

Removal!

The Sentinel Office has been moved into rooms one door east of Makeover's New Hotel, where we will be pleased to greet our friends in future.

The Northern Republicans and the National Administration will be given full credit for the result in Virginia, and be held responsible for what may flow from it.

Dr. Terrell, Democratic member elect to the Virginia Legislature, is in his nineteenth year. He is said to possess the activity of a man of sixty and an unclouded intellect.

In the Tax Office, Philadelphia some colossal stealings have been recently unearthed among the clerks. It is thought that they will reach into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

That which now most embarrasses the Stalwart President is how to convict, and at the same time shield from punishment, the Star Route thieves. No doubt his expediency will conclude the interests of his party demand that he be not convicted.

Senator Stalwart Logan, on the first meeting, at his boarding house, with Guitau, called the landlady aside and said: "I do not think he (Guitau) is a proper person to have in your boarding house." "I thought he was kind of crazy, and she had better not have him in her boarding house." "If Guitau should be acquitted, to such evidence, from such witnesses may it very properly be attributed.

Stalwart Logan is of the opinion that Guitau is crazy. Expressed himself to that effect to the landlady with whom he boarded on the first appearance of Guitau at her table. "No doubt Conkling, Cameron, Arthur and Grant coincide with him. The crazy act of Guitau made Arthur President—fourth half breedism and placed the control of the Government in the hands of the stalwarts. They will not forget this. On the other hand, Blaine don't consider him crazy. His chattering over Conkling was brought to such a sudden stop by Guitau that he will undoubtedly regard it as a pleasant episode in his life to witness the strangulation.

Indianapolis Sentinel: The farmers of Indiana are asking each other, as also themselves, in what way the advocates of protection propose to confer benefits upon the agricultural interests of the State. As matters now stand, farmers are taxed 94 per cent on the article of blankets. Ready-made clothing is taxed 57 per cent, hats 68 per cent, leather 35 per cent, plain cotton goods 41 per cent, earthware 41 per cent, horse shoe nails 59 per cent, pocket cutlery 50 per cent, agricultural implements 35 per cent, salt from 39 to 69 cents per bushel, 64 per cent, all descriptions of steel manufactures 45 per cent. The list could be indefinitely extended, and in no single instance is there to be found the slightest evidence of regard for the interests of the farmers; that the farmers of Indiana are demanding that the tariff shall be taken out of their pockets.

And when it is remembered, too, that where this duty shuts out imports, out of competition, the whole increased prices they pay go into the pockets of the already wealthy, and not one cent into the revenues of the Government, it is not surprising that the demand increases as the matter becomes more generally understood.

Facts on the tariff were never more clearly stated than by Hon. S. S. Cox, some years since, in Congress, when he used the following language:

"The farmer, starting for his work, has a shoe put on his horse with nails taxed 67 per cent, driven with a hammer taxed 57 per cent, he cuts a sickle with a knife taxed 50 per cent, he hitches his horse to a plow taxed 60 per cent, with trace chains taxed 67 per cent. He returns to his home at night and lays his weary limbs on a sheet taxed 58 per cent, and covers himself with a blanket that has paid a tax of 80 per cent. He rises in the morning, puts on a cheap coat taxed 45 per cent, his flannel shirt is taxed 50 per cent, his shoes are taxed 35 per cent, and the hat on his head is taxed at 60 per cent. He opens a Bible that is taxed 35 per cent; he kneels to his God on a carpet taxed 100 per cent; the cheap plates from which he eats his meals pay a tax of 40 per cent; his cup of coffee is sweetened with sugar taxed 75 per cent, and the salt with which he seasons his food is taxed 60 per cent."

The manufacturing monopolist reap almost the sole benefit of high tariff duties. They place their goods on the market at the highest figures the tariff will admit of and shut out competition. They secure big profits, but the employees receive no better compensation. Protection, prohibition, imports shut out, no competition, what is the result? Big profits for the favored few, exorbitant prices for the consumers, no revenue for the government, consequently the burden of direct taxation must be fastened upon the toiling masses in addition to the high cost of living. Consumers pay the bill, this will not be disputed. Farmers, mechanics, laborers, artisans comprise the vast body of consumers. They pay the tribute, and the comparatively few wealthy manufacturers scattered here and there over the land—receive it. These efforts enlarge and expand, while those of the consumers grow lean and emaciated.

President Arthur.—Previous to the shooting of Garfield Mr. Arthur was in many respects, an untired man; and his assumption of the vast powers and responsibilities of the presidency was an event naturally contemplated with solicitude; but from the first hour of Garfield's long drawn agony, every act, and word of Arthur's has been watched with jealous interest. Yet in no respect has he failed to show himself qualified to discharge the duties of his high position with honor to himself, and advantage to the nation.

Like his lamented predecessor, we believe he will be president of the nation, not of a party; and leader of a party, not of a faction.—Rensselaer Republican.

