

Removal!

The SENTINEL Office has been moved into rooms one door east of Makeover's New Hotel, where we will be pleased to greet our friends in future.

The Guitare case will probably go to the jury by Thursday next.

A red-haired Englishman says that in his native country they call him a haburn-alred blonde, but here in Hamletia they call him a red-headed son of a gun.

Ex-Treasurer Foster, of Laporte county, has been the editor of the Michigan City Dispatch, H. H. Francis, arrived for libel. Mr. Francis gave bail for his appearance.

Kentland Gazette: A case of small-pox exists near Goodland, the afflict being a son of Edward Hall. Every precaution has been taken to prevent its spread. No alarm is felt.

Ed. Ryan, of Delphi, has been appointed operator at Monon, the junction of the main line and the Indianapolis division of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway Co.

The Louisville, New Albany & Chicago put on through day-light trains between Louisville and Chicago last Monday. On the 15th they will put on through night trains.

Walter Bray, for thirty years a popular negro minstrel, is a hopeless lunatic in a Massachusetts asylum. His right name is Baker, and he is a son of the General Baker who was killed at the battle of Ball's Bluff.

The medical and funeral expenses of the late President Garfield will amount to at least $250,000, and the cost of the trial of his assassin will not be much less. Radical factions are expensive luxuries for the people to carry.

Indianapolis Times: The Louisville New Albany & Chicago Company now have a complete line in full operation between Delphi and Chicago, and are using Indianapolis connections to do business between this city and Chicago, pending the completion of the southern end of the air-line.

A deer was killed in Limestone county, Alabama, recently, which was shot fourteen years ago in the foot. The wound caused one toe to grow longer than the other, and the track made by this foot was of a peculiar shape. For fourteen years hunters have been shooting at him, but he managed to escape until the other day. The rifle ball was found in the misshapen foot.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Bloss, submitted the question to the attorney general as to whether it was the duty of the county superintendents to enforce vaccination ordinances, and in reply he says:

I should say that the duty of enforcing vaccination regulations belongs principally to town, city and county boards of health, and secondarily after written notice, to county superintendents.

D. P. BALDWIN.

Delphi Times: Charles S. Lyons, for many years a clerk in Bolles' store, and lately in the employ of the I. D. & C. railway, left for Rensselaer, Monday, where he will take charge of E. Brown's merchant tailoring and clothing establishment. Mr. Lyons is a practical business man and will, no doubt, win many friends in his new home. His family will move to that place in about two months.

Grant has just reached the conclusion that General Fitz John Porter was deeply wronged by dismissal from the army, and has addressed an earnest appeal to Arthur to reinstate him. It is said the envious, jealous disaffection of the great national merchant has been overcome, and he has been induced to perform this duty, in hopes that Democrats may secure him a place on the retired list and pension roll. Poor Grant! General Porter is far his superior in everything that constitutes the man and soldier, and has been most flagrantly wronged. Now let justice be done, whether Grant becomes a pensioner, or not.

Republican papers of all grades were recently denouncing Democratic members of Congress for expressing dissatisfaction at Don Cameron Keifer's organization of the House committees. And now the Half Breeds are complaining bitterly. They say the committees were formed in accordance with the dictation of Conkling, Cameron, Grant & Co., and many of them refuse to serve. Venezuela Orth, the other day, asked the House to excuse him, and gave notice that he would prepare and offer a resolution taking from the Speaker the appointment of committees.

Senator Voorhees has introduced a bill (No. 63) in the United States Senate to protect innocent purchasers of patent rights from being prosecuted for infringements of patents, where they buy of persons engaged in the open sale of such articles, and also where judgment is recovered against a person for such infringement of five dollars or less, the plaintiff shall pay all costs of suit, and if the judgment does not reach twenty dollars, the plaintiff shall pay his own costs. This bill, if it becomes a law, will protect thousands of people against swindlers' wiles and devices.

Our former townsman Eld. Hope B. Miller, now of Michigan City, made us a pleasant call one day this week.

The wife of Mr. Barney Patton, Remington, died at that place Monday morning last after a long and painful illness.

Hal B. Smith is visiting his mother, at Legansport.

Our farmers are taking advantage of slightly improved roads and bringing in hay, corn and wood with a rush.

Marshall C. Carver died near bleeding to death recently from the opening of an old wound received when in the army. But the doctor who treated him says he shed no gallon of blood.

Harp, W. Snyder, Esq., of Remington, was attending to legal matters, at this place, Tuesday.

Are you vaccinated?

Vaccination is the order of the day.

The branch of vaccination is most generally practiced by our physicians of this day and generation.

Judge Hammond will hold court at Lafayette, for Judge Vinton, after adjournment of Jasper Circuit Court.

