

Newspaper Decisions.
1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.
5. The courts have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the office" is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.
7. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time, if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send on and on and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.

Barkeley Township Items.
Go and look at the New Goods at Reed's Store.
Rain needed badly.
No plums this season.
Still they improve "Wall Street."
The "Star" is completed at last.
Elder berries are getting ripe in abundance.
For. Payne has purchased a bug.
Mr. Frank Moore is expected back from Kansas.
The steamer is to be in this township to-day.
Fall plowing is progressing but slowly, owing to the drought.
Gypsies are to be seen traveling on the highway.
John Moore's dog soon returned to "Home, Sweet Home."
Mr. Bill Smith is slowly moving to wards Nubbin Ridge.
Old England is now harvesting her golden wheat crop.
Thrashing machines are still to be heard in the distance, but slowly, owing to the drought.
Mr. Jim Austin sailed through this township one day last week.
Mr. George Haste is furnishing timber for a bridge in Walker township.
Mr. Ed. Parkinson and family were visiting in this township last Sunday.
Weather is considerably cooler now than it was the first part of last week.
The Gilmore boys had a "smash up" last week, while thrashing for Sol. McCutchen.

The threshers of "Canada" have had some bad luck with their horses this fall, partly the result of bad management.
Mr. Isaac Walker is now proprietor of the Bill Smith farm, and is improving the same.
Owing to the insufficiency of pasture here quite a number of cattle have been taken to the northern wilds, where there is nothing but grass and cobbledup bridges.
Mr. John C. Norman has completed the well he has been working at for several weeks past. Mr. N. has a well for Marion township to sink a well for Frank Warner.
Mr. Isaac Tapp, of Pleasant Ridge, stepped in and out of this township one day in a week. Call again.
Mr. Ezra Gause, of Attika, landed in Barkeley last Saturday evening. He reports business lively in Fountain county.
Miss Herra English, of Beaver Prairie has been visiting her cousins, Misses Dora English and Grace Nichols.
Farmers should patronize Mr. Bill Price. He is the "loss" workman, clever and accommodating.
Farmers who expect to make wheat raising a success, should sow either the Clawson or Feltz, for neither has ever been surpassed in quality by any other kind to our knowledge.

Mr. D. L. Pritchard and family expect to move to the Hawkeye State this fall. Mr. David L. is a good citizen and staunch Democrat. His people's loss will be Iowa's gain. We wish him success.
Considerable sickness is prevailing among the children of Nubbin Ridge, and we regret to state two have gone the way of all flesh.
Rev. Loder preached his valiant sermon at Center school house last Sunday evening, and Rev. Thompson also delivered his farewell sermon at same place at 10 o'clock, a.m.

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grayson died very suddenly on the evening of the 19th inst. Funeral services on following day by Rev. Thompson, and interment in Brown's Cemetery.
We were indeed glad to hear from the widow's children, in last week's SENTINEL. We always sympathize with orphans, and would be glad to inform them concerning the Sun. Sabbath school, but as we have not given it a call for some time, we are unable to give any facts concerning it. Call on Secretary Floss.

A READER.
August 24, 1881.
HEALTHFULNESS OF MILK.—If any one wishes to grow fleshy, a pint of milk taken on retiring at night will soon cover the ribs and add to the weight. I have seen a good many fleshy persons nowadays there are a good many lean and lank ones, who sigh for the fashionable measure of plumage, and who would be vastly improved in health and good appearance could their figures be rounded with good solid flesh. Nothing is more coveted by a thin woman than a full figure, and nothing will so raise the fire and provide the scandal of the "clipper-build" as the consciousness in a rival. In cases of fever and summer complaint milk is now given with excellent results. The idea that milk is feverish has exploded. It is now the physician's main reliance in bracing through typhoid patients, or those in too low a state to be nourished by solid food. It is a mistake to scrimp the milk picher. Take more milk and buy less meat. Look to your milkman; have large sized and well filled milk-pitchers on the table at each meal, and save doctor's bills.

A St. Louis cat was sun-struck the other day, and Chicago again makes a stand-off of it to game by producing a dog which committed suicide by drowning. The public await further developments with almost breathless interest.
In order to cure her husband of drinking, a colored woman in South Carolina put concentrated lye in his whiskey bottle. The last words he uttered were to the effect that it would be a relief to him to drop into Hades to cool off, and the last words the widow spoke to the out-side world as she dived into jail were: "I never shed such weak stomachs as de niggards are sittin' nowadays; dey can't stand nuffin!"

