

The instructions to Gen. Ord from Washington are that he shall pursue Mexican brigands across the Rio Grande and punish them there. The orders of the Mexican government are that in such an event Ord's invasion must be repelled by force.

The Creswell and Fulton wings of the Republican party in Maryland are enjoying a squabble over the Collectors' Bill. In Grant's time Creswell was on top, but since the change in administration Fulton comes to the surface, and Creswell goes under.

The decrease in the national debt during the month of June, $2,229,100, decrease during the fiscal year, $2,781,121. This according to the statement; but it does not go on to show how far this apparent decrease is due to turning the larger part of the Geneva aid into the Treasury instead of paying it over to parties for whom it was intended, nor does it state how many claims past due are omitted. According to the monthly statements one would suppose the public debt should have been cancelled some time ago.

In Illinois, recently, an agent of a sewing machine company persuaded a poor woman to exchange the machine she had for one he advocated, and agreed to furnish her with work enough to enable her to pay the difference due at the rate of five dollars per month. No work was furnished, and after a few months' feeble effort to meet the installments, the woman failed, the agent seized the machine, and refused to make any settlement or to return the machine exchanged. The woman appealed to the courts, and the case was disposed of before Judge McAllister, who, in endorsing the verdict of the jury for the full amount claimed, took occasion to characterize in forcible language the tricks to which agents resort for the temptation and robbery of the unsuspecting poor.

Morton's Hour Has Come.
The Louisville Courier-Journal very truly remarks that "it is an open secret, if a secret at all, that the Hon. D. W. Voorhees will canvass Indiana next year for United States Senator against Hon. O. P. Morton. Mr. Voorhees is accepted by nomination as the Democratic nominee and leader. There is a feeling all over Indiana that Sittling Bull's time has come, and the poetry of the gaze can not be completed until his scalp is held up to the gaze of the multitude on the outstretched arms of the Tall Sycamore. If Mr. Voorhees can induce Mr. Morton, or seduce him, or tempt him, or kick him into a joint canvass, he will do it. In that event there will be a rushing together of elements sure enough. We predict, however, that Sittling Bull will not come to pass. Sittling Bull does not dare to face the man who, in courage, consistency, genius, and every manly virtue, is tenfold his superior. Having, as he thought, securely gerrymandered the State, he will rely upon organization, money and chicane to hold it. Nobody doubts his capacity in these departments of political science, and for this reason the fight to oust him will be desperate. It would be hopeless if the Indiana Democrats did not have in Mr. Voorhees a chieftain of resplendent powers.

The contest thus laid out a year in advance will be the event of the political period. It will attract as much attention as the famous struggle between Lincoln and Douglas in 1858. On its results great things will depend, because, if Mr. Voorhees defeats Morton, virtually redeeming the State, Indiana will appear at the front in 1880 as the leading Democratic State in the Union. The Indiana Democrats deserve this, for they are the gamest, the truest, the noblest of fellows in the world. They don't know what it is to let down or back down defeat after defeat has only nerve them for renewed action. Their conduct last year was in every way heroic. It was not in the books for them to get the man of their choice, the man who had shared all their disasters and never flinched, the man whom they felt desirous to carry the banner in the fight. Naturally the result at St. Louis was bitterly disappointing and, cruelly depressing. Naturally they came away discouraged. But, like brave men, they took their sweat out and fell into line cheerfully and heartily, mindful that the world was not yet come to an end, and hopeful of the future. They were richly rewarded for their valorous self sacrifice. They put their old enemy to flight, took the State out of his grasp, sent him flying away to California.

A still greater battle is before them. They are to put the last finishing touches on the already shattered image of Sittling Bull. Led by the Tall Sycamore of the Wabash, an orator, a statesman and a man, they are to start the ball which is to sweep radicalism out of existence. Indiana will blaze as it never did before. Not even the campaign of our matchless Blue Jeans will equal the enthusiasm which will be inspired when the lion with the golden locks begins to roar and shake his mane in old Sittling Bull's face. There'll be music on the hills and in the valleys. It was Daniel of old who made the wild beasts crouch at his feet. But this, our new Daniel, will not stop until he has his foot upon the neck of his adversary.

