

The Democratic Sentinel
OFFICIAL PAPER OF JASPER COUNTY.
FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1892.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Clerk—NATHANIEL S. BATES.
For Auditor—EZRA C. NOVELL.
For Treasurer—
For Sheriff—JOHN W. DUVALL.
For Recorder—JOHN T. FORD.
For Coroner—SYLVESTER HEALEY.
For Surveyor—CHARLES W. LOWMAN.
Commissioners.
First District—GEORGE STANLEY.
Second District—DAVID GAY.
Third District—EDWARD W. CULP.

H. S. Travis, Esq., of Benton county, was the successful candidate before the radical Senatorial Convention held at Goodland, last Saturday. As we predicted our neighbors "eat dirt" with a vim. However, the Democracy can beat Mr. T. if they select a good, substantial man, of sound judgment and discretion, as the nominees against him.

In its remarks upon the proceedings of the radical Convention at Goodland, the Republican concludes its article thus: "H. S. Travis was declared the nominee, and after a long and tedious speech from Mr. Ward and a few sensible remarks from Dr. Maxwell, the convention adjourned." One would think from the tenor of the quoted passage that Mr. Ward had refused permission to the writer thereof to kiss the "blarney-stone" by proxy.

Our neighbors reply to nothing this week. Their silence on the points made by "A Republican," "A Marion township Republican," "et al," against themselves and the "ring," may be taken, and properly, as consent. The Senator editor, however, "gives himself away." He "squalls" on the "blarney-stone" item, whereas, had he remained silent, we would not be overwhelmed with queries as to whether he is not the fellow who was refused a "proxy-kiss" of the "blarney stone." If so, the sharp minds served him right.

Democratic State Ticket.

Secretary of State,
WILLIAM R. MYERS,
of Madison county.
Auditor of State,
JAMES H. RICE,
of Floyd county.
Treasurer of State,
JOHN J. COOPER,
of Marion county.
Attorney General,
FRANCIS T. HORD,
of Bartholomew county.
Clerk of Supreme Court,
SIMON P. SHEERIN,
of Cass county.
Superintendent of Public Instruction,
JOHN W. HOLCOMBE,
of Porter county.
Supreme Judge—First District,
W. E. NIBLACK,
of Knox county.
Supreme Judge—Second District,
GEORGE E. HONAN,
of Floyd county.
Supreme Judge—Fourth District,
ALLEN ZOLLARS,
of Allen county.

THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party of Indiana, in convention assembled, renews its pledge of fidelity to the doctrines and traditions of the party as illustrated by the teachings of Thomas Jefferson, its founder, and exemplified in the administration of the Government under Democratic rule. And we insist upon the honest and economical administration on the principles upon which it rests. Conceding to the Federal Government its just rights and full power as delegated in the Federal Constitution, and claiming for the States and the people respectively the powers therein reserved to them.

We condemn the Republican party for its long and continued course of usurpation and misrule. It has disregarded the rights of the people and the States. It has held on to its ill-gotten power in defiance of the popular will, by the corrupt use of money in the elections, and it has corrupted the public morals by elevating to high places men who are known to be dishonest.

We condemn the Republican party for its long and continued course of usurpation and misrule. It has disregarded the rights of the people and the States. It has held on to its ill-gotten power in defiance of the popular will, by the corrupt use of money in the elections, and it has corrupted the public morals by elevating to high places men who are known to be dishonest.

We condemn the Republican party for its long and continued course of usurpation and misrule. It has disregarded the rights of the people and the States. It has held on to its ill-gotten power in defiance of the popular will, by the corrupt use of money in the elections, and it has corrupted the public morals by elevating to high places men who are known to be dishonest.

We condemn the Republican party for its long and continued course of usurpation and misrule. It has disregarded the rights of the people and the States. It has held on to its ill-gotten power in defiance of the popular will, by the corrupt use of money in the elections, and it has corrupted the public morals by elevating to high places men who are known to be dishonest.

The Democratic party is now, as it has always been, opposed to all summary legislation, and it is especially opposed to the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Indiana, known as the "prohibitory amendment," and we are in favor of the submission of said proposed amendment, as well as other proposed amendments, to the people, according to the provisions of the Constitution for their own amendment, and the people have the right to oppose or favor the adoption of any or all the amendments at all stages of their consideration, and any submission of Constitutional amendments to a vote of the people should be at a time and under circumstances most favorable to a full vote, and therefore should be at a general election.

That we freely endorse and approve the laws passed pursuant to the demands of former Democratic Conventions making provision for the safety and protection of laborers and miners, and providing for the collection of their wages, and are in favor of all other enactments to that end which may be necessary and proper.

The free schools of Indiana are the pride and glory of the State, and we will see to it that they are not poisoned by the growth of sectarianism, and we will waste and extravagance in their management.