Mr. Lemuel Tyler died at his residence, six miles east of Rensselaer, August 21st, 1881, aged 47 years and 8 days. His remains were followed to the grave by the Masonic fraternity and a large concourse of citizens.

EDITOR SENTINEL: The genius whose subject in last week's Republican was the Cemetery, has evidently dined so long on burdock and blistles that they crop out on his brain, and he fancies they grow everywhere. None are to be found in our City of the Dead, however, and the chronic fault-finder "has his labor for his pains."

RENSSELAER.

AN EGG LAYING ROOSTER.—A special from Danville, Va., to the Cincinnati Gazette, says:

The Times says: Mr. J. D. Lippard, of Pittsylvania County, had a rooster which laid eggs, a regular built rooster, which had spurs and comb. Recently it died and was cut open in the presence of several persons. Some eggs were found in it, and it had two hearts, two gizzards, two livers, and everything showing that the sexes were united in one. This is from Mr. Lippard himself a gentleman of veracity.

LEMONS.—The following concise account of the properties and uses of the lemon is taken from an exchange. The facts contained are well worthy to be borne in mind, for few people are acquainted with the various ways in which this most useful fruit may be employed with benefit.

The lemon is a native of Asia, although it is cultivated in Italy, Portugal, and in the south of France. In Europe, however, it seldom exceeds the dimensions of the smallest tree, while its native state is to grow over ninety feet in height.

Every part of this tree is valuable in medicine, though we rarely employ any of it but its fruit, that is, the lemon itself.

And every one knows now to employ this, as in lemonade: To squeeze the juice into cold, this is the shortest way, or to cut into slices and let soak in cold water; or to cut into slices and then boil it; either way is good. Lemonade is one of the best and safest drinks for any person, whether in health or not. It is suitable in all stomach diseases, is excellent in sickness—in cases of jaundice, gravel, liver complaint, inflammation of the bowels and fevers.

It is a specific against worms and skin complaints. The pippins crushed may also be used with water and sugar as a drink. Lemon juice is the best anti-scorbutic remedy known. It not only cures the disease, but prevents it. Sailors make a daily use of it for this purpose. A physician suggests rubbing of the gums daily with lemon juice to keep them in a healthy condition.

The hands are also kept clean, white, soft and supple by the daily use of lemon instead of soap. It also prevents chilblains. Lemon is used in intermittent fevers mixed with strong hot black tea or coffee, without sugar. Neuralgia may be cured by rubbing the part affected with a lemon. It is valuable to cure warts, and to kill dandruff on the head by rubbing the roots of the hair with it.

In fact its uses are manifold, and the more we employ it externally the better we shall find our lives. Natural remedies are the best, and it is our best doctor. If we would only listen to it. Decidedly rub your hands, head, and gums with it, and drink lemonade in preference to all other liquids. Another use to which they may be put is the flavoring of strawberries. We are in the habit of eating strawberries with cream, juice of an orange, etc. Now the way to make them harmless is to cover them with a very large allowance of powdered sugar, and then squeeze over them one, two or three lemons according to the quantity. The lemon juice brings out the strawberry flavor better than anything else, and its acidity is counteracted by the large quantity of sugar. The lemon juice should be in the same proportion as the cream would be in the piece of which it is used.

Heroes of the Plains.

Is the charming title of a new book just published by the Historical Publishing Co., of St. Louis, Mo. It embraces the lives and adventures of Wild Bill, Buffalo Bill, Kit Carson, Capt. Payne, Capt. Jack, Texas Jack, California Joe, and other celebrated Indian fighters, scouts, hunters, and guides, and is doubtless a book well worth having. There are not many people in this great land of ours who do not feel an interest in the romantic deeds of the gallant plainsmen. See advertisement elsewhere.

FENDING has a full stock of Ready-Made Clothing, of all styles and at all prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Better goods for less money than elsewhere. Call and be satisfied.

The Noted Train Robbers.

The publishers of "Border Outlaws" assert that their history of the Younger Brothers and Frank and Jesse James, published six months ago, has already reached the enormous sale of more than 60,000 copies. Since the late robbery and double murder at Winston, Mo., they have issued a new edition, containing a full history of that outrage, with illustrations, which brings the events in the lives of these airy gentlemen of the highway down to the present moment. For lively reading we presume this book can hardly be surpassed. Persons desiring agencies will find advertisement elsewhere.
