without saying. Those in charge are the kind of men that do things, and it is time now for the public to begin manifesting the interest that will help them to carry out the plans adopted. The reputation already attained by the Great Northern Indiana Fair extends to many states and territories and we surmise that after the success of this year it will extend even farther.

Editor Fred Rohrer was here Thursday and deposited with the county auditor five bulky documents, which will renew the saloon war at Berne. Each remonstrance is in general terms, and remonstrates against the granting of liquor licenses to William Sheets, Jacob Hunziker, Samuel Sprunger, and Samuel L Kuntz of Berne and Joseph Hocker of Monroe, the five applicants for license in Monroe township. Each remonstrance is signed by Fred Rohrer as attorney in fact for 423 citizens and voters of that township, or at least is supposed to be. A few weeks ago a canvass of the business men in Berne revealed the fact that an overwhelming percent of them favored the open policy, but Mr. Rohrer claims that no agreement was made not to remonstrate and also claims that the sentiment regarding that little event was greatly magnified and over estimated. Be that as it may, the cases will again be threshed out in commissioner's court during their session which begins next Monday.

The time to hunt squirrels is not this month, contrary to the expectation of many hunters. In former times June 1 has always marked the advent of the squirrel law but the last legislature changed this for several reasons. At this season of the year the squirrels are some of them too young to have any cunning and they fall an easy prey to the gun of the hunter. A few months added to their period of safety will make them harder to kill and will give them a better chance for their life. This year it is unlawful to kill squirrels before the first day of August. At that time, however, they may be killed and from that time on to the first of January. This gives the hunters five months of shooting, certainly enough to go after these harmless little rodents. The fines that may be imposed for violations of the game law are pretty severe and there are many people who see that they are enforced if they can catch any person hunting. For every squirrel in possession of a hunter before the time specified by law, a fine of $10 can be imposed to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed ten days. Game wardens are lurking anywhere about the county and it would be well for the hunters to properly serve the law in this respect.
