

PUBLIC MEETING!

The citizens of Jasper county, irrespective of party, who are opposed to the RESUMPTION LAW, and in favor of the REMONETIZATION OF SILVER, will hold a meeting on SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1878, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the Court House, in Rensselaer, with a view to express their sentiments on the financial condition of the country.

Turn Out! One and All!

MANY CITIZENS.

Victor Emanuel, King of Italy, died on the 9th.

Gov. Connor, of Maine, is not yet 39 years of age, and is now serving his third term.

A call has been issued for a National Convention of the National Party, to be held at Toledo, Ohio, 22d February next.

John L. Miller, Chairman of the State Central Committee of the Greenback Party, has issued a call for a State Convention to be held at Indianapolis, 22d May next. Jasper county is entitled to five delegates.

Hon. Montgomery Blair wants an investigation of the Electoral Vote, and has presented a set of resolutions and a memorial to the Maryland Legislature, in which he asks that Congress take steps to have Hayes removed.

In the New Hampshire Republican State Convention resolutions were adopted in favor of Hayes, and W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Republican National Committee, was denounced as a "political tramp." He retorted by charging corruption in office on those attacking him.

Eastern capitalists seem to think that the West will go to sticks if they withhold their loans, and have resorted to that trick in order to obstruct the movements of the people in opposition to enforced resumption and in favor of the remonetization of silver. If the West withholds its bread and meat, what then? If the contest is to be capital against bread, we think we know on which banner victory will perch.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NO. 3, BARLEY TOWNSHIP.—The following pupils were present every day of the fractional term (two months) ending Dec. 31st, 1877: Samuel, Hurd, Geo. Hunkler, Lizzie McCurtain, Wallace McCurtain, Edmond McCurtain, Norman McCurtain, Warren McCurtain, Frankie McCurtain, Nancy McElfresh, Frank Steele and Marshall Steele. Grading: 100 per cent. in punctuality and attendance—Mattie English, Clara Murray and Johnnie Mallott. The three highest general averages were Lizzie McCurtain 95 per cent., John Hurd 94 1/2 per cent., Mattie English 93 1/2 per cent. C. W. CLIFTON, Teacher.

SILVER WEDDING.—The 25th anniversary of the wedded life of our very popular and efficient Deputy County Auditor, JOSEPH D. CONWAY, and his good wife, occurred on last Friday evening, and was a very enjoyable affair. A goodly number of personal friends and old acquaintances supplied Mr. and Mrs. C. by exchanging in to tender their congratulations and the presentation of a handsome silver-plated, silver-plated, silver-plated, etc. Judge Hammond tendered the beautiful articles in a few feeling and happy remarks, to which Mr. C., after he had sufficiently recovered from his surprise, very appropriately responded. The company then sat down to well-filled tables, also provided by those having the matter in charge.

"The silver bright, with its gleaming light, Is a token fair, of the jewel rare, Pure wedding, direct from Heaven, To light and cheer, with radiance clear, Each home of love. These many years, 'mid smiles and tears, Its lustre bright, has been your light, In a happy home, its flame life's day, Until we come to keep in this home, The Golden Wedding."

Alabama papers announce that minorette is in blossom and strawberries are ripe.

A religious revival, with meetings every evening, has lasted four years at Columbia, Ky.

A rough god tumble fight between a couple of brethren provided the spice of variety for a Christmas evening entertainment at a colored church in Laporte.

J. C. Doblebrow, editor of the Lafayette Dispatch, has been appointed by Governor Williams to succeed Hon. John R. Coffroth as Trustee of Purdue University.

Stephen Jenks, aged fifty-seven years, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for life in the Elkhart county court, for the murder of George Malton, in La Grange county, June 10, 1870.

The Supreme Court recently affirmed the decision of a lower court, which had given damages against a liquor seller to a woman whose husband had injured her while intoxicated from liquor obtained of the liquor dealer. The defense was that the law making the dealer liable for damages interfered with his permit to sell intoxicating liquors, by depriving him of the privilege, and was therefore unconstitutional. The court ruled otherwise, stating that it must be remembered that a person taking a permit under the law takes it clogged with whatever burdens or responsibilities the law imposes.

A colored man is named and registered a voter in Boston as "Mr. Yale College."

Laporte Argus: John Decker created a sensation and a big laugh today by hitting a team to burst and drawing it through Main street. The passengers occasionally got out and transacted business.

On Christmas day at New Albany, while two colored lads were playfully scuffling for the possession of a gun, it was discharged, the entire charge taking effect upon a colored girl, Belle Sterrett, killing her instantly.

An old negro named Pete was very much troubled about his sins. "Oh, massa, I'm sinner as a sinner!" "But, Pete," said his master, "you need not take it so much to heart. 'I know de reason, massa,' said Pete, 'when you go duck shooting, and kill one duck and wound another, don't you run after the wounded duck?' 'Yes, Pete,' said the master, wondering what was coming next. 'Well, massa, dat is de way wid you and me; de debil has got you sure; but as he am not sure ob me he chases dis child all de time.'"

