

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,
BY JAMES W. McEWEN.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
One copy one year..... $1.50
One copy six months..... 1.00
One copy three months..... 50
ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Constantinople dispatch says that advices from all sides represent that Eastern Roumeli is in a state of complete anarchy. There has been a series of massacres.

There is a serious famine in Roumania, on account of the failure of the maize crop.

Upward of 12,000 cotton operatives are on a strike at Ashton, England.

A dispatch from Berlin says, the plague having appeared in Russian Poland, Germany has forbidden importation across the frontier of live stock from Russia or Austria.

Advices from India say: It is believed in the best-informed circles that we America was undoubtedly in complicity with those who committed the assault upon the British Embassy at Cabul, but it is not guilty of directly instigating the affair himself.

Suleiman Pasha, whose death at Bagdad is announced, was a conspicuous figure in the Russo-Turkish war. His heroic but ill-advised assault on the Russian ports in the Balkans will be remembered as among the most brilliant exploits of that bloody struggle. When the Russians overran Roumeli, he was deprived of his command and imprisoned. Later it was reported that he had been thrown into the Bosphorus by order of the Sultan, but the truth of this was established soon after his reappearance in banishment.

The latest great engineering project, announced in a cable dispatch from St. Petersburg, is to unite the Caspian and Black seas, the work, it is stated, has already been commenced. General Hayes and party journeyed from Cleveland to Constantinople, Sept. 17, for the purpose of attending a reunion of the President's old regiment, Twenty-third Ohio. The reunion was held in a grove near the town, and, after an address of welcome by Dr. McCurdy, the President delivered a speech of considerable length, in which he defended the financial policy of his administration. He was followed by Gen. Sherman, one of his characteristic talkers, after which the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes went to Detroit Sept. 16. He was present at the State Fair near that city, and delivered a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the commercial and industrial situation, and dwelt at some length on the finances of the country. Gen. Sherman and Zach Chandler also made speeches.

Gen. George B. Smith died at his home in Madison, Wis., a few days ago. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent citizens of the Badger State. He had many positions of trust and honor, and had been a leading lawyer and active politician for over thirty years. He was 60 years old.

A serious Indian outbreak is reported in New Mexico.

"Doc" Middleton, the notorious Nebraska desperado and horse-thief, has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Louis Gueting, who a year ago murdered Mary McGlew, a hotel waitress, because she refused to marry him, was hanged at Indianapolis Sept. 19.

President Hayes and party arrived at Chicago over the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern lines from the evening of Sept. 22, and were quartered at the Grand Hotel. After a private reception and a night's rest at that hospitable, the distinguished party continued their journey westward over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

A New York dispatch says that a prominent coal-dealer asserts that there is no hope of the coal companies at the East being able to form an effective combination this season. The matter has been discussed for about two weeks quite generally, but an agreement could not be absolutely impossible. These negotiations, it is stated, are now ended, and a bitter combination, highly satisfactory to coal-consumers, must ensue.

A Boston dispatch reports the burning of a three-story tenement house in Gold street, by which some five or six people, mostly Germans, lost their lives.

A Fall River (Mass.) dispatch reports a serious riot in that city. A number of Canadian operatives were to work in the mills, which caused the striking workmen that they attacked and stoned them. Several of the new-comers were painfully injured before the police came to their rescue.

Seven seafarers belonging to the American ship King of Richmond, we are, in the port of Philadelphia, for the number of the second mate, Charles E. Brooks, whom they believed to be dead, were found to be alive, and was committed at sea, on the 13th of August last. The prisoners claim that they were taken in fishing Brooks' life, in that they had been subjected to most cruel and inhuman treatment at his hands.

James Redpath, the well-known proprietor of Redpath's Lycum Bureau, is missing from New York, not having been heard from for several weeks.

New York papers chronicle the death of Daniel Drew, the well-known financial and stock operator. He was 82 years old.

South.

There were eighteen deaths from yellow fever in Memphis, and forty-two new cases, for the two days, Sept. 15-16. Contributions to the Howard fund were coming in freely. The Medical Inspector at Helena, Ark., reports a number of cases of yellow fever at Carson's Landing, Miss., sixty miles below Helena. The fever has also broken out badly at Concordia, La., and all the surrounding country has quarantined against the affected towns.

Advice from Taney county, in the southeastern part of Missouri, say that two brothers named Burr and James, living near Kirville, got into a struggle about a cow, and James shot and killed Burr. A younger brother then went home, procured a rifle, and shot his brother James through the heart.

