

Newspaper Decisions.
1. If subscribers do not give express notice to the editor, we consider them wishing to continue their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them for a time.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, their bills will be suspended, and we will settle their bills and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the publishers do not receive payment for the same, we will consider them as subscribers.
5. The courts have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected, for a prima facie evidence of non-payment."
6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, when he has ordered it or not, is bound to pay a subscriber.
7. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time, if they do not do so, the publisher will be bound to consider the subscriber authorized to send it to him, and the subscribers will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrears, is sent to the publisher.