The Hendricks ovation at Indianapolis was the first gun of the canvass. The Republicans may as well learn first as last what is in store for them. Mr. Morton's hour is run. He has had a great career of power, and has used it unsparingly. But his sun is set. He will have to get out of that snug place and give it to his better, to Daniel W. Voorhees, surmounted the Tall Sycamore of the Wabash. Thus ends the first lesson."

St. Johns, N. B., sustaining a loss by the recent great fire, it is estimated, of $12,000,000.

The Lafayette Journal shows that great respect was paid the memory of ex-Judge Pettit at his funeral, by his associates of the bar and bench, and other people in the highest walks of life.

We have in our possession a two-pointed Indian arrow head, one of the finest we have ever seen, given us by Mr. John O'Donoghue, of this county. It's a handsome piece of workmanship for the red men.—Valparaiso Vindicator.

Robert Dale Owen, of this State, the eminent author, statesman and spiritualist, died in New York on Saturday, June 24th, in the 76th year of his age. He was a gentleman of large benevolence, was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

The N. Y. Evening Post, radical, observes that "Senator Spencer" (as called and carpet-bagger) who, happily for Alabama, is now in the Black Hills, is afraid that he may lose his scalp, and unkindly adds, "Well, worse than that may happen. Of course," replies the World pitifully, "they might. But better things also might happen. He might lose his head. It is always well to hope for the best." Yes, decidedly.

The suit begun by Zach Chandler against Jacob Thompson, Buchanan's secretary of the interior, for embezzlement of Indian trust funds, has been withdrawn by the government. Chandler and everybody else knew that there was no foundation for the charge against Thompson at the beginning of the stupid business. There was no other reason for the suit than a desire to "fire the northern heart," and help along the bloody-shirt campaign.

Gov. Hartman comes in just now for a large amount of editorial swabbing from what McClure calls the "average organs," because he has not pardoned any of the detected "Mollies," who have gone or are ticketed for "road to glory"—as it seems to be now settled (if we are to accept as the orthodox the effusions of a peculiar class of "gossippers" and the "last words" of murderers before being adorned with hemp neckties). The inventor then explains that the western papers would now be able to make arrangements with the publishers of eastern journals to have all the news sent them cheaply by the new process of transmission. The difference in time would enable this to be done more readily. It would be possible, too, for the New York journals, if they so desired, to get out editions in the western cities by having printers there, since the copy is delivered directly from the instrument in such form that it can be handed to them. In course of time, Mr. Pickering thought, it would be possible to have a fac-simile of the London Times sent over, but at present the current on the Atlantic cable was too feeble to transmit a message by means of his process. It will prove of value in certain contingencies, to the Associated Press. An agent of the Associated Press said yesterday that it was often desirable to delay sending a message until the facts in a case could be ascertained, and then to send it at once. This he thought the new process would enable one to do, and thus avoid sending statements that are contradicted in later reports. It would be a serviceable tool, in telegraphing presidents' messages, as they could be sent entire, and not in small sections as hitherto received.

When questioned as to the value of his process in the transmission of private messages, Mr. Pickering explained that probably it could not be used to advantage for this purpose. He designed exclusively for the benefit of newspapers which receive long messages at once. He said, however, that as no telegraph operators are required at either end of the line by his method of transmission, and the messages are delivered printed, there might be an advantage in using it for private messages. From the description, as given recently, the machine is easily understood. It transmits, however, from a level, and not simply from a cylindrical plate, as that description seems to imply. The stereotyped plate, of which it is desired to send a fac-simile, is placed upon a cylinder capable of rapid revolution. By a very simple process, the depressions between the letters are filled with a non-conducting material, and the cylinder and plate are then charged with electricity.

Mr. William Shore, of Madison county, was fatally poisoned by eating wild greens.

