Democratic Announcements.

We are requested to announce that J. W. Duvall will be a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention of Jasper county.

Mr. Ensign: Please announce that I will be a candidate for the office of Recorder of Jasper county, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention. LEROY E. NOLAND.

A National Greenback Senatorial Convention.

Will be held at Goodland, Newton county, Indiana, June 29th, 1878, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for State Senator, for the District composed of Benton, Jasper, Newton and White counties. At the same time and place candidates for Circuit Judge and Prosecutor for this Judicial District will be placed in nomination. By order of National Dist. Com.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The Democracy of the Tenth Congressional District of Indiana, together with all independent voters who believe in honest economical government, the rights of the whole people, and the rule of the majority, and who are willing to unite against the further domination of the Republican party, are invited to meet in delegate convention.

At Goodland, Wednesday, August 7, 1878, at 1 o'clock, p.m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative in Congress.

The ratio of representation is one vote for every 100 cast for Tilden and Hendricks in 1876, and one additional vote for each fraction of fifty or over. The several counties will therefore be entitled to cast the following votes:

St. Joseph..... 32 Putzki..... 11
Porter..... 32 Shirley..... 6
Allen..... 16 White..... 13
Lake..... 8 Carroll..... 4
Spencer..... 8

Whole number of votes 171. Necessary to a choice 95.

T. E. HOWARD,
Chairman Com. Com.

The ticket placed in nomination by the National Convention on last Saturday, is composed of good men, well and favorably known throughout the county.

Had John Sherman only known that "high" Jenks designed to claim authorship of the Sherman letter, he'd have sworn out it when the copy was before him. But then John didn't—nor does Mrs. Jenks—know what is yet to trip up this little scheme.

Our townsman, M. F. Chilcott, Esq., yesterday received the radical nomination for representative to the state legislature. I rank a capable and clever gentleman, but he is in training with a party holding financial and other theories at variance with the interests of the masses. It is therefore a necessity that he be defeated at the polls.

H. E. James, of the Rensselaer Union, was in town Sunday, sowing a crop of cards, which were mostly gathered by the small boys before night—Remington Times.

Our consul is a statesman of eccentric business habits! His actions, as recorded above, would seem to indicate that he designs to let the appointment to Turk Island go to—Stanley Matthews' friend, Anderson.

Radical arguments last Saturday: To Nationals—"Don't you see the Democrats aim to have you for their 'cat's-paw'?"

To Democrats—"The Nationals are determined to gobble you up!"

Democrats and Nationals regarded them as tools for their pains, transacted business to suit themselves, and now there is weeping and wailing among the "bloody shirt" operatives.

Four years ago Mr. James A. Burnham was Chairman of the Jasper county Radical Central Committee—to day he is an active, working National.

To-day Horace E. James is Chairman of the Radical Central Committee and appointee of the Fraud to Turk Island—four years ago he was acting with those he now denounces as communists, and aspirant for the clerical at their hands.

The consul this week blows hot and cold with the aptitude of an expert—he's mad at the Democrats, mad at the Nationals, mad at the Democrats and Nationals, mad at carpetbaggers, mad at his Turk Island fellow citizens, etc. Their protestations and promises, last Saturday, availed them nothing, and now Horace is lustily bawling out "Sour Grapes." Horace, you can go to—Turk Island. Defeat awaits you here. Certain, sure &feat! Mark that.

Lieut. James Plunkett, of Carpenter township, was in attendance upon and addressed the Democratic convention, last Saturday. He is able and eloquent, ready for the battle, and we trust to hear from him often. He and eight brothers served faithfully in the Union army—some fell in battle. The Lieut. prides himself, and justly, too, with always having belonged to the great National Democratic party, and to-day stands opposed to the radical bloody shirt sectional party nor as firmly as he opposed a section; south during the war.

A Woman in Each Case
Eliza Pinkston, a Black republican, was used to prove in her person that a nomination was resorted to by the Democrats, she was the suffering victim, certain pretexts must be counted out, and Hayes must be counted in. Notwithstanding it was distinctly proven that the violence of which she was the victim resulted from other than political causes, she was accepted as being proof necessary to make a radical President.

And now Mrs. Jenks, a White republican lady, comes forward as the savior of John Sherman, and claims to be the author of the Sherman letter to Anderson. She is "quite pert" in her responses to the questions of the committee, and does not seem to realize the fact that they are prepared to overwhelm her statements.

It is not a singular spectacle? Great radicals in statesmen requiring the aid of white-washing—to elevate them to power, and to be their helpers in time of trouble. What a picture!

How they Chime?

The following declaration in the Radical platform is very emphatic: No abandonment or depreciation of the greenback currency.

And then Fraud Hayes, who is uniting in his efforts to abandon and depreciate the greenback currency; who vetoed the bill for the remonetization of silver and is pronounced in his opposition to the resumption of the free speech and a free press. For twenty years I was a Republican, and the tenets of free speech and a free press were cardinal points in our platforms in those times. Now that the party cringes to the Money Power it makes a taur at free speech, that reminds one of the days when the old slave power dictated.

Agitation of the financial question remonetized silver and secured the legal tenders from further contraction and destruction. Let agitation continue until the American system of finance is secured, then the people will once more be prosperous, content and happy.

It were determined that the nomination should not enrich or avail him to bankers. I have this information from one who was a delegate there, far sighted and patriotic delegates approved the republican state platform which was adopted in the interest of the great bankers of the eastern sea-board cities, who, when the bill to remonetize silver was under consideration in Congress, boasted that they had perfect friends who by they could protect themselves whether might be the legislation of Congress. The English, they were prepared to resist the will of the Government.

Tom Butler, commenting upon this threat, said this was "What a charitable persons might call nullification." The eastern banker gets all the asks of Indiana republicans, but plain, honest, generous Simon, on mere supposition of connection with a little discount and deposit bank, receives no favor. Truly are bankers not without favors save in their own country.

The Republican platform, in declaring opposition to the agitation of the financial question, opposes the repeal of the resumption act, and seems to wish to convey the idea that the question henceforth should be held sacred, and that further agitation would be sacrilege. This opposition to agitation is a direct blow at free speech and a free press. For twenty years I was a Republican, and the tenets of free speech and a free press were cardinal points in our platforms in those times. Now that the party cringes to the Money Power it makes a taur at free speech, that reminds one of the days when the old slave power dictated.

That we are in favor of making the United States notes, a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, except such obligations only as are by the terms of the original contracts under which they were issued, expressly payable in coin.

J. D. SPOHR.
