

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln is an inmate of a Turkish and electric bath establishment in New York. Dr. Sayre finds that she suffers from chronic inflammation of the spinal cord and disease of the kidneys, and that cataract has appeared in both eyes.

For passing a resolution over the veto of the Mayor after an injunction has been granted by the Circuit Court, fifteen Aldermen of Brooklyn were fined $250 each and sent to jail for terms of from ten to thirty days.

Brakeman Melvin, who is charged with criminal carelessness in the New York Central disaster, admits that he can neither read nor write. He has been on the road for over a quarter century.

Ex-Governor Bullock, of Massachusetts, dropped dead on the sidewalk at Worcester, from a stroke of apoplexy.

The Grand Jury at New Haven reported a trial bill for murder in the first degree against Walter E. Malley, James Malley and Elihu Douglass, for killing Jennie E. Orman, Aug. 5.

Gov. Cornell made the Spyann Drayton disaster the subject of a special message to the Legislature of New York. He pronounces the occurrence an absolutely inexcusable one, and recommends that trains be required to carry appliances for breaking into wrecked cars and extinguishing fire.

Katie Manton, a Philadelphia girl of 14, died in day of delirium tremens, after indecent suffering. She became a drunkard before her 12th year had been passed, and drank the vile liquor of the slums with all the abandon of an old toper.

West.

Gen. Carr, the gallant officer who was reported to have been massacred with his entire command by Indians at Fort Apache last summer, but whose bravery and ability found a way out of the perilous situation and averted a sickening horror like that of the Custer butchery, is under arrest at Fort Grant, by order of Gen. Wilcox, commanding the Department of Arizona, for trial by court-martial.

The Illinois Supreme Court, in a case against the Board of Education of Quincy, decided that colored children have the right to attend the public schools and receive the benefit of the school fund the same as white children.

George Scoville, counsel for Guitreau, the assassin, has begun a suit for libel against the Chicago Herald, edited by Postmaster Farber.

At Wilmington, Ohio, a child died of what was supposed to be chicken-pox. After the funeral, which was largely attended, fifty cases of the small-pox were developed.

The six-story building of the American Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, went away in flames. The structure, grounds and appliances, which were among the best in the Union, cost $200,000, and business had but recently commenced. The damage is estimated at $175,000.

The breaking of a wheel on a passenger train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad caused the smoking and the lathered cars to be thrown from the track and down an embankment twenty feet high. The accident occurred three miles from New Albin, Alameda county, Iowa. Twenty-three persons, all were injured, for the most part not seriously, one child was killed, and three people badly hurt to have little chance of recovery.

At Mankato, Minn., the opera house was swept away by fire. Insured for $10,000, which will not nearly cover the loss.

H. B. Lockwood, of Chicago, dealer in tea and tobacco, has made an assignment to his son, Allison, Emerson said there must have been 100 treasury employees in the convention.

Leading stalwarts of New York avowing their intention to nominate ex-Senator Conkling for Governor next fall.

JAS. W. McEWEN Editor

VOLUME V.

RENSSELAER, JASPER COUNTY, INDIANA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1882.

"A Firm Adherence to Correct Principles."

$1.50 per Annum.

NUMBER 52.

H

and Eastern Illinois, obtaining 6,000 shares from Boston holders at 112½.

Lieut. McDonald, of the Fourth United States Cavalry, was captured with twenty Indians in Southern New Mexico. Having crossed the border into Chihuahua after Apache, he was arrested for the invasion by the Mexicans, and will be tried. The War Department at Washington has been apprised of his situation.

Peace between Bolivia and Chili has been secured by the former surrendering her coast territory and breaking away from Peru.

The centennial birthday of Daniel Webster was the occasion of the gathering of a number of his distinguished admirers at the national capital, at which it was announced that a fund had been subscribed to erect a monument to his memory. The anniversary was also celebrated by patriotic gentlemen of Boston and Chicago.

The steamship City of London and Henry Erie sailed from Europe for American ports in November, and all hope of their safety has been abandoned. Their cargoes were valued at $200,000 each.

Lieut. McDonald, who was arrested by the Mexican authorities for crossing the border, has been released.