In the relations between capital and labor, we favor such policies as will promote harmony between them, and will adequately protect the rights and interests of labor.

We esteem Daniel W. Voorhees as an able and faithful representative of our State in the Senate, and specially commend him for his active sympathy in behalf of the soldier.

Mrs. Jas. W. McEwen is visiting her mother and friends in Illinois.

C. F. Overacker, of the Republican, is visiting in Iowa.

F. J. Sears and family returned from Dakota, Saturday.

We condole with brother Hasall, of the Remington News, in his recent bereavement.

These who buy to try, Will ever after try to buy their clothes of J. J. Waterbury.

Will Lamson is in Chicago purchasing a heavy stock of guns, ammunition, etc., etc.

Do you want comfort, ease, and "mudly lessened" expenses for fuel? If so, have Will Lamson furnish you with an "Oil-stove." We only wonder how people are contented to do without them.

HOLD ON! LOOK HERE!!

Jack Waterbury, the enterprising Merchant Tailor, has just received a large invoice of the choicest piece goods that was ever brought to Rensselaer. You may look the state over and you will not see a nicer stock of merchant tailor goods. Call on Jack and look them over; he will offer extra inducements in the trade this fall.

GRAND FAMILY RE-UNION.

As there are quite a number of the descendants of Simon Kenton, the famous old pioneer and Indian fighter and partner of Daniel Boone living in Jasper County, we give place to the following from the Ada (Ohio), Record:

A friend handed us the following clipping which gives notice of a grand family reunion to be held in Champagne county next month. One of the events of the coming summer season, and one to which the public will look forward with much interest, is the joint family reunion of the Kenton and Arrowood families, which will be held at the residence of Mr. Arthur the hardest names in the dictionary, now appears to him to do something by which the country would experience a great sense of relief. It wants to have something besides a "monotonous exhibition of successive collapses," and so asks:

"Doesn't Mr. Arthur know some third-class, second-lawyer from the rural districts, and upon which he has a limited knowledge of 'house cases'?" Has he a Bible and is not about taking the advice of a good wife, that would be able to extend him the hand of friendship from the disgraceful failure which it has incurred?

This is hard on the Department of Justice.

A full stock of Harps, Accordions, Violins, Violin Strings, Bows, and Bridges at Kannals.

An Indiana farmer went to law about two weeks ago. He paid his lawyer $50, lost thirteen days' time, paid $5 witness fees and expense, and then got beaten, and had to foot $25 costs. That's one way of securing revenge.

"Humpty Dumpty" piece goods at J. J. Waterbury's.

The foreman of the Calvert foundry is a nephew of President Arthur. He is a Democrat and a good citizen.

THE DISTINGUISHING CHARM. A delightful fragrance of freshly gathered flowers and spices is the distinguishing charm of Florence Cologne.

Having purchased all my stock of watches, clocks and jewelry for cash I am prepared to, and will sell cheaper, than any other Jewelry House in Jasper County. Call and learn prices and be convinced.

FRANK, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Legg, died Monday last. The remains were taken to Remington for burial.

Dr. Thomas, Oculist, Aurist, and Dermatologist, of Lafayette, will be at Dr. I. B. Washburn's office, Rensselaer, on the first Saturday of each month, commencing August 5th.

Persons having diseased eyes or ears will have an opportunity to be treated by a specialist who has attended the largest medical schools and hospitals in the United States. Persons afflicted by diseases of the skin, such as blotches, pimples, eruptions of the face, or in other localities can probably have them cured by calling on him for treatment. He is well supplied with surgical instruments and makes any of the operations for crossed eyes, cataract, &c. He can relieve many persons who are deaf, and can stop distressing noises in the head as well as discharges of matter from the ear. Those who call on him the first day will be treated for the same fee for the entire time as for a part. Remember the day—August 5th.

MONEY FOR A RAINY DAY. "For six years my daughter was sick from kidney and other disorders. We had used up our savings on doctors, when our neighbor advised us to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. Four bottles effected a cure, and as a dollar worth has kept her healthy well over a year, we have been able to lay by money again for a rainy day."—A Poor Man's Wife.

Captain Farrow, of Joliet, Mo., tells a good story at his own expense. The Captain was trading in a small vessel along the coast, and at Tampa Bay he purchased twenty dozen chickens paying $4 a dozen for them. They were of all ages and sizes, some being ready for the pot and others scarcely done with the shells. At Key West a hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "enough." But still he said "go on." The Captain saw the point at last, but at last he saw the hotel keeper came alongside and asked the price of the chickens. The Captain answered: "If you pick them out I shall charge you $8 a dozen, but if you will let me pick them out you can have them at $3 a dozen." "All right," said the hotel man, "you pick them out." The Captain selected seven dozen of the fowls, expecting every moment to hear the purchaser cry, "en