"Half-breed editors are praising President Arthur just as though they had always done so. The twinkling of an eye affords ample time for those fellows to change front."—Monticello Herald, Stalwart.

He is the same identical Arthur removed from the Custom House by Hayes and Sherman for corrupt and dishonest practices.

Veener's December Predictions.—December, 1881.—1, 2, 3. Storms of icebergs in Atlantic and cold, blustery weather at New York, Boston and other seacoast cities; snowfalls in the Middle and Northern States and Canada; very cold weather West. Probably a brief mild term, 10 to 15. Generally very cold weather, probably commencing and ending with snowfalls in northern, middle and western sections, and bleak and stormy weather south.

13 and 14. Probably milder in all sections, with rains South and West to a limited extent.

15 to 20. Very cold and blustery period, with snowfalls where there were experienced in 1876 and 1880, the 19th and 20th probably being the day most marked in this respect: intense cold in Canada and New England States.

21. Christmas has a cold and stormy period, both before and after it, and am strongly impressed in the direction of low temperatures for the forepart of the approaching winter season.

26 to 31. After the 26th I see nothing but cold, snow and bluster to the close of the year for Canada and much of the United States, West and South, the month probably resembling in many respects, the December of 1876 and 1880. As to the intensity or degree of these snowfalls, I have no very definite indications, but I am strongly impressed in the direction of low temperatures for the forepart of the approaching winter season.

But January will have its "thaw" this time, and probably a very marked one.

Mr. Michael Schultz is erecting a new barn.

Nick Guss has been appointed "section boss" on railroad.

The Teachers' Institute was organized with Wm. Cooper as President, and Jennie Gant as Secretary.

James Pierce and Austin Lakin report the roads between Jasper City and Oaktown as being rather rough.

Our friend Charles, son of B. W. Harrington, has a hankering for Jasper City. What's the attraction, Charlie?

Mr. Levi Hodge is erecting some new buildings on his farm at present. Levi is a first-rate farmer, and by the way, a good Democrat.

The Jasper City Literary and Debating Society elected the following officers at its last meeting: President, David W. Shields; Vice Pres., C. C. Cooper; Secretary, Jennie Gant; Treasurer, Christina Pettie.

County Superintendent D. B. Nowels visited the schools of Union this week. Owing to bad roads he "took a foot," not however until he had purchased a huge pair of rubber boots, about No. —, well we'll not continue the subject at present.

GRAPE-ISLAND.

Nov. 26, 1881.

But 400 of the biblically historical cedars of Lebanon are left.

The Boston Globe says that gamblers are betting that Guitau will not be hanged.

When two women with new hats pass each other on the street there is a pair of back stares built immediately.

Bob Ingersoll is about to prove there is no hell for the Strout rowdies. Classically speaking, Bob thinks "Sic itur ad astra."

"America," says an Englishman, "is a country where a man's statement is not worth two cents unless backed up with an offer to bet you ten dollars."

THE KIND OF POLITICS WE HAVE.—The rebellion continues to be put down, and the oppressed slave to be emancipated.—Springfield Republican.

When the Chicago man saw Niagara he shed tears. Durn it, he said, "I ain't rich enough to describe it and make it out bigger than it is, 'I'm floored.'"

"Whoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn the other to him also," is a biblical expression. In modern parlance it is termed "a reversal blow out."

If a man is quick tempered you had better go to the other side of the road until the paroxysm is over; if he is sullen go to the other side of the street and stay there.—New York Herald.

A sarcastic Georgia editor, in noticing a fair which recently came off in Macon, says: "One of our cotemporary took a very valuable premium but a meddlesome official put it right back where he took it from."

Damascus is the oldest city in the world, and the street called Straight, in which it is said Saul prayed, still runs through the city, and the yearly caravans come and go to the place just as they did one thousand years ago.

The North American Review, which has heretofore borne the imprint of D. Appleton & Co., will do so no more, the Appletons objecting—so it is said—to the publication of Col. R. G. Ingersoll's article, which appeared in the last number.

"Twelve pence make one shilling," said the schoolmaster, "Now go on, sir! Twenty shillings make one pound." "They make one mighty good shilling," replied the boy; and the teacher, who hadn't received his last month's salary, concluded that the boy was about right.

It is rumored that "Me too" Platt will succeed Robertson as collector of the port of New York. Verily Robertson's was a brief triumph, and Platt may well exclaim, "Now is the winter of my discontent made glorious summer by the son of New York."

"Father, did you ever have another wife besides mother?" "No, my boy, what possessed you to ask such a question?" "Because I saw in the old family Bible where you married Anno Domini in 1835, and that isn't mother, for her name was Sally Smith."

It may be safely concluded that Grant has lost his grip on the Presidential nomination. The Indiana map, which was a bait for the Stalwarts, has hoisted the name of Chester A. Arthur for a second term. Poor Grant will have to make another trip around the world and have his friends get up another boom for him while he is gone.

