J. H. HELLER, MANAGER.

When Attorney Shaffer Peterson asked us through the Decatur Journal to write again he may have anticipated these questions: Were you, Mr. Peterson, out of stationery in your office when you prepared that electric light franchise, or why did you go to Attorney C. J. Lutz's office and get some of his paper, and how did you get it? At the citizens' meeting held here on Tuesday evening, September 10th, William Sheets repeatedly stated that you are Clerk J. Lutz's partner. Did Mr. Sheets get this false information from you?—Bernie Witness.

Amusements.

"We have an HONEST MAN for Governor." Who? HON. JOHN NORTH.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was given to the public at a time when all civilized humanity were hesitating between their prejudices and their established modes of thought and the growing conviction felt in their innermost heart that slavery was all wrong. One result was the testimony of many colored persons and fugitive slaves who said to Mrs. Stowe, since that book has come to everybody is good to us." "We find friends everywhere." "It's wonderful how kind everybody is." Among the noble ladies of England the book had many fervent admirers. It is a significant fact the Queen of England, in concurrence with Prince Albert, steadily resisted every attempt to enlist against the Northern states. In fact the appearance of this work developed the latent sentiment work against slavery and was a potent factor in enlisting men in the ranks of those actively engaged in suppressing it. Palmer's colossal spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin will appear at the opera house, Saturday, Oct. 2.

GETTING BUSY.

Congressional Candidates Building Fences.

M. M. Dunlap of Anderson, Has Begun His Campaign for Congress.

There's something doing in political circles among the republican brethren in Bluffton. In the last twenty-four hours two prominent eighth district leaders have been in conference with local leaders. They were none other than M. M. Dunlap of Anderson and "Foxy" George Cromer, of Muncie. Hon. George knew that the man who is after his scalp was in town, no one knows. But George has a faculty of following his enemies like a Pinkerton detective. Dunlap was here to fix three men yesterday, who will work the Wells county nomination for him at this coming delegating convention, and Cromer was here to see what encouragement Dunlap had received. Everyone in the republican camp knows that Dunlap is the brains of the party in the race, but they are afraid to say so for fear Cromer will go after them or their friends. Cromer says he is going to get a complete rural route system for Wells county if he has to get additional inspectors to work them out. But he will have a hard time to explain how he is going to get the second route out of Liberty Center that he promised a year ago. Everyone knows that the republican postmasters in his district were his best friends two years ago, but will they support him for another nomination after he has deceived them so? Watch for Dunlap to capture the Wells county delegation.—Bluffton Banner.

PROBING GOES ON

Federal Grand Jury Finds More Indictments in Post-office Cases.

Beavers and Green Came in for a Further Share of the Inquisitors' Attention.

Scott Towers is Also Named in the Latest Batch of Indictments.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The grand jury of the supreme court of the District of Columbia has brought in three more indictments in connection with the postoffice department investigation. One was a joint indictment against George W. Beavers, formerly chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, and State Senator George A. Green of Binghamton, N. Y. This indictment was brought on the general ground that they entered into a conspiracy to defraud the government. This, it is alleged, they accomplished in the sale of time clocks, from which sale they were enabled to reap a reward because of Mr. Beavers' connection with the department by which the clocks were purchased.

The other two indictments were against Scott Towers, who has charge of one of the principal sub-postoffice stations in Washington. He is accused of having received a commission on the sale of book typewriting machines to the government in violation of the statute which prohibits officers or employees of the United States from receiving other compensation than their salaries for procuring contracts from the government, or for services rendered.

The present grand jury will adjourn finally next Monday, and the expectation is that a number of other post-office indictments will be returned on that day.

Immediately after receiving information of the indictment of Towers, the postmaster general issued an order to Postmaster Merritt of Washington dismissing Towers from office.

In the joint indictment against Beavers and Green, the specific accusation is that Green, as the agent of the International Time Recording company, made an agreement with Beavers to the effect that if Beavers would allow Green to have the contract for furnishing the postoffice department with the time machines Beavers would receive as compensation for his services 10 per cent of the sales.

The two indictments against Towers alleged that he received in all about $1,800 for aiding a typewriter company to procure the contract for providing typewriters for various post-offices, and that he received $50 out of every $200 paid by the government to the company. Henry J. Gensler and Henry J. Gensler, Jr., are named as the agents through whom Towers did business with the typewriting firm, which is a New York concern. Towers appeared at the city hall with his attorney, and gave bond in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance.

Plans for the Campaign. Chicago, Oct. 2.—Parties in every state in the Union under the personal direction of the officers and members of the executive committee of the Republican National League, reinforced by a heavy oratorical battery, is a part of the plans for the campaign for the re-election of President Roosevelt considered at a conference of the representatives of that organization at the Auditorium Annex. It was proposed that the officers of the league shall make a tour of the country, conducting Republican love-feasts at every center as the best means to bring about Republican success.