The National Board of Health officials at Washington maintain that the small-pox epidemic originated from the emigrants who arrive at Castle Garden infected with the disease and carry it West in the emigrant trains.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Decisions upon Government timber-lands in the West have increased to such an extent that the Secretary of the Interior has addressed a communication to the Attorney General urging him to use all means in his power to arrest and punish the offenders.

Secretary Hunt has cabled Lieut. Danenhauer and Chief Engineer Melville, or the Jeannette, at Irkutsk, to remain on the ground till the remainder of the expedition is found, and to help in the search by every means in their power.

It is reported that ex-Attorney General Taft, of Ohio, is to be made Minister to Berlin, the post last filled by Andrew D. White of Cornell.

The values of exports of domestic breadstuffs for the two months ended Dec. 31, 1881, were $224,118,560.

The Oneida Community in New York is likely to receive attention when the Mormon question is discussed in Congress. Both are likely to receive a lively turning over.

The surgeons who attended President Garfield have presented no bills for their services. It is said that they have to rely upon the generosity of Congress. But the House committee will insist upon being furnished with bills covering the services rendered, and only such claims will be allowed as could be successfully prosecuted against the state of the deceased.

Anderson Jones, colored, was hanged at Augusta, Ga., for the murder of John D. Harlan.

Deacon W. W. Ellis, of Providence, R. I., cut his hand while opening a bottle of cocaine wine, and has been seized with lockjaw.

The Governor of Kilmarnock jail has sent notice to Parnell, O'Kelly and O'Brien that they have been remanded for ninety days. Mrs. McCormack, of the Ladies' Land League of Dublin, has been sent to prison for Mississippi.

In the Iowa Legislature, James F. Wilson was chosen Senator for the long term, and Judge McDill for the Kirkwood vacancy.

J. A. Emerson, a colored man, appeared before the Treasury Investigating Committee at Washington and testified that while employed in the Treasury Department, in 1880, he was granted two months' leave of absence by Secretary Sherman, with instructions to work up delegations in his interest for the Presidency; that Federal patronage was to be used for support wherever available, and was tendered to Powell Clayton in Arkansas. Emerson found the South supporting Grant, and he therefore went to the Chicago Convention as a Grant delegate, in reply to a question by Senator Allison, Emerson said there must have been 100 treasury employees in the convention.

Anderson Jones, colored, was hanged at Augusta, Ga., for the murder of John D. Harlan.

Deacon W. W. Ellis, of Providence, R. I., cut his hand while opening a bottle of cocaine wine, and has been seized with lockjaw.

The Governor of Kilmarnock jail has sent notice to Parnell, O'Kelly and O'Brien that they have been remanded for ninety days. Mrs. McCormack, of the Ladies' Land League of Dublin, has been sent to prison for Mississippi.

It is said that Postmaster Pearson, of New York, who is a son-in-law of Postmaster Farber, will be removed from his position by the Government, as he has been identified with some of the President's friends who had been given berths in the office of Postmaster.

George Scoville, counsel for Guitreau, the assassin, has begun a suit for libel against the Chicago Herald, edited by Postmaster Farber.

At Wilmington, Ohio, a child died of what was supposed to be chicken-pox. After the funeral, which was largely attended, fifty cases of the small-pox were developed.

The six-story building of the American Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, went away in flames. The structure, grounds and appliances, which were among the best in the Union, cost $200,000, and business had but recently commenced. The damage is estimated at $175,000.

The breaking of a wheel on a passenger train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad caused the smoking and the lathered cars to be thrown from the track and down an embankment twenty feet high. The accident occurred three miles from New Albin, Alameda county, Iowa. Twenty-three persons, all were injured, for the most part not seriously, one child was killed, and three people badly hurt to have little chance of recovery.

At Mankato, Minn., the opera house was swept away by fire. Insured for $10,000, which will not nearly cover the loss.

H. B. Lockwood, of Chicago, dealer in tea and tobacco, has made an assignment to his son, Allison, Emerson said there must have been 100 treasury employees in the convention.

Leading stalwarts of New York avowing their intention to nominate ex-Senator Conkling for Governor next fall.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Nathan Davis, the famous English traveler and writer, is dead.

So intensely cold has been the weather on the Sahara frontier of Algeria that hundreds of soldiers and camels perished.

The President and Secretary and two members of the committee of the Drum-caller branch of the Ladies' League have been committed to Limerick prison in default for holding illegal meetings since the 1st of January.

