

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 21, 1879.

Lyman Zee is very sick.
Grand Masquerade Ball to-night.
Conductor Jones is again at his post.

Read our Remington correspondence.
A little child of Mr. Ben Smoot is quite sick.

The physicians report considerable sickness in this community.
Mr. Isaac Adams, father of Treasurer Adams, is dangerously ill.

Only until Feb. 22d, at the Narrow Gauge One Price Clothing Store.

Last Wednesday was one of the most disagreeable days of the season.

County Surveyor, Lewis S. Alter, was married on last Sunday to Sarah F. Nash.

The Rensselaer Minstrel boys will be ready to appear before the public in two or three weeks.

Mrs. S. P. Thompson, of Rensselaer is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Foltz—Oxford Tribune.

Dr. A. H. Wirt, Dentist, is in town. Office with Ira W. Yeoman, Esq., over the Narrow Gauge clothing store.

David S. McGill, of the Haslett-McGill tragedy, died of his wounds in the Delphi jail Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

Quitting will be tried again on the 24th inst. It is understood that he will ask for a change of venue from Marion county.

Sales of delinquent lands in White county aggregate about $500. Adams of Jasper beats Paris of White, as an auctioneer.

The remains of Mrs. Saylor, a former resident of Jasper County, were brought to Rensselaer last Saturday night and interred Sunday.

We regret to learn that Hon. R. S. Dwigglas, Miss Maggie Cowdin and an infant daughter of Mr. Zimri Dwigglas, are in poor health.

We will continue to slaughter goods until Feb. 22d, when we will positively leave for Peoria, Illinois. Narrow Gauge One Price Clothing Store.

Rev. W. G. Vessels will preach in the M. E. Church next Sabbath evening. Subject—"The Final Judgment." All come and hear this subject discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Failing of Monticello, will celebrate the 10th anniversary of their wedding on next Thursday. Several Rensselaer parties have received invitations.

Lyman Zee has been sick for several days, but when M. F. Chilcote called on him and proposed to take his measure for a coffin, he immediately began to recover.

Rev. Gilbert Small will preach in the Presbyterian Church on the 4th Sabbath (23d) of February. Morning subject—"What is God?" Evening—"Work of the Spirit." All are invited.

Our brother typo, Merve, Cissel, contemplates the establishment of a newspaper at Remington, this county. Merve is a young man of many good qualities and a thorough printer. We wish him success.

Mr. Thomas Boroughs, who has been in the employ of the State Senate since its organization in January, made a flying visit to his home here on Saturday of last week. He returned to the City last Tuesday.

The State Senate did not consider the charges of Robt. Gregory, late National Candidate for Attorney-General, against Secretary of the Senate, D. Dale, of sufficient importance to entertain a radical motion to investigate.

Called to the home our childhood, Lewistown, Pennsylvania, by intelligence of the dangerous illness of our aged mother, we leave the mechanical conduct of the SEXTON, in charge of Geo. W. Johnson, who will also receive and receipt for subscriptions paid in during our absence.

The Knights of Pythias are con- sidered to be the wide awake boys of the city. The programme for the masquerade ball to be given by them this evening is simply elaborate. Everything that money and the ingenuity of the committee of arrange- ments could devise for the guests has been done.

Died, at her home in Jasper county, Indiana, February 15th, 1879, Mrs. Ann L. wife of Isaac Adams. Mrs. Adams was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, February 1, 1818, was married February 23, 1837, and united with the Missionary Baptist church the same year. Her end was peace.

We regret to chronicle the fact that our young friend Le Lowman has concluded to take his departure from our midst. Mr. Lowman will locate in Peoria, Ill. "Twas ever thus." They become wealthy and get city ideas. The best wishes of all who had the pleasure of making his acquaintance, go with him and wish him success.

Mr. J. W. LaRue, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Jasper county died at his home in Rensselaer last Saturday. Mr. LaRue has, for the last six months, been in the grocery business at this place, and by his strict dealings and gentle manners has won a host of warm and devoted friends. A wife and two sons and many friends mourn the loss of one they sincerely love.

We promise you a better paper next week.

Shirt Patterns cut to measure by T. M. Jones.

A full line of piece goods for dress suits just received at Jones'.

New goods, Spring styles, just received at T. M. Jones' the Tailor.

You can have a good business suit made to order for $18.00 at Jones' the Tailor's.

Mr. Al. Fawcett, an old Rensselaer boy, has returned and will work in the Union office.

John B. Wilkins and Lady and Mrs. H. C. Smith, of Lafayette, are the guests of D. B. Miller.