There were fifteen deaths from yellow fever at Memphis and thirty new cases for the three days ending on the evening of Sept. 19. A dispatch from that city says a review of the situation reveals the following condition of affairs: There are about two hundred and twenty-five people sick with yellow fever and adjacent to Memphis, nearly all of whom are being attended and cared for by the Howards. Their physicians and visitors are daily abroad, seeking new victims for relief. They have one hundred and eighty nurses on duty and are working under an expense of about $400 a day. The Masons, Odd-Fellows, Knights of Honor and other benevolent associations are laboring hand-in-hand with the Howards in the noble work of relieving the sick and distressed.

There were only three deaths from yellow fever in Memphis during the two days Sept. 20-21, twenty new cases being reported in the same time.

West.

John B. Ranson, 7 years old, died at Cleveland, Ohio, a few days ago, from hydrocephalus, after having been sick for one day. He was bitten by several weeks ago.

The Wisconsin Dead and Dumb Asylum, at Delavan, was destroyed by fire last week. With the exception of the citizens of Delavan all the property in the building was saved, including the library, safe and the contents of all the rooms. The institution had just commenced its yearly session, with an attendance of 155 pupils, a larger number than have ever before been regis-

The Democratic Sentinel.

"A Firm Adherence to Correct Principles."

JAS. W. McEWEN Editor.

VOLUME III.

RENSSELAER, JASPER COUNTY, INDIANA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1879.

$1.50 per Annum.

NUMBER 33.

REPUBLICANISM ARRAIGNED.

SPEECH OF
HON. DANIEL W. VOORHEES,
At Hamilton, Ohio.

From 1873 to 1879, inclusive, the United States mints coined 376,624,340 pieces of money, aggregating in value $419,071,313.

A Washington dispatch announces the arrival of Mrs. Sprague and her three daughters at Edgewood, the former homestead of her father.

MISCELLANEOUS GLEANINGS.

A Wheling dispatch announces a further advance in the price of rails. The manufacturers are not asking $3, and have all the orders they can afford.

Chicago elevators contain 1,344,102 bushels of wheat, 3,057,732 bushels of corn, 499,638 bushels of oats, 165,554 bushels of rye, and 136,917 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 5,263,963 bushels, against 6,355,871 bushels at this period last year.

Henry D. Adams, better known as "Hank" Adams, one of the oldest and wisest-known printers in the West, died in Cincinnati, a few days ago, of consumption, at 54 years of age.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

Seventeen officers who served against the Government in the long and bloody wars which were, to all appearances, brought to an end a few months ago, and who had not again taken up arms, were recently butchered in their homes by Spanish soldiers, acting, it is claimed, at the instigation of the dispatch which announces this massacre also mentions the rising of the slaves in Cleonfus and their union with the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes and party journeyed from Cleveland to Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, for the purpose of attending a reunion of the President's old regiment, Twenty-third Ohio.

The reunion was held in a grove near the town, and, after an address of welcome by Dr. McCurdy, the President delivered a speech of considerable length, in which he defended the financial policy of his administration.

He was followed by Gen. Sherman, one of his characteristic talkers, after which the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes went to Detroit Sept. 16. He was present at the State Fair near that city, and delivered a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the commercial and industrial situation, and dwelt at some length on the finances of the country. Gen. Sherman and Zach Chandler also made speeches.

Gen. George B. Smith died at his home in Madison, Wis., a few days ago. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent citizens of the Badger State. He had many positions of trust and honor, and had been a leading lawyer and active politician for over thirty years.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

The crops in Europe.

Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, sends from London the following result of his observations of the crops in Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

YARD-SUPPLY OF GRAN, CUBA.

A Wheling dispatch announces a further advance in the price of rails. The manufacturers are not asking $3, and have all the orders they can afford.

Chicago elevators contain 1,344,102 bushels of wheat, 3,057,732 bushels of corn, 499,638 bushels of oats, 165,554 bushels of rye, and 136,917 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 5,263,963 bushels, against 6,355,871 bushels at this period last year.

Henry D. Adams, better known as "Hank" Adams, one of the oldest and wisest-known printers in the West, died in Cincinnati, a few days ago, of consumption, at 54 years of age.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

Seventeen officers who served against the Government in the long and bloody wars which were, to all appearances, brought to an end a few months ago, and who had not again taken up arms, were recently butchered in their homes by Spanish soldiers, acting, it is claimed, at the instigation of the dispatch which announces this massacre also mentions the rising of the slaves in Cleonfus and their union with the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes and party journeyed from Cleveland to Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, for the purpose of attending a reunion of the President's old regiment, Twenty-third Ohio.