A Jeffersonville man tied his wife to a cherry tree and kept her there for six hours. He did it "to take the conceit out of her."

The magnificent new altar, bought in Paris at a cost of $7,000, for Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind., year, arrived at its destination on Saturday noon, June 23, and was placed in position on Monday following.

That Maryland tramp who stalked into a lonely looking farm house and demanded dinner and a suit of clothes, didn't see the dog. The dog saw him, however. The doctor reported twenty different bites and considerable denudation of epidermis.

Baltimore has an interesting citizen in the person of Joseph Glynn, who was tried recently for poisoning a neighbor's hogs. He is over eighty years old, and for more than thirty years he has been engaged in killing rats and destroying the property of any person against whom he may have a grudge. It is said that he has cost the State more than any other man in the county, and holds the championship in regard to the number of times he has been before the courts.

The Rensselaer Democratic Sentinel is a credit to the Democracy of Jasper. Our old friend Max is making a success of it.—Monticello Democrat.

Dan Dale has finally entered the law business—something which his natural shrewdness and ability specially adapts him for.—Monticello Democrat.

Secretary Sherman has been charged with trying to persuade some New York banks to help his policy of currency contraction by surrendering their notes, receiving back their bonds, and repeating the proceeding, to enable him for each new issue of $50 of the legal tender notes, in this way lessening the volume of the green-back currency without replacing it with other notes for circulation, but to be repeatedly surrendered, leaving less and less of legal tender still in circulation, so it may be safer to attempt re-emption of the residue in gold. His plan was said to be discovered and exposed, and both he and the banks involved denied the charge; but it is now renewed, the Indiana Farmer says, and the Cincinnati Gazette, a friend of Sherman, and his contraction policy, substantially concedes the point as follows: "We suppose the truth of the matter to be that the resumption act states the Secretary in the face, and he knows that without previous contraction it is impossible to carry it into effect. Yet the people have been made to believe that resumption involves no contraction, and will even make an inflation by adding specie to the paper. And no one has been more influential in creating this belief than Mr. Sherman. And now no public man dare mention contraction, and as resumption is impossible without it, there is an attempt to get the green-backs out of the way by secret methods. Yet in this sort of government nothing can be done that shall not be found out.—Valparaiso Vindicator.

Hotel keepers who understand their business have in their reading rooms, for the information and gratification of their patrons, the leading dailies, papers of adjoining counties, and last but not least, their own home journals. Messrs. Hopkins and Moore, of Rensselaer, and Hart, of Remington, understand this. They patronize the Sentinel and Union.

Mrs. Keziah Freeman, one of the old settlers of Rensselaer, died at her residence this morning at quarter past six o'clock aged about 75 years. Mrs. Freeman resided in this place about 25 years, and leaves many friends to mourn their loss. Her remains will be interred in Weston Cemetery to-morrow at 2 o'clock p. m.

Great men went in on their oratorical muscles on the 4th. Jim Blaine, the great sun-struck, and D. H. Chamberlain, the Hamptonized Governor of S. C., at Woodstock, Conn., went for Hayes' southern policy in the rough while John W. Forney, at Philadelphia, and Horace E. James, at Rensselaer, spoke words of consolation and endorsement of the President.

MR. PICKERING'S GREAT INVENTION.
How an Entire Newspaper Page May Be Sent Across the Continent in a Minute.

(From the New York Tribune.)
Loring Pickering, one of the editors and proprietors of the evening Bulletin and the morning Call of San Francisco, who has just received a patent for an arrangement by which in five minutes an entire newspaper page may be telegraphed, was in the city a few days ago, and gave a Tribune reporter some additional facts in regard to his invention and the purpose for which it is designed. Mr. Pickering is about 60 years of age, and his invention is the result of several years of earnest study. His attention was directed to the subject of telegraphy from his experience of the great cost of telegraphic dispatches for his papers. "Papers must have news," said Mr. Pickering, "and we found that it cost a good deal to get it, so I was led to devise, if possible, some cheaper method." And he believes that he has at last succeeded. "By this method," he continued, "a page of the New York Tribune can be transmitted to Chicago in twenty or thirty minutes." And what about the cost of sending so much matter? "Scarcely anything at all," replied Mr. Pickering, "only the use of the wire for a few minutes."