Only two more days to secure bargains. We will pack up Saturday night. N. G. O. P. C. S.

"The wind bloweth where it listeth" and Hen. Barkley don't care a cent since he got those coon-skin gloves.

Two more days left to buy clothing at an immense sacrifice at the Narrow Gauge One Price Clothing Store.

The band boys have organized themselves into a minstrel troupe and will make glad the hearts of the people at no distant day.

Now or never is the time to buy your clothing cheap. Remember we only stay two more days until Saturday night, February 22nd when we will pack up to leave.

Clerk Price has licensed the following persons to marry since our last issue: Charles W. Russell and Lucy J. Whittaker, Henry Legard and Jane Hart, Lewis S. Alter and Sarah E. Nash, William S. Day and Lois E. Stoner.

The enterprising young gentlemen who have purchased the Bakery and Restaurant formerly owned by Jimmy Meehan have thoroughly renovated and refitted the place and have commenced in a manner that indicates business. Both of these gentlemen come well recommended.

The Democratic party is each day of its existence gaining in strength as well as in wisdom. That party which commanded the suffrage of a majority of the legal voters in 1876, today is armed and fully equipped, not with instruments commonly known as demagogues, nor articles of war, but with courage to show the people of the American Republic that majority of her citizens must say whom they can trust at the head of her executive affairs. But should the Republican party whose integrity we will not question on the account of its nonexistence, be so fortunate as to command the number of votes necessary to the election of her ticket, we as a party will bow in humble submission to your dictates, and never ask for a reconsideration. We will not do as you in the past have done, because we know the result of such unconstitutional actions, because we know it adds stain to the history of our beloved and honored country, because we know that in framing the constitution those wise statesmen intended that a majority of American voters should control American elections.

Obituary—Mrs. Ann Saylor.

For THE UNION. Mrs. Ann Saylor, whose funeral was held from the M. E. church last Sunday afternoon, died at her home, in Jasper county, the 15th inst., of typhoid pneumonia. Her remains were brought here for interment with her husband and children in the Western cemetery, December 1st, in August, 1865, and was, therefore, in her seventy-fourth year. She was the wife of David Saylor, who, with his family, came from Ross county, Ohio, in 1849, and located at Rensselaer, where he died, in 1854. He built the Saylor block, now known as "Leopold's Corner," on Van Rensselaer and Washington streets. Their family comprised two sons and five daughters, and were well known in Jasper county. Four of the daughters married here. The husband and father, one son, William, and two daughters, Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Hammond, are buried here, and now near the mother. Of her many relatives still living, we mention only the oldest, Mr. Thomas Monnett, her brother, Messrs. Isaac Saylor, Michael Saylor and Henry Saylor. Besides these are a great number of remoter degrees of kinship both in consanguinity and affinity.

Mother Saylor has been a member of the M. E. church for more than sixty years last past. After the death of her husband the family went to LaPorte, in this state. They returned after about three years to Rensselaer, and again resided here several years. Since leaving Rensselaer she has resided first with her daughter, Mrs. Minor Thompson, at Effingham, Ill., (who, it will be remembered, was burned to death by a chemical explosion several years since), and since her death, with her only surviving daughter, Mrs. Copp, at Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Copp and her husband, Rev. William Copp, brought the remains to this place. Wherever deceased has been known she has been esteemed for her exemplary life, pure christian character and true womanly virtues. Her religious convictions were very deep and her daily walk was in every way consistent with her christian profession. She lost her sight about eighteen months before she died but retained the faculties of mind perfectly to the last moment. She lived to good ripe years in a life of purely unselfish work, and while all but one of her children, and most of her grand children have gone before her, she is remembered and her death mourned by a very large circle of relatives and friends to whom she had endeared herself. ***

Rensselaer Nursery.

We have now in stock, selected especially for this locality: Apple, about fifty varieties, 3 to 6 years, 4 to 8 feet. Pear, 12 varieties, 1 to 3 years, 4 to 6 feet. Cherry, Early Richmond, 4 years, 4 to 6 feet. Siberian Crabs, 4 years, 4 to 6 feet. Grapes, 1 to 3 years, 8 or 10 varieties. Raspberries, 1 and 2 years. Davidson's thornless.

Gooseberries. Strawberries, Wilson & Co. Currants, red and white. Evergreens arbutus, Norway spruce, weeping spruce, Balsam fir. Shade trees, ash, maple, sycamore. Yarn shrubbery, apricot, Tamarax, spirea, Surling, weeping willow, genepions. Honeysuckles, monthly and tartarian. Red wax berry, lilacs, purple and white. Roses, monthly and climbing. Hedge plants, &c., &c. The above stock is in good condition and will be sold at prices to suit the times. Our motto will be "live and let live." Terms, cash, or good notes bearing ten per cent interest. JOHN COEN, Proprietor.