The act of the General Assembly of Indiana, "establishing a State Board of Health" provides that the Board of County Commissioners, the Mayor and common council of incorporated cities, and the board of trustees of any town, the board of health of county, city or town respectively, "except where a regular constituted Board of Health by ordinance of such city now exists, or may hereafter be created," shall constitute the Board of Health of such county, city or town.

It also provides that such boards shall elect annually, in the month of January, a Secretary, who shall be a physician, and such secretary shall be the Health Officer of such town, city or county, respectively. As it is essential for the harmonious working of the machinery to be called into action by the law mentioned, that all the boards of health in the State should organize for work at the same time, so that such can be prosecuted without hindrance or delay, we request and suggest that the various boards of commissioners, city council and board of trustees organize by the election of a secretary, in conformity with the law, upon Monday, January 2, 1893, and that you immediately thereafter report the name and post office address of such secretary to this department on the blank form herewith sent you. If this work is done throughout the State upon the same day, it will greatly facilitate matters.

This is the fifth death of this family in a little over a year. Father Swander is deeply stricken in the death of this, his favorite son. The funeral was well attended at Ball Hill church, Rev. W. P. Koutz officiating.

The Occidental hotel at Kentland was destroyed by fire yesterday. The new station in Hanging Grove is named McCoy.

Fifty-three Sundays this year.

The Final Festivity.

One of the pleasantest affairs of the holidays this year was the watch meeting held at the residence of Judge Hammond last Saturday night. The Judge and his genial wife were in the best possible humor for entertaining company, and Miss Louie flitted about with all possible dispatch ministering in every manner to the pleasure and comfort of the assembled guests.

As the clock tolled the death-knell of the old year, all present seated themselves at the refreshment table, which was groaning under the many and varied evidences of the host's liberality and hospitality, and partook of the choicest of viands. The signs of that time certainly betokened a propitious future for all participants for the coming year.

However gay and jolly New Year's watch meetings may be, the mind is prone on such occasions to seek the past. "There's a feeling within us that loves to revert To the merry old times that are gone."

Merry—yes, and happy. The happiness which is inherent in the child, the guileless, careless romance of life, the poetry or existence, the essence of an earthly career; this is what one soliloquizes upon on New Year occasions.

Many of the persons at this gathering were children together, were schoolmates for years, and now, comparatively speaking, widely separated, they are men and women, pushed out into the world by the inevitable and invincible propulsion of advancing time, let us hope, to do with their might what their hands find to do. Now we tell, we lay by, we treasure up, we put aside play for care, romance for fact, poetry for hard, prosy reality.

On New Year watch occasions one experiences the truth of the poet's sentiment:

"There are moments of joy Which Fate cannot destroy."

Bright gleams of the past, like the gold dust of time, which annually glow and play through the mists of the past, as the old year dies, have the happy tendency to revive sinking hopes, encourage drooping spirits, and to send those who thus inhabit the past into the New Year surrounded by a halo of expectancy.

Thus we passed the time, thus we enjoyed the evening, and at 1:30 a. m., we adjourned, all present feeling that they were better for having been there.

News scarce as hen's teeth. Quite a change in the weather since our last writing.

Only a part of the schools closed for the holidays.

Writing school at Pleasant Grove every Saturday night.

Miss Rosa Coons was home during holidays.

Shooting matches have been the chief mode of enjoyment among the men and boys the past week.

Granville Moody is erecting a new barn.

Now that Christmas and New Year are past the average turkey breaster more freely and wears a look which seems to say, "I'm glad 'tis finished."

David Shields, of Union, visited friends in this township last week.

Henry Murray, of White county, paid a visit to his brother W. W. Murray, and other relatives and friends, during the past week.

Quite a number of land transfers have been made in this township this winter.

Gilliam may boast of her "web-footed damsel," Union of her "pretty girls" and "top-buggies," but Barkley township boasts of the largest cactus in the county. It measures thirteen inches around the main stalk at the base, and is five feet two inches high. It is owned by Jonnie Burkley, and we are informed she offers it for sale as she is going West. This would be a good chance for some lady to get a beautiful plant for her bay window or conservatory.

GOSSIP.

January 2, 1893.

A Voice from Carpenter.

If you wish to keep up with the times, get vaccinated.

Farmers have decided to hold their corn over; at least until the roads are better.

The schools were generally dismissed holiday week.

A Christmas tree was well loaded with valuable presents at No. 3 school house Christmas eve.

Trustee W. H. Henkle took a trip to Kansas recently. He thinks of making his home in the West.

Fred. Hoover returned from Michigan the 22nd last month, where he had spent several days visiting.

The literate every Friday evening at No. 5, is a success. Frank Babcock, President.

Jonathan Rank, a well-known farmer residing four miles west of Remington, started recently for Illinois to visit his aged mother.

A school house, recently burned by an incendiary, will not be rebuilt until spring. The patrons of said district expect a longer term in the summer to compensate for their loss this winter.