The inventor then explained that the western papers would now be able to make arrangements with the publishers of eastern journals to have all the news sent them cheaply by the new process of transmission. The difference in time would enable this to be done more readily. It would be possible, too, for the New York journals, if they so desired, to get out editions in the western cities by having printers there, since the copy is delivered directly from the instrument in such form that it can be handed to them. In course of time, Mr. Pickering thought, it would be possible to have a fac-simile of the London Times sent over, but at present the current on the Atlantic cable was too feeble to transmit a message by means of his process. It will prove of value in certain contingencies, to the Associated Press. An agent of the Associated Press said yesterday that it was often desirable to delay sending a message until the facts in a case could be ascertained, and then to send it at once. This he thought the new process would enable one to do, and thus avoid sending statements that are contradicted in later reports. It would be a serviceable tool, in telegraphing presidents' messages, as they could be sent entire, and not in small sections as hitherto received.

When questioned as to the value of his process in the transmission of private messages, Mr. Pickering explained that probably it could not be used to advantage for this purpose. He designed exclusively for the benefit of newspapers which receive long messages at once. He said, however, that as no telegraph operators are required at either end of the line by his method of transmission, and the messages are delivered printed, there might be an advantage in using it for private messages. From the description, as given recently, the machine is easily understood. It transmits, however, from a level, and not simply from a cylindrical plate, as that description seems to imply. The stereotyped plate, of which it is desired to send a fac-simile, is placed upon a cylinder capable of rapid revolution. By a very simple process, the depressions between the letters are filled with a non-conducting material, and the cylinder and plate are then charged with electricity.

Mr. William Shore, of Madison county, was fatally poisoned by eating wild greens.

A Jeffersonville man tied his wife to a cherry tree and kept her there for six hours. He did it "to take the conceit out of her."

The magnificent new altar, bought in Paris at a cost of $7,000, for Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind., year, arrived at its destination on Saturday noon, June 23, and was placed in position on Monday following.

That Maryland tramp who stalked into a lonely looking farm house and demanded dinner and a suit of clothes, didn't see the dog. The dog saw him, however. The doctor reported twenty different bites and considerable denudation of epidermis.

Baltimore has an interesting citizen in the person of Joseph Glynn, who was tried recently for poisoning a neighbor's hogs. He is over eighty years old, and for more than thirty years he has been engaged in killing rats and destroying the property of any person against whom he may have a grudge. It is said that he has cost the State more than any other man in the county, and holds the championship in regard to the number of times he has been before the courts.

The Rensselaer Democratic Sentinel is a credit to the Democracy of Jasper. Our old friend Max is making a success of it.—Monticello Democrat.

Dan Dale has finally entered the law business—something which his natural shrewdness and ability specially adapts him for.—Monticello Democrat.

Real advertisement of Drs. M. & H. Brandom.

J. M. Hufty, P. M. at Pilot Grove, stepped in and subscribed for the Sentinel on the 4th.

Jasper County Board of Agriculture meets on Saturday, July 7, 1877, to transact important business.

IRA W. YEOMAN, Sec'y.

A. Seward, of Pilot Grove, for many years the boss harness maker of Jasper county, was in town on the 4th, participating in and enjoying the festivities of the occasion.

Johnnie Wybert climbed the greased pole yesterday and received 25 cents therefor.

Hotel keepers who understand their business have in their reading rooms, for the information and gratification of their patrons, the leading dailies, papers of adjoining counties, and last but not least, their own home journals. Messrs. Hopkins and Moore, of Rensselaer, and Hart, of Remington, understand this. They patronize the Sentinel and Union.

