PITTSBURG WANTS GANZEL.

Pirate Team in Need of a Good First Baseman.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 27.—The Pittsburg ball club has opened negotiations for John Ganzel, captain-manager of the Cincinnati Reds last year. Garry Hermann has made it known that he will not retain Ganzel either at first base or as manager next year. Pittsburg patrons are strong in condemnation of the owners of the club for not having a first baseman last season. They think the Pirates would have won the pennant if it had a first class man there.

Sam Blythe, the man who writes "Who's Who and Why" for the Saturday Evening Post claims to have seen his first corn in Indiana and was surprised to see that it looked as it did; so he says. This was undoubtedly one of Blythe's jokes, for he probably came off the farm, pulled weeds out of the corn, wore out a couple of husk-picks a season, and made hominy with lye in an old tub just like the rest of the boys who went to the city and made good.—Bluffton News.

EXPLODE PETARD AS JOKE.

Malicious Persons Cause Much Excitement at Barcelona, Spain.

Barcelona, Oct. 26.—The authorities were greatly alarmed this afternoon by the explosion of a petard in one of the streets, but the police, after an investigation, expressed themselves as attaching no importance to the incident, as the King Alfonso and Queen Victoria were not within miles. The police regard it as a malicious joke, but they have searched in vain for the authors of it. Earlier in the day the King and Queen visited the French squadron lying in the harbor and their launch came into collision with a steam ferry with such violence that several of those on board were thrown to the deck. For a moment there was something of a panic, but an examination showed that the damage was only superficial and both boats were able to proceed.

The semi-annual meeting of the 12th district medical society will be held today at Fort Wayne and a large number of the local physicians will be in attendance. This twelfth district has nothing whatever to do with the congressional districts but is a division of the state organization of this society. An invitation was issued to the local society as well as to many other doctors in northern Indiana and it is expected to have several hundred doctors in attendance. One of the special features of the meeting will be the demonstration of the bloodless surgery advocated by Dr. Lorenz, the Austrian surgeon, who reduced the crippled hip of the daughter of Armour, the millionaire meat packer. A Chicago surgeon will repeat the same operation which Dr. Lorenz performed at several times during his stay in this country and which created so much comment at that time in medical circles.

The report of a sad and tragic accident which resulted in the death

Mrs. Clarence Keizer, a highly respected young lady of Hartford, town-and, which was received Tuesday evening just in time for a mention, caused sorrow to the many acquaintances here. The accident occurred Monday morning. Mrs. Keizer was cooking in an old shanty in some Hartford township near where her husband was at work. In some her dress caught fire, probably from fire which fell from the stove onto the floor. Before she knew it the flames had reached her hair. She was in the little building, and rushed into the air, screaming. Rapidly flames enveloped her, burning her clothes entirely off and burning her body to a crisp from head to foot. Her husband and other men arrived at the place soon found her in a pitiful condition. Drs. Price and Graham from Geneva arrived in a half hour, and did what they could to relieve her, but she died at three o'clock that afternoon. She was conscious several hours and told the story of what happened. She was about twenty-two years old and had been married but about a year. The funeral services were held yesterday at 2 o'clock at the White Oak church. A sad affair cast a gloom over the community where she was held in esteem.

WHISKY MEN LOSE FIGHT.

Baltimore, Oct. 26.—The first of so-called "whisky seizure" cases under the pure food and drug law was decided today in favor of the government. The case has been on trial the United States district court before Judge Morris and a jury for a week.

The defendants were the Louisiana Distilling company of New Orleans and the charge was a violation of the pure food and drugs act in branding forty-five barrels of light "bourbon whisky" which the government contended was a product of molasses and other materials, and in sense what the branding indicated.

The fire escapes have been placed on the West Ward school building are now ready to be inspected by the state inspector.
