J. H. HELLER, M. NAGER.

It is to be Governor Adams of Colorado, the republican supreme court of that state refusing to prosecute the court in order to give republicans office.

Col. Baker of the Columbia City Commercial, wins out in the post-office fight that had developed almost a national contest. The new congressman from the twelfth district has developed into quite a diplomat, as this appointment message newspaper retirement for Editor Baker, and the peaceful settlement of a disagreeable factional strife. It also shows that the average republican is willing to sacrifice his independence for the emoluments of public office.

It is now Governor Hanley in fact as well as in name. Since his election Indiana's new governor has given many evidences of being a chief executive that will reflect credit upon such an important commonwealth. Of course John W. Kern would perhaps have come nearer representing the common people, but as we can not always get the best, the progressive spirit of this century teaches us to be satisfied with that which we have. We congratulate Governor Hanley and wish him a prosperous and successful official life.

A GOOD ONE

County Institute Held at Berne Saturday.

The Adams County institute that was held Saturday at Berne, was one of the best institutes that the Adams County association has ever held. The attendance far surpassed all expectations and many had to be turned away. The program introduced brought forth some excellent paper. The best one probably was furnished by C. E. Brenner whose subject was "Teaching Agriculture in Rural Schools," after which a general discussion of the subject was had. The meeting was presided over by C. D. Kunkle, of Monmouth, who conducted the meeting in his usual easy manner. The program also consisted of music and recitations, all of which were well received by the audience. Mr. Kunkle is enthusiastic of the the result of the institute and says the same is increasing in interest with each event.

HAS ESCAPED

Dan Twigg Broke Away From the Logansport Hospital.

Logansport Ind., Jan. 8.—Daniel Twigg, who was brought from Warsaw and placed in Longcliffes hospital for the insane two weeks ago, made his escape Thursday night and all search for him has been in vain. It is supposed he got away on a freight train. Twigg is the man who shot three men on a Pennsylvania passenger train near Warsaw several months ago, and he is a dangerous man to be at large. He seems sane on all subjects except being under the impression that enemies are pursuing him for the purpose of killing him.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Popkins Entertained Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Popkins yesterday afternoon and evening entertained a number of their friends at their beautiful home on Fifth street, and from all reports the occasion will be long remembered by those present. The afternoon was devoted to playing numerous games. At promptly six o'clock all the guests were invited to step into the spacious dining room where they were seated at a table on which all the dainties of the season were presented, and a meal fit for a king was served. After the meal finished the evening was delightfully spent in numerous pastimes, and at a late hour all departed, voting Mr. and Mrs. Popkins fine entertainers.

BOWLING ALLEY

E. S. Ball, of Mattoon, Illinois, to Open One Here.

Reliable information has been received in this city from Mattoon, Ill., that one Everett L. Ball, will in a few days ship his New Brunswick bowling alleys from that place and open up a fine bowling alley in this place. He has secured the old window screen building which was formerly occupied by a bowling alley, and which can again be pressed into service with little or no expense. Mr. Ball will put in two alleys, which are new, having only been used two weeks, and only lightly at that. Decatur will without doubt support a first-class alley and Mr. Ball will meet with success here.

DOMESTIC DIPLOMACY.

Grimes—I suppose you tell your wife everything when you get home? Grant—No, not everything. Grimes—Of course not, but the things she wants to know. Grant—My dear fellow, those are the things I don't tell her. I use up so much time telling her the things she doesn't care to know that there is no time left for her to question me about the things she does want to know.—Boston Transcript.

GET OUT OF THE RUT.

It is never best to travel in a rut. It is wearisome. It is nerve destroying. Wise people choose the smoother road, or if that road must be traveled they try to fill up the ruts with stones and gravel. There is such a thing as getting out of the rut, and the world would be better and happier if more of us did it.

CHARM OF POVERTY.

Poverty adds a thousand charms to love. If there is more than enough for all one never knows the pleasure of choosing the nastiest piece of bacon when there are only two on the dish and love sits opposite.—Hubert Henry Davies.

THE SHALLOWS MURMUR.

"He talks a great deal about his family tree."

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "A family tree is much like other trees—the smallest twigs do most of the rustling."—Washington Star.

TWO VARIETIES OF UNPOPULAR MEN.

There are two kinds of unpopular men—first, those who are naturally mean; second, those who do right and stand firm for the right.—Charlotte (N. C.) Chronicle.

COFFINS AS FURNITURE.

A man living at Queensbury not only uses his coffin as a piece of household furniture, but he has also a grave made in the local churchyard headed by a gravestone on which his name is set out in conventional style. Underneath is the line, "Not dead, but waiting."

One man at Tong, near Bradford, kept his Sunday clothes in his coffin, and another, who ate porridge at his breakfast, used his coffin as a meal bin.

Some years ago a Keighly man kept butterfly specimens in his coffin.—London Mail.

SHAFTESBURY'S RETORT.

When a member of a church congress at Manchester argued that the introduction of the custom of cremation would endanger belief in the resurrection of the dead the reply of Lord Shaftesbury silenced any further doubt when he asked, "What, then, has been the cause of the holy martyrs who were cremated?"

THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH.

Mr. Jones—My daughter is only eighteen. You had better wait until she is older. The Lover—Well, I've waited two years for her to get older, but she still stays at eighteen.—Judge.

THE USUAL CAUSE.

Reggie, can you spell kitten?" "No, mother." "But what do you go to school for?" "Only cause you make me, mother," said Reggie sadly.