The leading church officials of Great Britain are maturing a plan to relieve or remove the homeless Jewish families of Russia. A prominent Radical of London offers $10,000 to start the movement.

Bismarck does not relish the reception given to the Emperor's rescript in England, and there are indications of trouble between him and the Crown Prince.

Having considered the cases of the Irish subjects who are members of Parliament the British Cabinet has decided that the leaders of the Land League have no claim to exceptional treatment.

The rising in the Balkan peninsula commenced in Herzegovina and is extending to the border district. The insurgents overpowered the military posts near Novi-Sad and released the prisoners. Small encounters are reported near Rumania, with several killed on each side. The Austro-Hungarian delegations were organized during the night, and the "Ainos" and "Dinos" of the Order. The next meeting will be held in December, 1882, at Belgrade.

There are fears of a revolution in Egypt.

The Anchor line steamship works, at Glasgow, were destroyed by fire.

The Italian Minister of War is considering a measure for increasing the army.

Vienna dispatches report the insurrection spreading in Southern Hungary. The movement is attributed to foreign agitators.

The Nihilists who attempted the life of Gen. Tcherevina at St. Petersburg have been sentenced to twenty years in the mines of Siberia.

The first appeal from a reduction of sentence, and was at once interrupted by Guitreau, who had made one of his characteristic speeches, asking the court to give him a chance to speak. He was forced by the Judge to remove the President, he may be acquired on the ground of transitory malice. Sickles, McFarland and Ladd, he said, were acquired on the ground of transitory malice, without any proof.

Fowle began with a general complaint of the alleged unfairness on the part of the prosecution particularly of the Prosecuting Attorney, who, though he had been called to the bar, had not even once sat in a courtroom. He had introduced persons into the prisoner's cell under false guise, to worm out his secrets, and was never connected with any of the prisoners.

Guitreau screamed out: "This whole testimony is false. I am not to be believed for an instant."

Scoville resumed his argument for the defense, and was at once interrupted by Guitreau, who had made one of his characteristic speeches, asking the court to give him a chance to speak. He was forced by the Judge to remove the President, he may be acquired on the ground of transitory malice. Sickles, McFarland and Ladd, he said, were acquired on the ground of transitory malice, without any proof.

Fowle began with a general complaint of the alleged unfairness on the part of the prosecution particularly of the Prosecuting Attorney, who, though he had been called to the bar, had not even once sat in a courtroom. He had introduced persons into the prisoner's cell under false guise, to worm out his secrets, and was never connected with any of the prisoners.

Commenting upon, as he claims, the absence of motive on the part of Guitreau, Scoville adds: "The court can see in a case like this, you cannot suppose a case where a man of forty, who has never committed crime, who has never been associated with a band of bad people, who is on the country, has always establishment could escape, and when the fire was under control the discovery was made that many men and horses had been burned.

LATER NEWS ITEMS.

At Hampton, Pa., while William Cork was dying of small-pox, his wife placed a lighted candle in his hands and knelt beside the bed in prayer. She instantly succumbed to exhaustion, the bedding was set on fire, and she and her child were overcome by smoke. The neighbors saw the situation, but only one dared to enter the house. The flesh was burned from Cork's bones, and his wife and daughter will not recover.

Important tidings relative to the crew of the Jeannette are given in a dispatch from Engineer Melville, at Irkutsk, to the United States Secretary of State.

At the opening of court Guitreau stated that he had thirty checks, representing about $15,000, some of which were worthless, and that he wanted no more of the latter kind. Mr. Guitreau said he would be allowed to speak to the jury, the assassin exclaimed that he wanted to tell the jury in American. Judge Gorham said he would not "concern" him with that. Gorham then criticized severely the course of the prosecution in failing to permit the defense to adduce the jury for a brief time or two.

Guitreau then called attention to the letter written by Gorham to the District Attorney, and from that he had been compelled to speak in a spirit of unfairness to the陪审团.

Guitreau (smiling) "Oh, just assume that the confederates are to blame."

Corkhill—"I suppose what you are driving at is that you want the jury to think I am a clipper ship."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Corkhill—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."

Guitreau—"I believe it was done by you, or by your direction, for the interest of the prosecution."