Two more days only to procure clothing at remarkably low prices. We will save you 40 cents on every dollar worth of goods you buy of us before we leave. N. G. O. P. C. S.

The most stringent Frame bill yet has been introduced in the Connecticut Senate. It punishes tramping with a year in State's Prison or ten lashes and six months in the work house.

Subscriptions for the Sentinel are rapidly increasing. This is owing to the fact that the SENTINEL is interested in the welfare of all and abuses none, but rather returns good for evil.

The Union has kindly furnished us some ready-set matter.

Rules for Ladies Traveling Alone.

1. Before starting on a journey, familiarize yourself with the route, and with names of good hotels at various stopping places.
2. Never travel with just enough money, but always carry enough to provide for any possible emergency. This will save much anxiety.
3. Wear but little jewelry, and keep the larger part of your money in some inside pocket, out of sight (the trouble of the lady lately taken from a train by two ruffians on the pretense that she was insane, came partly from wearing valuable jewelry.)
4. Always look after yourself, and do not allow a stranger to procure your tickets or checks for your baggage.
5. Avoid, if possible, making changes in car by night, but, when unavoidable, go with others. Do not become separated from the crowd.
6. Take no hacks, but go in an omnibus, where there are other people. These are perfectly safe.
7. If in any doubt as to changing cars, check baggage, and inquire in advance of the conductor. The conductors on our trains are always polite and willing to be of service, especially to women traveling alone. Do not wait until you are about to make some change in train before enquiring of the conductor, for ten to one, he will then be hurried and you will only half inform yourself.
8. Under all circumstances, endeavor to retain presence of mind. One who can do this will have no trouble in traveling, and instead of its being unwise for women to travel alone, I think it an advantage for them to make trips alone, for there are few people who are not at times obliged to do so, and experience does away with much of the possible danger in traveling.

The Lafayette Journal, one of the "stalwart" Republican papers of the State, freely admits its chagrin at the ephemerical exposures concerning the election in Indiana in 1876. It says: "If Mr. Wolcott, and his partner in that transaction, were not the Smith arrangement, for which $5,000 was paid just a week before the election, who were? * * * In the name of the Republicans of Indiana we denounce and repudiate the whole thing." It was Mr. Tyler, the present Post Master General, in fact, and Mr. Foster, the minister to Mexico, and the leading Republicans generally, of the State, who were mixed up with this attempt to buy the National and to buy the voters of the State. The people should not forget that the "Smith Arrangement" meant money to purchase the votes of the National and to buy the voters of the State. Anson Wolcott, the Greenback candidate for Governor, actually did attempt to turn the votes of his party over to the Republicans as all our readers will remember. He was a how the "Smith Arrangement" worked. There is a "Brown Arrangement" spoken of in the dispatches. This meant the purchase of the Indiana National and changing it to a Republican or Greenback paper. "Two Indian Agents" meant ten thousand dollars for a general corruption fund to be used in the State. Foster, Tyler, Brady and the whole crew of Republican managers are tarred with this ephemerical stick.

Science has accomplished no more wonderful or gratifying result than the perfection of an antidote to the chilling signs of approaching age, something to obliterate the tell-tale tracks of time and preserve the natural adornments of youth to ripe old age. Hall's Hair Renewer does all this, and its praise resounds in cottage and palace. The dwellers among the snows of Norway and the peasants of sunny France and Spain, find use for it, and find means to get it, and it does not disappoint them. The whitening locks again resume their youthful color, the thin, dry, and faded hair becomes bright and glossy. The whole appearance is changed as if by magic, and the man or woman, who before was called aged, now appears as one in the prime of life. Such wonderful changes cannot pass unnoticed, and they have produced the unprecedented demand that now exists for the first and only article ever compounded that can produce them in a pleasing and satisfactory manner.—Illinois New Era.

The attention of the public is invited to the Adamantine Pavement, as an article deserving special consideration. This pavement is a Portland Cement Beton, which, though soft and plastic when laid, solidifies into a stone of great hardness, surpassing many of the best natural stone, in strength, density and durability. It is moulded in the walks in blocks of any form, size and thickness, which do not combine and interlock, and may, if desired, be taken up and relaid like ordinary flagstone. From its plastic nature it may be laid on curved and irregular walks, with the same facility as on straight ones, and without that waste of material and extra expense that pertains to the fitting of stone. It may be made as light as white as marble, or tinted to imitate the blue, brown and other sand stone. It is rich, elegant, durable and cheap. The most desirable pavement yet introduced for either private grounds or public sidewalks. It has a wide and varied application, and numerous testimonials can be furnished from those who have practically tested its merits. Walks that have been in use five years are as level, finished, and to all appearance will last a century. Inquiries and orders respectfully solicited. Address, I. S. KINGSBURY, Monticello Ind.

