

We believe we are not too premature in announcing this morning that Colonel Cumming, of Missouri has been appointed Governor of Utah, and that he intends to remove his family thither with the view of making that Territory his permanent residence. Col. Cumming is a gentleman of tried official integrity and of large experience in frontier life. Possessing great personal courage, of a conciliatory nature, yet prompt and energetic in the discharge of duty, he brings to the important responsibilities which he has assumed the most essential qualities for success in the delicate, and even dangerous, mission which has been confided to him.

The difficulties to be encountered in Utah are more numerous and complicated than is now generally supposed. Among them may be incidentally mentioned that Brigham Young claims a title to all the lands in the Territory, and has never recognized the United States surveys. None of his followers have purchased lands in accordance with our laws. Hence, one of the delicate duties of the federal courts of that Territory will be to establish and maintain the rights of those who may hereafter purchase in accordance with our laws. Not an individual in all Utah now holds a foot of land the title of which is derived from the United States, and it follows, under this strange condition of things, that all parts of the Territory are at the present time open to pre-emption.—Union.