Sup't Nowels hasn't as yet put in his appearance in Carpenter. I expect that he has great confidence in Carpenter teachers.

The Remington News is under the supervision of a journalist, and John O. New says that he is his only rival.

Those farmers who were timid about sowing wheat feel sadly disappointed since the fields look so flattering.

Use kerosene, or bath-brick, or powdered lime to scour iron, tin or copper; wash in hot suds and polish with dry whiting.

To remove spots from furniture, four ounces of vinegar, two ounces of sweet oil, one ounce of turpentine. Mix and apply with a flannel cloth. Spirits of ammonia diluted with water, if applied with a sponge or flannel to discolored spots on the carpet or garments, will often restore the color.

Skim-milk and water, with a little bit of glue in it, made scalding hot, will restore old rusty black crapes. If clapped and pressed dry, like line muslin, it will look as good as new.

When carpets are well cleaned sprinkle with salt and fold; when laid strewn with slightly moistened bran and sweep. This, with the salt, will freshen them up wonderfully.

A paste made of whiting and benzoin will clean marble, and one made of whiting and chloride of soda, spread and left to dry (in the sun if possible) on the marble will remove spots.

Celery boiled in milk and eaten with the milk served as a leverage is said to be a cure for rheumatism, gout and a specific in cases of small pox. Nervous people find comfort in celery.

A flannel cloth dipped into warm soap suds and then into whiting and applied to paint will instantly remove all grease and dirt. Wash with clean water and dry. The most delicate paint will not be injured, and will look like new.

Plaster of paris mixed with gum arabic water makes an excellent white cement, but must be used immediately, as it hardens quickly. A mixture of five parts of gelatine to one of acid chromate of lime, applied to broken edges, which should be pressed together and exposed to the sunlight, makes an insoluble cement. To wallow walls, scrape off all the old whitewash, and wash the walls with a solution of two ounces of white vitriol to four gallons of water. Soak a quarter of a pound of white glue in water for twelve hours; strain and place in a tin pail; cover with fresh water, and set the pail in a kettle of boiling water. When melted stir in the glue eight pounds of whiting, and water enough to make it as thick as common whitewash. Apply evenly with a good brush. If the walls are very yellow, blue the water slightly by squeezing in it a flannel blue-bag.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

Has been enlarged and improved until it is now the LARGEST and the VERY BEST paper published in the West.

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL is in all regards a superior eight page, 56-column paper.

The merits of the Sentinel as a general newspaper are so well known, that commendation of it is superfluous. We will add, however, that the management has arranged and fully determined that no paper shall furnish so great practical value to its patrons for the money.

In its news, its editorials, its literary, and miscellaneous—in a word, its general reading—it shall not be surpassed by any paper circulated in the State. It will be particularly adapted to the family circle.

No reading, thinking man in the State can afford to do without the Weekly Sentinel at the small cost at which it is furnished.

THE SENTINEL will continue to be the same earnest advocate of true American Democracy in the future that it has been in the past; indeed, it proposes to battle more vigorously than ever against the party of centralization and corruption.

Many monopolies own and control the Republican party, and in the future, as in the past, it can not do otherwise than foster class legislation, thereby trampling upon the interests of the producing masses.

The motto of the Sentinel is, "Hold fast to the Democratic faith and battle on," and as certainly as God reigns victory will ultimately be with the people.

The Republican party can not survive its crimes. Its monumental iniquities cast their shadows athwart the land. Just men of all political opinions are horrified at its colossal crimes. Its ambition is for plunder and Imperial power. Its downward progress, from the days when Grant's thieves organized the Whiskey Ring to raise a corruption fund, to Guitene's tragedy, has been marked by infamy at every step. From the days when John Sherman bartered Federal offices for pecuniary gain, the nation have followed each other in rapid succession.

The flood-tide of infamy has flowed grandly. There have been Star Route thieves, Treasury thieves, Navy Department thieves, War Department thieves, and Signal Service thieves, and Indiana has had Dorsey, the notorious Star Route thief, and Secretary of the Republican National Committee, in the State, organizing crime to carry the State against the will of the people. The Sentinel will invite the people of Indiana to contemplate these Republican methods to obtain and maintain power. It will keep its readers informed with regard to Republican fights for spoils, the national denunciations of its factions, their criminalities and recriminations, their mutual hates which culminated in the assassination of the President, thereby capping the climax of horrors and completing the work of infamy.

With this record of crime, the Republican party asks for a new lease of power, and it will be the high ambition of the Sentinel to defeat its purposes and emancipate the country from its debauching grasp.

THE SENTINEL, in addition to its superiority, is, moreover, an Indiana paper, devoted to and specially represents Indiana's interests, political and otherwise, as no foreign paper can or will do, and ought, therefore to have preference over the papers of other States, and we ask Democrats to bear this in mind, and suggest YOU OWN YOUR PAPER and you come to take subscriptions and make up clubs.
