

Democratice Sentinel.

FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1878.

Democratic State Ticket.

SECRETARY OF STATE,
JOHN G. SHANKLIN, of Vanderburgh.
ATTORNEY GENERAL,
MAHON D. MASON, of Montgomery.

CHIEF JUSTICE,
WILLIAM FLEMING, of Allen.
ATTORNEY GENERAL,
THOMAS W. WOOLEN, of Johnson.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
JAMES H. SMART, of Allen.

Democratic Township Convention.

NOTICE is hereby given that there will be a Convention of the Democratic voters of Marion township, Jasper county, Indiana, held at the Court House, in Rensselaer, Indiana, on Saturday, June 8, 1878, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Democratic county convention to be held Saturday, June 22d, 1878, to nominate a county ticket.

By order of Township Committee,
EZR A. NOWELS, Chairman.
Geo. O. HOOVER, Secretary.

National County Convention.

A Delegate Convention of the National Greenback party of Jasper county, Indiana, will be held at the Court House, in Rensselaer, on Saturday, June 22d, 1878, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating a county ticket for said county.

THOMAS BOROUGH, Chairman.

C. P. HOPKINS, Secretary.

Independent Announcements.

Joseph M. Hopkins, of Rensselaer, a candidate for Sheriff of Jasper county, subject to the decision of the independent county convention.

MANY FRIENDS.

Hope B. Miller, of Marion township, is a candidate for Recorder of Jasper county subject to decision of independent convention.

JONAH TOWNSHIP,

Democratic Announcements.

We are requested to announce that J. W. Duvall will be a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention of Jasper county.

MR. EDITOR: Please announce that I will be a candidate for the office of Recorder of Jasper county, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention. LEROY E. NOLAN,

The Democracy of Burkley township are requested to meet at the usual place of holding elections in said township, on Saturday, June 8th, 1878, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Democratic County Convention to be held at Rensselaer, June 22d, 1878.

It was not Hayes that Hale, Conger et al sought to protect in their opposition to investigation of the electoral frauds, but Noyes, Sherman, Garfield, Stoughton and other "visiting statesmen."

The Indianapolis Herald, a political anomaly, being a Republican paper with honest opinions, says of the coming State election:

No Republican with an ounce of brains alive, we can carry the State unless the Democracy should make some outrageous blunder that would enable us to carry it by a scratch.

Some of the radical journals argue that in case Mr. Hayes should be required to vacate as a result of the investigation now in progress Mr. Wheeler would become President. We are of opinion that the same frauds which elevated Hayes did the same for Wheeler, and the retirement of one would be the retirement of the other.

MUST HAVE A BUGABOO. —Cameron's Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph insists that "An anti-Southern claim plank will become necessary to the completeness and strength of every republican platform built this year." —Bro. James, d'ye hear? But then you've got the start of the old Winnebago chief on that proposition. And it is amusing to observe the self-satisfied grin that mingles and lights up the usually dark grave face of the consul when he sees the gullibility of a few of his readers.

The Republicans in the United States Senate recently voted to require a tax qualification for voters in the District of Columbia. And they would have the same principle in operation in every State in the Union if they had the power to so shape it. Their legislation has all been in the interest of the money sharks and the land proprietors. The toiling masses will do well to remember this act and so vote as to forever keep it out of the power of these men to inaugurate such a system.

Mr. Hendricks' Views. In a recent interview upon the proposed investigation into the Presidential frauds, Vice President Hendricks expressed himself substantially as follows:

He did not think the situation changed by the passage of the Potter resolution beyond the fact that an investigation would bring the election frauds in Florida and Louisiana before the people in their true light. He regarded the address of the Republican committee in the light of a campaign document, and he intended to break the force of the impending accusations of elective rascallities. He could not consider the resolution in question in the light of a prelude to revolutionary measures for unseating Hayes and placing Tilden in the Presidential chair, and must perform because it was what it purported to be, simply an order for a searching investigation into what the country was led to think colossal frauds. Recent confessions having implicated prominent government officials in the perpetration of high crimes, and he, in common with every citizen, would watch with interest development of its inquiry into their true extent. Mr. Heider said in the course of the interview "I think that when Congress adjourned the report of the electoral commission that was a final settlement. It was not the commission but Congress that gave Mr. Hayes the Presidency. I am opposed to exciting strife and dissension by repeating that question. I want it understood that I know nothing of any plan Mr. Tilden may have had."

The consul and "our Simon" are very nervous and excited over the proposed investigation of the frauds in Louisiana and Florida. Keep cool, "my boys," there will be no revolution. The supremacy and legislation of your party has very nearly settled the country to the d—l, and the Democracy propose, and will restore it to its proper sphere, even though it should require the imprisonment of the entire crowd of Shermans, Garfield, Chaudlers, and "visiting statesmen."

The rads seem very determined in their notion that the investigation ordered by Congress has in view the unseating of Hayes. Mr. Potter, the author of the resolution of inquiry, and chairman of the investigating committee, in a letter says:

"An inquiry into the frauds accomplished and which changed the electoral vote is proper to prevent repetition."

So that is all there is of it. Radicals can contain their souls in peace. They are not sincere in their expression of fear and cry of "revolution." It is sounded simply in lieu of the "bloody-shirt," which has ceased to profit them.