Mrs. Keziah Freeman, one of the old settlers of Rensselaer, died at her residence this morning at quarter past six o'clock aged about 75 years. Mrs. Freeman resided in this place about 25 years, and leaves many friends to mourn their loss. Her remains will be interred in Weston Cemetery to-morrow at 2 o'clock p. m.

Great men went in on their oratorical muscles on the 4th. Jim Blaine, the great sun-struck, and D. H. Chamberlain, the Hamptonized Governor of S. C., at Woodstock, Conn., went for Hayes' southern policy in the rough while John W. Forney, at Philadelphia, and Horace E. James, at Rensselaer, spoke words of consolation and endorsement of the President.

Notice of Enumeration
OF COUNTY INHABITANTS OF JASPER COUNTY, INDIANA.
Hanging Grove Township 111
Walker 122
Barkley 122
Morton 127
Jordan 147
Kemper 99
Kankakee 95
Whitfield 95
Union 95
Total 2395

State of Indiana, Jasper County, ss: I, Henry A. Barkley, Auditor of said county, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct list of the county, over the age of twenty-one years, as returned to this office by the Trustees of the several townships of said county, and the said Enumeration is the basis of the assessment of taxes, and is the basis of the Auditor's Office, and all persons interested are invited to examine the same with a view to the correction of any errors, mistakes or omissions therein. In witness whereof, my hand and official seal, at Rensselaer, this 5th day of July, 1877.
HENRY A. BARKLEY, Auditor.

Marble Works
Remington, Ind.
Wm. Shepherd,
DEALER in marble and Granite Monuments, Headstones, Tablets, Mantels, &c.
Do not miss the opportunity of cheapening your marble and granite work. We have a large stock of marble and granite work, and we will give you a great deal of marble and granite work for your money. Call and learn our prices and see our work before you give your order. We are located in Remington, Ind., and we will deliver and set your work without extra charge. June 22-27.

To Wool-Growers!
Owing to the great efforts that have been made by the merchants of this vicinity to divert the wool trade from its proper channel, to the title of "Wool-Growers," we have put in a full and complete assortment of DRY-GOODS, which, in connection with a large stock of our own manufacture, I offer to the wool trade
At Prices that Defy Competition!

Knowing, as you must, certainly do, that it is to the farmers' interest to encourage local trade, and to build up a home market for all their productions, I trust I will give you, as a manufacturer, the first call when in the market with your wool.

My Mill is now running on full time, with William S. Snyder as foreman and Alex. Anderson as assistant, both so well known that it is unnecessary to say anything more to their satisfaction to the customer trade.

For the convenience of my customers I have removed my stock to Reynolds' Block, corner corner, where you can get the highest prices in the market for your wool.

Henry Snyder.
Monticello, Ind., May 29, 1877-3m.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT.
THE STATE OF INDIANA. In the Jasper Circuit Court, ss: I, John W. Forney, Clerk of said Court, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct list of the county, over the age of twenty-one years, as returned to this office by the Trustees of the several townships of said county, and the said Enumeration is the basis of the assessment of taxes, and is the basis of the Auditor's Office, and all persons interested are invited to examine the same with a view to the correction of any errors, mistakes or omissions therein. In witness whereof, my hand and official seal, at Rensselaer, this 5th day of July, 1877.
JOHN W. FORNEY, Clerk.

John Wines, Nancy Wines, William Yeoman, Patsy Yeoman, Joseph Yeoman, Newman and Ann Newman, Complainants vs. Daniel B. Miller, their Attorney, and files their Complaint against the defendants John Wines, Nancy Wines, William Yeoman, Patsy Yeoman, Joseph Yeoman, Newman and Ann Newman, for the purpose of causing the State of Indiana, that said cause relate to the title of the land in the Jasper Circuit Court, ss: I, John W. Forney, Clerk of said Court, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct list of the county, over the age of twenty-one years, as returned to this office by the Trustees of the several townships of said county, and the said Enumeration is the basis of the assessment of taxes, and is the basis of the Auditor's Office, and all persons interested are invited to examine the same with a view to the correction of any errors, mistakes or omissions therein. In witness whereof, my hand and official seal, at Rensselaer, this 5th day of July, 1877.
JOHN W. FORNEY, Clerk.