The party given by our highly esteemed and worthy friends, Horace E. James and lady, last Monday evening, for the Ladies Orchestra Band was indeed an enjoyable affair. The members of the band were all present, together with a few invited ones by the members, among were Hon. E. P. Hammond and his esteemed lady, to whom the Band owe much for her untiring zeal as teacher. Music, Supper, and fun was the programme, and the merry peals of laughter, mingled with the sonorous tones of the bass viol, which is so deftly handled by Miss Flo Thompson extended into the "wee sma' hours." About 1 o'clock the party dispersed hoping that the generous Host and Hostess may live to enjoy many more such pleasant occasions. SPECTATOR.

ROCK AND RYE.

A Sovereign Remedy for Pulmonary Consumption.

On Sunday, December 23, 1877, the Sun printed a report of a conversation in a horse car, between Hon. Ellis B. Schnabel and a consumptive. Schnabel told the coughing man that rock candy and rye whiskey would cure any pulmonary complaint, and referred him to several well-known persons who had regained their health by the use of the mixture. His theory was that the direct cause of pulmonary consumption was a chronic ulceration of the lungs. It was a scrofulous affection, and came down from father to son the same as scrofula. A chronic inflammation would not heal; but it could be turned in to an acute inflammation it might be cured. "In 90 cases out of 100," said Mr. Schnabel, "if you could get into the lung with a stick of caustic, by authorization you might produce the necessary acute inflammation, and the patient would recover."

He claimed that a cordial of rock candy and rye whiskey takes the place of the caustic. Its use produces a semi-acute inflammation of the surface of the lungs, thus putting that organ into a curative condition. The moment the alcohol touches the stomach it flashes into circulation by opening up the capillary vessels of the lungs, and it is the only thing that will produce it. The acute inflammation draws the blood to the weak point, and the saccharine matter taking advantage of the inflammation, builds up and strengthens the weakened organ. The membrane is thickened and healed, and after a few weeks can bear all changes of weather with impunity.

Such was Mr. Schnabel's theory.—His recipe was five pounds of pure white rock candy dissolved in a gallon of old rye whiskey—the older the better. The whiskey must be distilled in the old-fashioned way with a copper worm. Steam distillation develops the latent poison of the berry, and fills the system with fustil and other deadly oils. Colored rock candy is poisonous. The yellow tinge shows the presence of an insoluble salt deleterious to the stomach and dangerous. The clear white rock is pure crystallized sugar, the most nourishing of all substances. The five pounds of candy should be put into a gallon of whiskey. The demijohn should be well shaken three or four times a day, and the mixture is not to be used until the candy is dissolved. The patient may take a sherry wine glass full on going to bed and two-thirds as much on an empty stomach in the morning. He can carry a flask in his pocket and take a spoonful half a dozen times a day. Night sweats will disappear and the patient will get a long and refreshing sleep. Lung fever will go, and he will feel no more pain in his chest.

While taking this cordial the patient must limit his diet. He must keep his stomach employed in taking up rich and nourishing matter. All vinegars, pickles, sour wines, malt drinks and all provisions must be avoided. Touch no fresh pork, for it promotes ulceration. Do away with coffee, for it fevers the blood. Drink black tea. Eat roast beef rare, broiled steaks, mutton chops well done, toasted bread and all kinds of vegetables. The great object is to enrich the blood. One of the best articles is a rum omelette made exclusively of the yolk of eggs.

The publication of Mr. Schnabel's theory and recipe awakened public interest. Nearly every every newspaper in the United States copied the article. Hundreds of persons inquired at the Sun office for copies of the paper in which it was published. Scores of letters were received. Meantime a dozen capitalists began to make the cordial and advertise it. The liquor dealers saw the infection, and "Rock and Rye" is now sold by nearly every druggist and liquor seller in the city. It has become a favorite beverage.

"German Syrup." No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as Boschee's German Syrup. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine were distributed FREE OF CHARGE by Druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, severe Coughs, Pneumonia and other diseases of the Throat and Lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that German Syrup will cure them. The result has been that Druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommended to it by their customers. Go to your Druggist, and ask what they know about it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case.