Lafayette Journal: The funeral of the wife of Colonel J. E. Robinson took place yesterday afternoon, from the family residence on South Sixth street. Rev. Robert Mackenzie officiating. Quite a number of the associates of the deceased and her husband paid by their attendants the last tribute of respect. There are romances in real life equaling the most vivid imaginings of the novelist. The friends yesterday witnessed the last scene of a checked and eventful career. The open grave takes to its bosom with the dead the untold story of many a volume over which mankind might pity, wonder and weep.

Shelbyville Volunteer: Judge Test returned to the city Wednesday a week to pass sentence on John Smith, recently convicted by a jury of manslaughter, and awarded two years in the penitentiary. The defendant's counsel entered a motion to change the punishment to a term in the house of refuge, and the judge decided to grant the request. He therefore annulled the verdict of the jury and sentenced defendant to the house of refuge until he reached the age of 21 years. The prosecutor will appear in the case for the purpose of having a decision of the interesting legal point involved. Grave doubts are entertained as to whether the statute authorizes judges to change the verdict of a jury after it is formally returned into court. It provides that a judge may arrest the proceedings at any stage of the trial of an infant under 16 years of age, and send the party to the house of refuge; but it is contended that this discretion cannot be exercised after the final rendering of a verdict. It is purely a legal question, but one of interest, which it would be well to have settled as soon as possible.

An old farmer of Harrison county was lately swindled out of $1,200 by the following process: A chap came along and was trying to sell the farmer a "combined trough and hayrack" for feeding cattle; when the farmer, a jack leg lawyer of Gallatin (who was slightly known to the farmer) and inquired if there was a certain Mr. Blank in that section who was selling a liquid that would make old boots as good as good as new. He of the hayrack replied, "I am the man—what do you want?" "I desire to purchase the right of Missouri or Pennsylvania," replied the lawyer; "what is your price?" "Twelve hundred dollars for Missouri and $2,800 for Pennsylvania," replied the patent-rig man, as he drew forth an old worn book and a new one which he declared was like the old one till he applied the "liquid," to it. The lawyer was delighted, and after some bickering purchased Pennsylvania for $2,400, and in the presence of the farmer gave his check for that amount on a bank at Gallatin, and then rode off. It did not take the patent-rig man long to sell "the state of Missouri" to the farmer, for which the latter gave a note secured by a mortgage upon his farm, which note was hastily sold to a bank at Gallatin by the patent-rig man, who, after dividing the swag with his "partner," the Gallatin lawyer, sought other and fresher pastures. Joplin (Missouri) News.

MARRIAGE LICENSES were issued by the clerk of Jasper county during the past week to the following parties, viz: Richard Williams and Elizabeth Obenchain; John Sutton, Jr., and Mary Bell Westfall; Thornton Dobbins and Mary Anderson.

The Sunday school concert held at the M. E. church last Sabbath evening was well attended. The exercises consisted of songs, essays, declamations, etc., concluding with a short and appropriate address to the little folks by Rev. Thomas Vansee.

MARRIED, at the residence of Mr. Leslie C. Grant, on Sunday evening last, by Rev. Thomas Vansee, Mr. Richard Williams, of Benton county, and Miss Lizzie Obenchain, of this place. The Union extends congratulations to the happy couple and wishes them a safe and prosperous voyage upon life's tempestuous sea. They departed for their Benton county home Tuesday, carrying with them the best wishes of hosts of friends.

FRAUDS ON THE PUBLIC.

Passes and Counterfeit Tickets.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

The traveling public should understand that the railroads, in order to protect themselves from frauds, instruct their conductors to take up passes and collect fare from persons who cannot be identified as the legitimate possessors of such certificates. The extension of the system of limited tickets also makes it a matter of decided risk to purchase tickets anywhere but at a regular railroad ticket office. The economically inclined passenger, with a ticket bought at reduced rates at an irresponsible "scalping" office, may find himself, at the very beginning of his journey, caught up by the conductor with a ticket whose date has expired, and which is therefore not valid for passage. There would not be much economy in that for the passenger. Besides, the business of counterfeiting railroad tickets has been quite extensively gone into of late, and counterfeit tickets are frequently offered for sale. A gang of ticket counterfeiterers were not long ago detected at Indianapolis and a part of them arrested. The work of counterfeiting still continues, and the railroads, to protect themselves, have adopted new forms and taken other precautions to shield themselves against loss. So far as the public is concerned the moral is very plain: "Never buy tickets of outsiders or at unauthorized ticket offices."

A. Leopold, respectfully requests those having accounts at his establishment to call and settle, and thus enable him to square his books with the new year.

To retain a vigorous nervous system prompt and energetic measures should be taken on feeling the first symptoms of Rheumatism or Neuralgia to cure these diseases (which can be done by "Lawson's Curative"), otherwise the nerves become so shattered and weakened that they are beyond recovery.