In Witness Whereof, I hereunto set my hand and the seal of said Court, at Rensselaer, this 14th day of June, A. D. 1877.
DANIEL B. MILLER, Atty for plaintiff.
June 15, 1877.

1776. GO TO TUTE'S NEW CENTENNIAL STORE!!

FOR CHOICE TOBACCOS, SEGARS, Smokers' Goods, Fine Confectionery

Choice Fruits, Nuts, Canned Fruits, Sardines, Notions, Etc., Etc. FRESH OYSTERS

By the dish, stewed, fried or raw. Also by the can, at the lowest prices.

Everything first quality and cheap. Call at the Leopold building, corner of Washington and Van Rensselaer streets, opposite McCoy & Thompson's Bank. Everything fresh and brand new. vln1

LESLIE GRANT
Blacksmith.

Shop on Front Street, next door above the Stage Office, at Duval & Goff's old Stand. Patronage solicited. vln2

CHARLES P. HOPKINS
Proprietor. Has prepared to do house painting, paper hanging, etc., at prices beyond competition. Can be found at his rooms, upstairs in Liberal Corner building. vln1

SHINDLER & ROBERTS.
Blacksmiths.
At Warner's old stand on Front street. Horseshoeing, machine repairing, carriage ironing, etc., done neatly and cheaply. vln2

THE NEW SPRING & SUMMER STOCK OF DRY-GOODS

Just Opened by

R. FENDIG,

CONSISTS OF

Staple Articles

that are in demand and that civilized people must use, whether the times be flush or dull, business is at ebb or flow, or money is plentiful or scarce. No attempt was made to secure frivolous novelties in the selection of my

Stock of Goods

FOR THE

Spring and Summer

trade of 1877 in Jasper county, but an eye was trained to the choosing of articles whose

DURABILITY and PRICE

would recommend them to a community that is anxious to adapt themselves to the circumstances which now surround everybody in the United States. But this did not prevent the purchase of a stock that will compare favorably in point of beauty with anything to be found in this market, while

The Standard Quality and Low Prices of the fabrics must necessarily recommend them in an especial manner to people of judgment, prudence and economizing desires.

No special enumeration of the articles comprising this new stock is deemed necessary from the fact that I deal in all articles usually found in collections of

General Merchandise,

in inland towns, but it may be well enough to say that

Best Dress Goods,

Best Ready-Made Clothing

Boots, Shoes,

Hats, Caps,

Standard Groceries, Etc.,

are kept in addition to the assortment of dress fabrics and other dry goods.

Calls for inspection and purchase respectfully invited.

R. FENDIG.
Rensselaer, Spring 1876. vln1.

Real Estate & Collection Agency!

Over 200,000 acres of land in Missouri and Arkansas, on the line of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway offered on ten years time at 6 per cent interest.

Also, 100,000 acres of prairie and timber lands in the counties of Logan, Prairie and Arkansas, in the State of Arkansas—very fine quality and cheap. Round-trip railroad tickets from Lafayette to Little Rock, via St. Louis, good for 90 days, for $22.80, on sale at this office.

Texas Land Script
For sale at the lowest market price. This is a rare chance for persons with a few hundred dollars to get large tracts of the land that will be a fortune in a few years.

246 Lots in Leopold's Addition to the Town of Rensselaer, for sale very cheap. These lots are very desirable property, both as an investment or for occupation. Will be sold on liberal terms.

Have 320 acres of splendid land in Kansas to exchange for a good farm in Jasper or Benton county, Indiana, and will give some boot.

Improved farms and excellent wild lands in this county, for sale cheap and on easy terms.

