

John Sherman received the Ohio radical caucus nomination for U. S. Senator.

Augusta, Georgia, is enjoying fine sleighing, the first in a quarter of a century.

James G. Fair had a large majority in the Nevada Legislature for United States Senator.

Last Monday, at Alpena, Michigan, Mrs. Alice Williams, as a sacrifice to the Lord, severed her tongue with a razor.

Dr. Glenn, the late Democratic candidate for Governor of California, has just finished threshing his wheat, and he has 460,000 sacks full. He does not seem to need an office to keep him from starving.

The "dead lock" in the State Senate was broken Saturday by the Democrats throwing their support to Brouse, for Secretary; Sears, for Asst. Secretary, and Monroe for Door-keeper—all nationalists.

Porter's inaugural was a regular partisan harangue. Some of the stalwart Senators were so delighted with it that they desired it to rank as a message and moved its reference to committees of that body.

The grandson of his grandfather is about to be elevated to office by radical representatives, seeing as how the people themselves have always repudiated him. He has received the radical caucus nomination for U. S. Senator.

The South Bend Herald puts it this way: "There were twelve hundred thousand negro votes cast for Garfield. The Republican party thus represents the ignorance of the country instead of its intelligence. Take this vote from 4,432,415 and it leaves a total white vote in his favor of 3,232,415, which leaves a popular white majority against him of 1,133,972."

Fraud Mayes will soon retire from the position wrongfully withheld from another. He will have exercised the authority and drawn the salary pertaining to the office, but he will be solitary and alone of all the Executive who will be unable to claim rightful title, and in his communications with himself he will be constrainedly admit: "After all, I was never President of the United States, and am only a Fraud."

Dolphin Times: Capt. Frank Chilcote, of Rensselaer, for four years a soldier comrade of the Times man, was in the city Wednesday, and of course called at this office. Frank is always a welcome guest at our fireside, his political shortcomings being entirely forgotten in the recollection of his off-tried companionship in camp, on the march and upon the field. Come again, "Yank."

Mr. W. S. Smoot, a constable of Irrepressible township, came to Kentland last Friday morning bringing with him his uncle, Mr. Edward Anderson, of Peoria, and his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Falkner, of Illinois, who were returning home after having visited their Indiana relatives for a week or more. Mr. Smoot did not fail to call on the News and left a favorable impression. Kentland News.

And when in Rensselaer, "Ben" and this same uncle Anderson, who by the way is a clever old gentleman of strong Democratic convictions, favored the SENTINEL with a short visit.

The radicals, when they had the power, placed the ballot in the hands of the negro, and it is well for that party—it did not the country—to-day that it did so. Sambo holds the balance of power. His colonization is sufficient numbers in this State carried Indiana; the vast population of them in Pennsylvania carried that State, and others were carried by the same element. Mr. Garfield has a popular white majority against him of 1,133,972. Not very consoling.

An exchange combats with considerable vigor the argument that city weeklies are cheaper and better than county papers because they give more columns of reading matter for the money. Do the city papers, it asks, ever give you any home news? Never. Do they say anything in regard to your own county? No. Do they contain notices of your schools, churches, meetings, improvements and hundreds of other local matters as without pay? Not an item. Do they ever say a word calculated to draw attention to your county and its numerous and thriving towns, and add to their progress and enterprise? Not a word. And yet there are men who take such contrived views of this matter, that unless they are getting as many square inches of reading in their own paper as they do in a city paper, they think they are not getting the worth of their money. It reminds us of the person who took who took the largest pair of boots in the box, simply because they cost no more than the smaller pair that fitted him.