The following is the full text of the bill to forbid the further retention of United States legal tender notes:

Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful, for the secretary of the treasury or other officer under him to cancel or retire any more of the United States legal tender notes, and when any of said notes may be received by him into the treasury under any law from any source whatever, and shall belong to the United States, they shall not be received, paid, or destroyed, but they shall be received and held in the treasury and kept in circulation. Provided, That nothing herein shall prohibit the cancellation and destruction of mutilated notes and the issue of others of like denomination in their stead, as now provided. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

The above passed the Senate on the 28th—yeas 41; nays 18.

Mr. Duggins informs us that he filed opinions against the claims of Messrs. Henkle, Plat and Burroughs on the ground that they were barred by act of limitation; and in the case of Mr. James he had been employed prior to his appointment as county attorney and considered his first duty was to Mr. J. The commissioners allowed the claims of H. P. & B. on the principle that it would not be honorable in a county to take advantage of the limitation act. We meant no reflection on Mr. D., but simply attempted to point out to the visitors the parts most likely to suffer from their reckless mud-throwing proclivities, however innocent of any wrong doing they might be.

A goodly number of Monticello and Bradford friends came over the Narrow Gauge and made our town a short visit last Sunday. Maj. L. M. Burns, Dr. Bushnell, A. F. Howard, David McQuig, E. B. Sellers, Esq., Jas. V. Vinson, W. E. Reynolds, H. Vanvoort, Dr. Wm. Spencer, Jep. Crouch, Henry Crouch, Dr. W. P. Crowell, J. L. Purcuple, of Monticello, and W. H. Henkle, Samuel Heukle, John G. Marshall, Bradford, were of the number. As it is expected that the Narrow Gauge will be in full running order to Monticello by the 4th of July, a pressing invitation was extended by the visitors on behalf of the citizens of our sister town to the people of Rensselaer and Jasper county, to unite with them at that point on that day in celebration of the anniversary of our National Independence.

Fine clothing a specialty at the Narrow Gauge One Price Clothing Store.

The masquerade at the residence of Norman Warner, Esq., was largely attended last Friday evening. Below we give names and characters assumed:

Ana McEwen, Daughter of the Regent, Mrs. Brough, Summer; Adela Bress, Evening Star; Lillian Iris, Goddess of Night; Ella Dwiggin, Ghost; Amanda Paris, Cinderella; Jesse Hardin, Yellow Rose of Texas; Rachel Bass, Rensselaer Union; Carrie Hardin, Widow Bedott; Dorcas Purcuple, Maid of May; Lizzie Purcuple, Indian Girl; Lettie Hopkins, Grandmother Grundy; Mary Yates, Matie the Amish Dutch Girl; Lolla Moss, Daughter of the Regiment; Ida Gib, Queen of the Fairies; Madge Hemphill, Scarlet Fairy; J. M. Patton, Gypsy Maiden; Little Anna, Pettion, Tom Thumb's Wife; Bertha Tuteur Sun Girl; Eva Hardin, Della of the Flower Girl; Little Walton and Emma Conwell, Blind Orphan Sisters; Lulu Hammond, Shepherdess; Blanche Burroughs, Drummer Boy; Rose Coen, Grandmother; Emma Phillips, Osgarretta; Anna Sigler, Goddess of Light; Nannie Phillips, Flower Girl; Alice Irwin, The City School Girl; Addie Hopkins, Jockey; Lillie Panett, Nellie; Alice, Queen of the Huntress; Fannie Walton, Sailor Girl; Anna Cotton, Flower Girl; Ellen Robinson, Anna Slimmons; Nellie Robinson, Snow Ball; Flie Thompson, Phantom; Ora Thompson, Phantom; Delle Cotton, Phantom; Laura Hopkins and Matie McCoy, Dolly Varlen Sisters; Maggie Cowdin, The Country School Girl; Ollie Alter, The City Cousin.

Gentlemen: Will E. Moss, Turkish Expert; Clark Price, William M. Evans, Charles Ward, Mrs. Mrs. Sniffles; Vic, Longnights, China-Chin; Mose Tuteur, Orange Girl; Mrs. Mrs. Catt; Aunt Dinah; David Pritchard, Ossie Jack; Charley Harding, Teddy O'Dublin; Ike Lowman, French Soldier; Robert Patton, Scottish Highlander; Bob Phillips, Clown; Coke Henkle, Summer; Lin Martin, Marshal of the Day; Bill Thompson, Uncle P. Jones; George Warner, St. Nicholas' Hosts; John Paris, Dandy Jim; Eddie Higgins, Drivier; Billye; Eddie Chidlers, Great Western; Billye; Morgan, Floyd Moore, and Eddie; Eddie; Paupers; Ed. Purcuple, John Chapman; Hale Warner, Tramp; Charles Bress, By Gimney; Bill Harding, Joe Blossom of California; Grant Warner, Old Veteran; George Catt; Swell; Ed. Rhoades, Chicago Tramp; Amzie LaRue, Priest; Bill Hamer, Ghost in spite of himself; John Wanamaker, Lawyer; —, King of Sandwich Islands; Deles Thompson, Dr. Bunko; Frank Meyer, Old Soluble; Bill Ines, Grizzley.

We return our thanks to Louis Bass for above report.

You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

We return our thanks to Louis Bass for above report.

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud investigation characterized as a "damned barren ideality," I do not call it swearing."

Democracy is reviving in Valparaiso, according to the May 22d issue of the Standard. "On last Friday afternoon we noticed 40 able bodied men standing with their hands in their pockets and their mouths and eyes wide open, watching six men laying brick in the basement of the Sayler building.

"You are aware," said the poet Rogers to an Ohio congressman who called at the white house to express his sympathy for Hayes "that profit in any disguise is something that the president abhors, but when I hear this fraud