Will Pay Taxes,
Furnish Abstracts of Title to Land, and make Collections.
Office in Bedford & Jacksons block, Room No. 3, 2d floor, Rensselaer, Indiana. vln2

THOMAS BOROUGHS.
Money to Loan.
On five years time at 9 per cent, in sums of $1,000 to $25,000, secured by mortgage on real estate, and usual fee and commission. Money furnished promptly. Call on the undersigned.
THOMAS BOROUGHS, vln2

HOPKINS HOUSE.
Proprietor.

Excellent table, convenient location, careful attention to wants of guests, and experienced management are its recommendations to popular favor.

AUSTIN'S HOTEL.
J. Austin, Proprietor.

This house is centrally located in the business part of town. New Jasper, new furniture, good tables, experienced landlord. Is recommended to the traveling public. vln2

Emmett Kannal,
Druggist and Pharmacist.

Hard Rubber Trusses a Specialty.
Washington street, vln3

Notice.

To whom it may concern take notice that I, Arthur B. Eads, of Reynolds, White county, of State Ind., did on February 6th or 14th, 1877, make a promissory note to Johnson & Johnson, of Remington, Jasper county, and State of Indiana, said note coming due July 10th, 1877, and with J. H. Carson as surety; said note calling for one hundred and twenty-five dollars, $125. All persons are hereby warned not to trade for said note, as I have not had value received for the same and according to law I and my surety are not held liable for the same.

ARTHUR B. EADS.
Reynolds Ind., February 28th 1877.

WHAT IS

DAVID JAMES

GOING TO DO?

He will keep a store in Rensselaer, Indiana, and will sell Hardware, Tinware and Cabinet Furniture on good terms and for the least profit.

Who Sells

CHAMPION

REAPERS & MOWERS?

David James, of Rensselaer, successor to J. H. Wood.

Who Sells

Studebaker Wagons

David James. These Wagons took the Centennial award as the best on exhibition at the Grand World's Fair at Philadelphia. They are not excelled by any of the market.

Who Sells

Moine Plows, Cultivators, and Gilpin Riding Plows?

David James, who deals in none but the very best Farm Implements and Machinery, which experience has established in their claims to classification as standard goods.

WHO SELLS

Seth Thomas Clocks?

David James, the Hardware man, who invites every man, woman and child in the county to bring their dinner and pocket books and visit him when wanting to buy anything from a paper of tacks or a gimlet to a cook stove, house door, window sash, set of chairs or breaking plow.

A TIN-SHOP

Is connected with this house, and the oldest Tin-shop in the county in charge thereof. The manufacture and repairing of Tin and Sheet-Iron ware &c., done on shortest notice. June 27-77

N. WARNER,
MANUFACTURER OF

Wagons, Carriages,

BUGGIES, &c.,

Rensselaer, - - - Indiana.

Anything from a common Farm Wagon up to the Finest Carriage manufactured to order on short notice and reasonable terms, and at prices to suit the times. All work warranted. Shops on Front street. vln2

New Harness Shop!

Having opened a Harness Shop in Rensselaer, I respectfully invite all my old friends and customers to leave their orders with me for anything in this line, and they will receive prompt attention. I employ none but first-class workmen, and warrant all work turned out at my shop. I keep constantly on hand a large stock of Saddles, Bridles, Halters, Curry-Combs, Brushes, &c.

And everything else usually found in a first-class harness shop. Give me a call. Shop on Front Street, Rensselaer, Indiana. vln2

N. WARNER,
DEALER IN

Hardware,

OF ALL KINDS
RENSSELAER, IND.
Keeps constantly on hand a large stock of

Stoves, Tinware,

FURNITURE, etc.,
And respectfully invites the citizens of Jasper and adjoining counties, when wishing anything in his line, to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere. A careful examination of his stock will convince any one that he keeps none but

TWIN BROTHERS'

Indianapolis Eye Infirmary!

Drs. M. & H. BRANDON

No. 114 West Washington Street, in the Iron Block, Indianapolis, Indiana. Have had fifteen years experience in treating the EYE and EAR, in Decatur, Illinois. To enlarge our field of usefulness, have now permanently located in Indianapolis, Ind., for the purpose of making the treatment of the EYE and EAR a specialty.