A New Orleans writer says of the negro exodus:

Many of those who went to Kansas, Illinois, Missouri and other places North, have returned, and give such dolorous accounts of the unhappy condition of the exodus, that the coldness of the country, and other dreadful things that exist in the West, that they have discouraged many who otherwise might have gone. They say that the only success emissaries have in lulling the negroes to leave the plantations, is when they tell them of the delights and pleasures of the cities. The apostles who tell them of these are usually those who have served as waiters on steamboats and roustabouts and stevedores on the levees. These people go to the river towns and cities and indulge in lives of dissipation and during the off-season they are idle, loaf among their friends, and tell stories of their adventures that cause others to try the same life. But this is comparative small effect on the masses of country laborers, the influence being chiefly exercised on those who have about the towns and cities, a taste for dissipation or fitting creatures leave, immigrants come in from the older Eastern Southern States, and in many portions of the cotton-growing regions the influx is a surprise to the people. They are welcome, too, and fostered, for the reason that they have not been effected nearly so much by the late Kansas exodus fever as the dwellers in this Valley were. These new-comers are said to be more shrewd, industrious, and better domesticated than the immigrants. There is no doubt, too, that since the country has been cleared of the malcontents, politicians and emissaries who created dissatisfaction and trouble during the past few years, the remaining negroes are much more prosperous and make and save more money than they ever did before. Many of the planters have arranged matters so that their hands can not get any whiskey, the country grocer getting his out from the city custom. This alone has brought about peace and prosperity in Parishes and sections that, only a few years ago, were the devil's own dens.

The experience of the poor deluded negroes who were induced to leave the South to vote the Republican ticket, instead of receiving the "forty acres of land and a mule," have secured privations, cold, hunger, frozen feet, etc., and are glad to get back. The winter of 1880-81 has convinced them that the North is not their country, and that the friendship of the radicals on y extends to their votes.

Recently the officers of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway put a large number of inspectors on the track for the purpose of awarding premiums for 1880, previously announced, with the following result:

ROAD MASTERS.
Premium, $100 for best division, Hugh McDonald.

SECTION FOREMEN.
First premium, $50 for best section on main line, P. McCormick.
Second premium, $10 for foreman having best section on each of main line divisions: 1st section, Thomas Hart; 2d section, John Roach; 3d section, M. Hart.

Third premium, $25 for foreman who shows greatest improvement in gauge, surface of track, and location of curves since the first of the year on each of the main line divisions: 1st section, R. L. Adams; 2d section, John Karm; 3d section, W. Hogen.
Fourth premium, $10 to foreman having best section on each of branch lines: 4th section, M. Broderick; 5th section, James Whiggly.

Fifth premium, $25 to foreman having best yard, including Denison, Stephensville, Callers and Pittsburg: A. McDonald, Denison.

In making the inspection, particular attention was paid to the following points: Line, gauge surface, location of curves, joints, ballast, spacing of ties, frogs, switches, signals, ditching, road crossings, stings, station grounds, fences, general appearance of sections, prompt obedience of orders, and strict attention to duty.

The recent decline in coffee, of which this country uses more than any other nation in the world, and five times as much as Great Britain, will probably be permanent, as it is due, not to the casual over-supply, but to a change in the manner of conducting the trade. Railroads bring the coffee from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, to the United States, which have supplanted sailing vessels, have greatly shortened the trip from Brazil to this country. The trade in coffee, in other words, has gone through the same secular cycle in trade in tea. The day for great firms buying by the ship load and carrying great stocks has gone by. Orders by cable, shipments by steam and purchases by job lots have taken the place of the slow but princely methods of a few years back.

Congressman Orth, who is said to be proud of his German ancestors and of his knowledge of the German language, is described by merry friends as addressing the Austrian Emperor at Vienna in this belated language: "The Emperor, it is related, afterward intimated Mr. Orth to another American in complimentary terms, and then added: 'What was the dialect in which Mr. Orth delivered his address? I knew, of course, that it was not English, and I thought that I detected some faint traces of the Teutonic tongue in some of the words.'"

The house which Davy Crockett once lived in at Lawrenceburg, Tenn., is still standing, and divers persons in the neighborhood possess legal documents written out by his hand as Justice of the Peace. He had a mill near the house, but, it is said, went off hunting and electrocution while his wife took care of that institution. Mrs. Crockett was a woman of great strength, and could handle sacks of grain with ease.

Those ice sleds upon which skaters in Germany push their lady friends about on the ice, whispering sweet things into their willing ears while thought to be introduced into the country. They are sleighs rather than sleds, very comfortable and very tasty as a design, the figure of a swan being the favorite.