William Brown, a colored man, of Richmond, Va. is moving to his daughter, Mary Saunders, who ran away from home a few days ago. He inserted an advertisement in a Richmond newspaper offering $5 reward for the apprehension of the girl, and gave this remarkable description of the runaway: "The girl is of a dark ginger-bread color, about 12 years of age, with a bushy head of hair, and full eye brows."

The Presidential bulletins make one think of the sailor whose shipmate was knifed in a row on shore.—The reason for the hospital visit was to see how their messmate was getting along. Ben Bobst went in to ask about him, receive a true statement of his case from the surgeon, and then to get a solemn face. "Lord, mates," he said, "Jack's a dead man. The Latin part of his bowels is all out to thunder."

Miss Benson feared that Randall who was wooing her at Mount Vernon, Ohio, already had a wife. She waited until he made a formal proposal of marriage, and then she made a justice for his arrest on a charge of bigamy. Being told that the ceremony of bigamy required a double marriage, she kept her secret, let the engagement result in a wedding, and then she immediately sent him to jail.

The St. Louis Republican remarks: "If the Republicans think they can make anything by manufacturing a state out of Dakota territory, we beg to remind them that they haven't got that sort of a game all in their own hands. The Democratic Texas has the sovereign and reserved right to make of itself five states without asking congressional consent, and can easily counterbalance any Republican gain by making a state out of Dakota."

Henry Clark, of Prattburg, New York, married against his father's wish, and was shown the door. He thereupon leased thirty acres of land, which he put in potatoes, doing all his work himself. The thirty acres have yielded him four thousand bushels, eight hundred bushels of which he sold for $800, and the remainder of the crop bringing him 80 cents per bushel, or a total sum of $2,360, with a net profit, after deducting all expenses, of $2,700—more than his father has made in two seasons of four times the amount of ground cultivated.

Among the many needed reforms, the first, according to the New York Sun, is to "abolish the internal revenue establishment. Soud the collectors, inspectors, detectives, clerks, and all other servants of the same back to private life and to the usefulness of productive industry. Abolish all internal revenue taxation. It was imposed in order to carry on the civil war. This mighty struggle was finished nearly seventy years ago. The debt which it created is in a great measure paid off. Now is the right time to repeal all laws imposing internal revenue taxes!"

Bob Toombs is as notorious for his hospitality as for being one of the most rabid of the unreconstructed week. Owing to long since he was proposed to build a hotel in Washington, Ga., where he lives, and a committee called upon him for a subscription. "What the hell do you want of a hotel in Washington?" he cried. "Every respectable person who comes to town puts up with Bob Toombs and is welcome, and every disreputable person leaves town because he can not put up any more." Such being the case the project was abandoned.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

The following is said to have been uttered by Readmaster Malone of Virginia, the man who carries President Arthur and the Republican party in his breeches pockets: "As to the full and final payment or liquidation of the present enormous national debt, he that knows the American people and their utter deficiency in the high qualities of truth and integrity knows that such an expectation is but an idiot's dream. For ourselves, we shall rejoice when the crash comes. It is a debt contracted in the prosecution of an infamous and 'unholy' war, and the sentiments and emotions of the nation are now so exalted that the debt is being paid by the nation's own blood."

The Wabash Courier goes for the great Republican financier, John Sherman, of Ohio, in this wise: "John Sherman may be a very able statesman, but it is certainly a fact that he is a distinguished between three hundred pounds of candy and a hoghead of lemonade. At least, the expense of the Treasury Department, while Sherman was on deck, shows that a hoghead of lemonade was paid for as three hundred pounds of candy. It's a wonder that a man as innocent as John Sherman isn't picked up and bled every day by prize packers and equally rascally peddlers. Yet we have never heard of John bled at either of the above swindles."

SMART LAWYER AND CUTE WITNESS.—A young lawyer of the city of Providence tells a story about himself which is good enough to go on record: He was trying a "rim case" at Bristol not long ago, when a witness was put on the stand to testify to the reputation of the place in question. This witness, a stage driver, in answer to the lawyer's question, "What is the reputation of this place?" replied, "It is a place where a man can get a horse and buggy for a dollar, and a lawyer for a hundred dollars." "What," said the lawyer, "who did you ever hear say it was a rim shop?" The witness did not recollect of any one so he said, "What," said the lawyer, "who did you ever hear say it was a rim shop?" The witness did not recollect of any one so he said, "What," said the lawyer, "who did you ever hear say it was a rim shop?" The witness did not recollect of any one so he said, "What," said the lawyer, "who did you ever hear say it was a rim shop?"

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity and effectual treatment. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experience, and are the most effective remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYE'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by Physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effective cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach, Bloating, Diarrhea, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Scurvy, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.