The reunion was held in a grove near the town, and, after an address of welcome by Dr. McCurdy, the President delivered a speech of considerable length, in which he defended the financial policy of his administration.

He was followed by Gen. Sherman, one of his characteristic talkers, after which the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes went to Detroit Sept. 16. He was present at the State Fair near that city, and delivered a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the commercial and industrial situation, and dwelt at some length on the finances of the country. Gen. Sherman and Zach Chandler also made speeches.

Gen. George B. Smith died at his home in Madison, Wis., a few days ago. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent citizens of the Badger State. He had many positions of trust and honor, and had been a leading lawyer and active politician for over thirty years.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

The crops in Europe.

Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, sends from London the following result of his observations of the crops in Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

YARD-SUPPLY OF GRAN, CUBA.

A Wheling dispatch announces a further advance in the price of rails. The manufacturers are not asking $3, and have all the orders they can afford.

Chicago elevators contain 1,344,102 bushels of wheat, 3,057,732 bushels of corn, 499,638 bushels of oats, 165,554 bushels of rye, and 136,917 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 5,263,963 bushels, against 6,355,871 bushels at this period last year.

Henry D. Adams, better known as "Hank" Adams, one of the oldest and wisest-known printers in the West, died in Cincinnati, a few days ago, of consumption, at 54 years of age.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

Seventeen officers who served against the Government in the long and bloody wars which were, to all appearances, brought to an end a few months ago, and who had not again taken up arms, were recently butchered in their homes by Spanish soldiers, acting, it is claimed, at the instigation of the dispatch which announces this massacre also mentions the rising of the slaves in Cleonfus and their union with the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes and party journeyed from Cleveland to Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, for the purpose of attending a reunion of the President's old regiment, Twenty-third Ohio.

The reunion was held in a grove near the town, and, after an address of welcome by Dr. McCurdy, the President delivered a speech of considerable length, in which he defended the financial policy of his administration.

He was followed by Gen. Sherman, one of his characteristic talkers, after which the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes went to Detroit Sept. 16. He was present at the State Fair near that city, and delivered a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the commercial and industrial situation, and dwelt at some length on the finances of the country. Gen. Sherman and Zach Chandler also made speeches.

Gen. George B. Smith died at his home in Madison, Wis., a few days ago. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent citizens of the Badger State. He had many positions of trust and honor, and had been a leading lawyer and active politician for over thirty years.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

The crops in Europe.

Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, sends from London the following result of his observations of the crops in Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

YARD-SUPPLY OF GRAN, CUBA.

A Wheling dispatch announces a further advance in the price of rails. The manufacturers are not asking $3, and have all the orders they can afford.

Chicago elevators contain 1,344,102 bushels of wheat, 3,057,732 bushels of corn, 499,638 bushels of oats, 165,554 bushels of rye, and 136,917 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 5,263,963 bushels, against 6,355,871 bushels at this period last year.

Henry D. Adams, better known as "Hank" Adams, one of the oldest and wisest-known printers in the West, died in Cincinnati, a few days ago, of consumption, at 54 years of age.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

Seventeen officers who served against the Government in the long and bloody wars which were, to all appearances, brought to an end a few months ago, and who had not again taken up arms, were recently butchered in their homes by Spanish soldiers, acting, it is claimed, at the instigation of the dispatch which announces this massacre also mentions the rising of the slaves in Cleonfus and their union with the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes and party journeyed from Cleveland to Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, for the purpose of attending a reunion of the President's old regiment, Twenty-third Ohio.

The reunion was held in a grove near the town, and, after an address of welcome by Dr. McCurdy, the President delivered a speech of considerable length, in which he defended the financial policy of his administration.

He was followed by Gen. Sherman, one of his characteristic talkers, after which the party returned to Cleveland.

President Hayes went to Detroit Sept. 16. He was present at the State Fair near that city, and delivered a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the commercial and industrial situation, and dwelt at some length on the finances of the country. Gen. Sherman and Zach Chandler also made speeches.

Gen. George B. Smith died at his home in Madison, Wis., a few days ago. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent citizens of the Badger State. He had many positions of trust and honor, and had been a leading lawyer and active politician for over thirty years.

The new inscription in Cuba has received an impetus which thousands of Spanish troops can not overcome, and from a quarter, too, which may always be depended on to furnish assistance at the proper time and place.

The crops in Europe.

Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, sends from London