NEWS OF THE WEEK.

AMERICAN ITEMS.

East.
 The Assembly of New York has passed a bill wiping away all restrictions imposed upon savings banks in buying securities.

The engineers of the Hudson river tunnel have made a success in boring from the New York side. The work is expected to cost $6,000,000, and to require five years yet.

The Longfellow Memorial Association, of Boston, have issued a circular asking for contributions of $1 each for the purpose of permanently preserving the residence of the poet, and erecting an enduring memorial to his fame on the grounds of his residence.

James Vick, the famous seedman, of Rochester, who was a playmate of Charles Dickens and set type beside Horace Greeley, died a few days ago of pneumonia.

The steamship Rio Grande, with a valuable cargo of cotton, arrived at Delaware breaker on fire, loss, $370,000.

The Assembly of New York has passed a bill permitting all loans to be made at any rate on which borrower and lender can agree.

West.

A tornado swept away the little town of Mill Spring, in the Indian Territory. Only one house was left standing. Three persons were killed and seven injured more or less severely.

Ferris, of San Francisco, who claims to have been recognized by three persons in that city as Sir Roger Tichborne, is making preparations to visit England.

At Minneapolis, Minn., a student named Paine, who was out "on a lark," was pursued by one of the professors. Paine having aimed a revolver at his pursuer, the latter promptly returned the compliment by shooting Paine in the leg.

Dave Sharp, a gambler, was arrested at Caldwell, Kan., for opening the grave of George Wood and taking from the corpse a diamond pin valued at $250.

Isaac Gardner and his three daughters were drowned while attempting to ford the Tuscarawas river at Newcomerstown, Ohio. Gardner drove his wagon into the water because of the protests of a number of his neighbors.

A report has reached Little Rock, Ark., from the Cherokee Nation that Capt. Payne and his company of Oklahoma invaders had been captured by the United States authorities.

The cattle round-ups in Wyoming are progressing rapidly, and an immense number of horses will soon be thrown upon the market.

When twelve miles out of Sandusky, Ohio, and engaged in a race with the Jay Cooke, the American Eagle exploded her boiler, killing the fireman, F. Bittie, and two deckhands, and fatally injuring Engineer Johnson. Six passengers were badly scalded.

South.

Ex-Gov. Cadwallader C. Washburn died at Eureka Springs, Ark., of paralysis and Bright's disease, aged 65 years. His brother, John C. Washburn, of Chicago, died of cancer in his last hours. Mr. Washburn was one of four brothers, two of whom have been governors of different States, and four of whom have represented four different States in Congress—Isaac Washburn, Jr., from Maine; William B. from Illinois; Cadwallader C., from Wisconsin; and William D., from Minnesota.

A tornado of frightful violence swept over a section of Montgomery, Ark. It occupied only three minutes in its work of destruction. So terrific was its power that nothing was left standing in its path. Eight persons were killed outright, and many hundreds seriously wounded. Many hundred head of live stock were killed, and not a house or barn left standing. The large and extensive farm of St. P. McKinney was totally ruined. Loss, $400,000. There were over fifty buildings, including the saw-mill and gin, all of which were destroyed. The family of Mr. Gill, consisting, all told, of five persons, were all dangerously injured. Samuel Quattlenbaum's family was also dangerously injured. It is estimated that over 100 families were rendered homeless and without the necessities of life.

The people of North Georgia enjoyed the rare phenomenon of a snow-storm on the 15th of May.

The Tennessee Senate has passed the bill to fund the State debt at 60 cents and from 3 to 6 per cent interest.

The Conference of the Methodist Church South, at Nashville, elected the following Bishops: D. C. Cranberry, a professor in Vanderbilt University, but a delegate from the Virginia Conference; Dr. Atticus G. Haygood, of Georgia; the Rev. R. K. Hargrove, of Tennessee; Dr. Linn Parker, of New Orleans; and Rev. A. W. W. W. of Baltimore.

The State Auditor of Arkansas, who is now serving his third term, is found to be a defaulter in the amount of about $35,000.

The Court House, at Franklin, Ky., was destroyed by an incendiary fire, with nearly all the records of Simpson county.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office, McFarland, has issued a circular letter inviting all holders of certificates of deposit to forward the same to the General Land Office that their genuineness may be attested. This is done because of the number of fraudulent certificates now on the market.

The Senate select Committee on Woman Suffrage, by a vote of 3 to 2, agreed to recommend for adoption Senator Lapham's joint resolution proposing the following amendment to the constitution: "Article XVI. Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied, all or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex. Sec. 2. Congress shall have power by appropriate legislation to enforce the provisions of this article." The vote was: Kass-Lapham, Blair and Jackson—3; Hayes-George and Fair—2; absent, Anthony and Ferry.

Mr. Teller, the new Secretary of the Interior, has decided upon a policy which, if enforced, it is claimed, will do much to prevent Indian troubles. He has determined upon disarming all bands of nomadic Indians found on their reservations with arms, and the military will be instructed to disarm such bands. Persons familiar with the Indian service attribute much of the trouble which arises to the fact that the Indians can obtain arms, and that the regulations of the Government in that respect are often disregarded. Soldiers can always be found who furnish the Indians with weapons.

Mr. Teller's course relating to the Indians, says a Washington dispatch, is meeting with general approval, and it is believed that life in the Indian country will be rendered more nearly safe under his course than ever before.

A Washington Associated Press dispatch says: "The events transpiring in the star-route cases this morning cause a good deal of comment here, and they are looked upon as very unfortunate for the Government."

The House Committee on Judiciary has almost unanimously resolved to report adversely on the bill of the President for the land grant of the Northern Pacific, as but 600 miles remain to be completed, and the enterprise was hampered by the collapse of Jay Cooke.

J. K. Shepherd was before the Peruvian Investigating Committee at Washington, on the 17th inst., and positively declined to furnish documents showing what he did to enforce the claim of the company. Shepherd addressed to Chairman Williams a letter protesting against the liberty accorded to Mr. Blaine in the investigation. He states that he is prepared to supply all the evidence called for, including a letter from the President of the United States, and waits to know if he is to be heard.

"How does the Secretary of the Navy stand on the question of sending further expeditions to the North pole?" a Washington dispatch asks of an official in the Navy Department the other day. "He is dead against it," was the reply, "and, to use his own words, it would be as foolish as to adopt Mark Twain's idea of sending out an expedition to find hell."

There is but one man in Congress who favors such an expedition, and he is not strong that way as he was several days ago, especially since all the newspapers have declared it to be a crazy scheme.

The fact that President Arthur attended the running races in Washington last week caused some persons to look back at the record of President Grant, who, it is said, President Arthur is the first President since Buchanan to attend horse-races. Gen. Grant, though very fond of horses, did not attend races during his Presidency. Buchanan, Pierce, Tyler and Van Buren were very fond of horse-racing, and attended all the great races in Virginia and Maryland during their terms of office.
